Theatre

The action of "One New York Night," the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre Monday, April 8th, matinee and night, takes place within the walls of a ritzy metropolitan hotel. The story, adapted from the stage play, is a combination of comedy, mystery, drama and giddy romance. It is about a lonely, wealthy young farmer bachelor who came to New York in search of a brunette wife, but found that a wisecracking blonde phone operator preferred him. A cast of better than standard interpreters the yarn. Franchot Tone, late of "Bengal Lancers," is the leading player, with Una Merkel as the flip phone girl who gets him into and out of so much excitement. As is typical with this type of comedy mystery stories, practically everyone in the cast is a suspect. Suspicion falls chiefly on Conrad Nagel, with Steffi Duna being involved in the mystery and intrigue and functioning as the third angle to the Tone-Merkel affair.

"Traveling Saleslady," one of the freshest and liveliest comedies on the season, is the attraction at Pinehurst Wednesday, April 10th, matinee and night, with Joan Blondell heading the all-star cast. Women will be especially delighted with the picture, for it shows how a young girl with initiative and personality gets the better of her male rivals in the business world. The story is delightfully breezy and whimsical, with hilarious situations and a most unusual climax. Glenda Farrell appears on the scene as the jealous rival of Miss Blondell for the affections of the handsome William Gargan. Miss Farrell gives her usual capable performances and adds no end to the humor of the production. Hugh Herbert has never been funnier than as the inebriated inventor of a toothpaste with cocktail flavors. Grant Mitchell, Al Shean and Ruth Donnelly are other members of the cast doing splendid work.

"Laddie," the Gene Stratton Porter novel that has been read by millions is the attraction at Pinehurst Friday, April 12th, matinee and night. "Laddie" portrays the book with fidelity and is in the same class with "Little Women" as a film with an appeal to all that is wholesome and sweet. It deals with simple folk and simple situations in an understandable, human way. The story centers around Laddie, the youth of a farming family who falls in love with the beautiful daughter of an Englishwoman who has taken the property adjoining his father's farm. The trials of the two lovers in endeavoring to overcome the stern opposition of the aristocrat to his daughter's union with a son of the soil furnishes the drama and romance, with all sorts of colorful atmosphere of the farm and home life among the simple, honest rural folk. Drama, Romance, Thrills and the gorgeous music of Victor Herbert's greatest operetta are blended in "Naughty Marietta," the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre, playing a return engagement, Thursday, Friday, Saturday, April 11, 12, 13, with a Saturday matinee. "Naughty Marietta" is a spectacular romance of Creole days in New Orleans, which brings to the screen Jeanette MacDonald, glamorous heroine of "The Merry Widow," and Nelson Eddy, eminent American operatic baritone, and tells a graphic story of the settlement of New Orleans by the French in the days of Louis XV and of the love of a disguised French princess, seeking escape from a marriage of state, and an English officer. Such song hits as "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," "I'm Falling in Love With Some one" and all the original music in the operetta is retained with new lyrics by Gus Kahn. Miss MacDonald plays the princess and Nelson Eddy, the British Officer. Their songs are backed by high symphony orchestra, a chorus of a hundred voices, and many musical novelties. A limited number of reserved seats for the night performances are now on sale at the Broad Street Pharmacy. "George White's Scandals of 1935," setting new standards in scintillating entertainment, is playing a return engagement at Southern Pines Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, April 8, 9, 10, with a Tuesday matinee. Fox Film's 1935 version is so spectacular that it makes Broadway self-conscious. It boasts haunting and peppy melodies, a rich stage extravaganza, a wealth of stars and beauties. The picture holds a strong story that could alone sustain interest with its romantic element drawn from small town Americans lured by the siren calls of Broadway and Hollywood. Suspense, excitement and pathos pulse through the plot. The coming Scandals had for magnets, a handful of stage and ing, and in the event of inclement weather, will start the following Monday. All who are interested are invited to meet at the home of Miss Alice Holmes, No. 12 North Ridge street, near the corner of East Vermont avenue, in time to start promptly at 4 o'clock for a three-mile hike. The objective point will be a delightful picnic place, so the walkers are asked to bring some contribution to a picnic lunch, and cups for coffee. The latter will be made at the picnic spot by an expert hiker. Also, a car will be in readiness to convey the heavy impediments from the meeting place on Ridge street.

For the convenience of some who cannot walk so long a distance, but prefer driving part of the way, a parking place will be arranged at a half-way house.
