At Pinehurst

"Ruggles of Red Gap," the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre Monday, March 11th, matinee and night, is a comedy of manners involving a newly rich Idaho couple, Charley Ruggles and Mary Boland, who become involved in a Paris poker game, win Charles Laughton, a gentleman's gentleman, from an impecunious Earl, Roland Young. It should be evident from a commonsense point of view that this version of "Ruggles of Red Gap" is neither a reissue nor readaptation of the feature produced a dozen or more years ago. True, the story is that by Harry Leon Wilson, noted Saturday Evening Post writer and novelist, but the present production has been so completely rearranged, given an out-and-out comedy flavor, that the two will be entirely different. The picture is a continuous howl, not only because the established comedians, Mary Boland, Charles Ruggles and Roland Young, aided by Zazu Pitts, act up to expected standard, but also because, in a surprisingly effective fashion, Charles Laughton contributes a delightfully restrained but none the less punchful portrayal of Harry Leon Wilson's lead character.

Hailed as one of the great dramatic and historical screen presentations of the age, "The Iron Duke," British production starring George Arliss as Wellington and dealing with the Hundred Days cycle of Bonaparte, Napoleon's fall from power and his final defeat on the plains of Waterloo, comes to Pinehurst Wednesday, March 13th, matinee and night. It worth noting as significant proof of the furor created in society circles by the advent of this stirring drama that, when it was given its world premiere at the Tivoli Theatre, London, the performance was graced with the presence of His Royal Highness, The Prince of Wales, a distinguished honor seldom accorded a film production. Filmed on a magnificent scale, with such dramatic features as the historic charge of the Scots Greys Cavalry at Waterloo, "The Iron Duke" is one of the most impressive productions yet shown on the screen. The features best claim to a lasting place in the memories of picture patrons lies in the all-revealing portrayal of Wellington by George Arliss.

Starring Irene Dunne, Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, RKO-Radio brings to the screen a colorful picturization of "Roberta," the musical play which has been making theatrical history on the stage, and which will be the attraction at Pinehurst Friday, March 15th matinee and night. Lavishly produced, the picture retains all of the popular features of the stage play but also presents a number of specially brilliant entertainment highlights, including a spectacular fashion show. Miss Dunne's singing, the spectacular dancing of Astaire and Miss Rogers, and sparkling novelty episodes enliven the production, which is expected to eclipse even the success of "The Gay Divorcee." Dances said to outshine those they did in "Flying Down to Rio" and "The Gay Divorcee" are introduced by the winged footed Astaire and Miss Rogers.

At Southern Pines

Clark Gable and Constance Bennett are co-starred for the first time in "After Office Hours," which plays a return engagement at the Southern Pines Theatre Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, March 11, 12, 13 with a Tuesday matinee. Both ranking stars, and both equally adept at dramatic and light comedy characterizations, the team's initial appearance is being launched with great enthusiasm. In a lusty comedy-drama of New York society and the press, Gable is cast as Branch, managing editor who always gets his story through though it may mean resorting to the methods of the Northwest Mounted. Constance Bennett is Sharon, the publisher's socialite niece, and Branch's society reporter. Rich, smart, and independent, it is the kind of role on which the star has built her fame.

"Folies Bergere," the attraction at Southern Pines Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 14, 15, 16, with a Saturday matinee, is a field day for Maurice Chevalier and should be very popular with his fans. He is right at home as Charlier, principal comedian of the Folies Bergere who is noted for his impersonation of Baron Cassini, a playboy, and when the Baron, also played by Chevalier, goes to England to raise money, the Baron's advisers engage Charlier to impersonate the Baron at a reception. The impersonation is so good that Charlier's sweetheart and the Baroness are almost fooled. Portrayed mainly against the background of Paris' famous Folies Bergere, the sensational glamorous color and setting which is, by reputation, familiar to almost everyone, this production is an adaptation of the musical romance drama comedy, "Red Cat."

Don't forget, Saturday is Curb Market day in Southern Pines.

AND IT DOESN'T COST US AN EXTRA PENNY TO USE THEM!

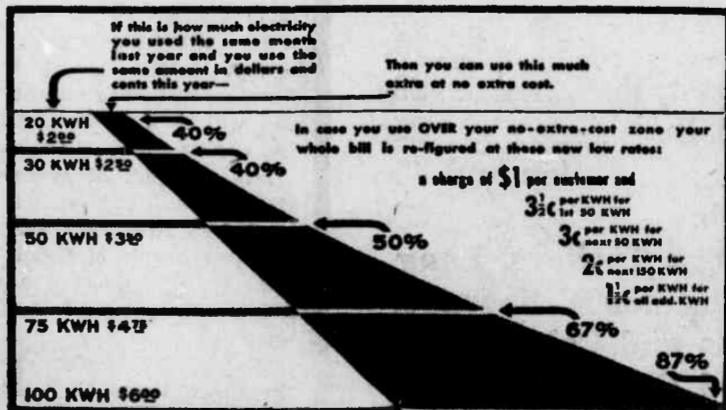

"We use new Bright Lamps without extra cost for electricity"

"We're enjoying an Electric Refrigerator and it hasn't added a penny to our electric bill"

"I'm using 'No-Extra-Cost' Electricity to run my Food Mixer—it's a wonder"

The "No-Extra-Cost" Electricity Plan is giving the enjoyment of modern comforts to many, many Carolina women . . . and you're entitled to No-Extra-Cost Electricity, too, if your bill last March was $2.00 or more . . . and you use the same amount this month. Of course, the amount of your No-Extra-Cost Electricity depends on the amount of electricity you used last March. But if your bill was only $2.00 . . . paying that amount again this month you have enough No-Extra-Cost Electricity to use an Electric Washer . . . plus a vacuum cleaner, plus an electric food mixer . . . all without paying a penny more for electricity.
