Theatre

At Pinehurst

Cracking in the "Thin Man" manner, jaunty and light-hearted and full of laughs as its murder is solved, "Star of Midnight," the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre Monday, April 22nd, matinee and night is swell entertainment. William Powell, a lawyer and Ginger Rogers, his sweetheart, teaming themselves as Holmes and Watson, solve the killing of Columnist Russell Hopton in hilarious manner. The original story, published in serial form, was by the late Arthur Somers Roche, noted crime story writer. Romance and comedy are closely linked with clues, bringing the police and socialities in for contrasting dramatic interest.

"Reckless," starring William Powell, Jean Harlow and Franchot Tone, is the attraction at Pinehurst Wednesday, April 23rd, matinee and night. Starting as a three-cornered courtship with Sports Promoter Powell battling Millionaire Playboy Tone for Miss Harlow's favor, the dialogue sparkles and the action speeds along until Miss Harlow and Tone are married. With lavishly atmospherized settings and costumes used in song and dance sequences, and the straight story similarly backgrounded, this is a sophisticated, melodramatic romance mixed with comedy. Three musical numbers are introduced, the most popular being "Reckless," by Oscar Hammerstein and Jerome Kern.

The sensation of the year in the film world is the teaming of Al Jolson, famous Mammy singer who first introduced talking pictures, and Ruby Keeler, his wife, former Broadway musical comedy star who leaped to fame in the movies in two years, in First National's latest musical spectacle, "Go Into Your Dance," the attraction at Pinehurst Friday, April 26th, matinee and night. While the picture is a mammoth musical spectacle, it carried a well defined plot and a fascinating romance with tense emotional scenes, interspersed with hilarious comedy relief. One of the most unique and striking numbers of the production is a huge replica of the universe inter-cut with an artistic stairway crossing the globe in four directions representing the evolution of the tango from the pampas of the Argentine to Park avenue and throughout the world. The dance is led by Jolson and Miss Keeler who sing "A Latin From Manhattan." There are seven song hits in the picture, sung by Jolson, Miss Keeler and Helen Morgan, famous torch singer.

At Southern Pines
A static paycheck that won't budge, and an estatic romance at breaking point, are the two conflicting forces that battle in "10.00 Raise," the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, April 22, 23, 24, with a Tuesday matinee. A wheel-to-the grindstone book-keeper, suddenly sky-shot to the earth with a bang when he counts the dollars in his paycheck. Too timid to tackle the boss, a Simon Legree of a slave-driver, the ledgered-hound looks around for financial worlds to conquer beyond the balliwick of his office cubby-hole. Edward Everett Horton and Karen Morley are co-featured in this amusing business romance, which was adapted from an original story by Peter B. Kyne. Fun strews this tender comedy-drama which, from all advance reports, appeals to everyone who has ever worked for a living, and dreamed of what he or she would do if only a ten dollar raise came through.

There is a robust and colorful comedy about real folk that should appeal to everyone from six to sixty, in "McFadden's Flats," playing a return engagement at Southern Pines Thursday, Friday, Saturday, April 25, 26, 27, with a Saturday matinee. "McFadden's Flats" introduces to the film public Walter Kelly of beloved vaudeville memory. Kelly acts a rough-speaking but soft-hearted Irishman who rises from brick-laying to wealth. Opposite him is Andy Clyde, acting an economical Scotchman and his ancient friendly enemy. The picture deals with the life-long feud between these two lovable hardshells, and of the romance between their children which finally brings them together. Kelly, in his first film role, is the classic McFadden. Jane Darwell, as Kelly's wife, shares honors with him and Andy Clyde.

BENEFIT BRIDGE APRIL 24 FOR COMMUNITY WELFARE

The Community Welfare of Pinehurst will give a second benefit bridge on Wednesday, April 24, at 2:30 p. m. in the Carolina Ballroom. The charge will be one dollar. The first bridge, given in January, was most successful and brought in a generous amount towards a start of the work of the committee. But it will be seen from the following financial report that the committee's balance is insufficient to carry the work through the summer and into the fall.

Invitations to the benefit are being sent out, but it sometimes happens that an oversight occurs and someone fails to receive one. The committee wishes everyone to be present who is desirous of helping and who enjoys a game of cards in pleasant company.

The report of Mrs. Leonard Tufts, chairman of the executive committee, follows:

Receipts from January benefit, $479.90; expenses of benefit, $32.30; food supplied February and March, $86.91; clothing supplied February and March, $88.21; miscellaneous, $5.00; total, $212.42; balance, $267.48.

MRS. RUTH LLOYD JOHNSON DIES; LIVED HERE 10 YEARS

Mrs. Ruth Lloyd Johnson, wife of V. B. Johnson, died late last Saturday night at Pinecrest Manor where she had been a patient for several weeks. She had been in ill health for some time. Mrs. Johnson had resided in Southern Pines for nearly ten years, both before and after her marriage to Mr. Johnson some five years ago, and had endeared herself to a wide circle of friends.

Funeral services were held in the Baptist Church on Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. J. Fred Stimson officiating. Willard Dunlop, Shields Cameron, J. B. Gifford and Albert Adams sang at both the church service and at the service at Mt. Hope Cemetery which followed.

Mrs. Johnson leaves, in addition to her husband, who is manager of the local baseball team and of The Pilot stables, a small daughter, Nella, aged three years.
