

Librarian of Supreme Court Alumni Speaker

Banquet of Vass-Lakeview High School Graduates is a Brilliant Success

The second annual banquet staged by the Vass-Lakeview High School Alumni Association was held at Hotel Charmella on Saturday evening, and was a pronounced success, the attendance exceeding expectations. Upon arrival, the guests were registered by Miss Myrtle McMillan, secretary.

The dining room was beautifully decorated in blue and white, the school colors, and the tables were lighted with blue and white candles, arranged alternately. Pink roses added a pleasing bit of variety to the decorations.

H. Clifton Blue presided as toastmaster and in his hearty way welcomed the guests. Miss Jewell Edwards gave a toast to the school to which John McCrummen, superintendent, responded. Miss Marjorie Leslie delighted her hearers with two humorous readings, the first, "Miss Dorothy Entertains the Minister," and the second an impression of a Negro woman talking over a telephone. W. Duncan Matthews, who during his career as a teacher had taught a large per cent of those present, gave a toast to the alumni to which Clary Thompson responded. Miss Elizabeth Keith welcomed the present senior class into the association and the response was given by Robert Rosser, class president.

The principal address of the evening was by John A. Livingstone, veteran newspaper man of Raleigh and present librarian of the Supreme Court. His witty introduction was followed by worthwhile thoughts for the young folks to carry with them.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Herman Parker; vice-president, Miss Marjorie Leslie; secretary-treasurer, Miss Nettie Gschwind. An orchestra from Sanford furnished music for the dancing which followed.

DANIELS CANDIDATE FOR SOUTHERN PINES BOARD

formation is available on request is not enough.

I do not believe that the appointment of the school board by the commissioners is quite fair to the taxpayers of the school district and certainly not to those living out of town.

I believe in the economical administration of our town government. The taxpayers' money should not be spent without due and careful consideration of returns expected.

I believe in keeping Southern Pines money in Southern Pines and employing Southern Pines people wherever practical.

I believe in rotation in office. Good government tends to depreciate where the same body of men are continued in office indefinitely. New blood and new ideas are necessary if we care to lead the procession.

All of the above I pledge myself to work for if elected.

—L. M. DANIELS.

WILLIAM F. KENNEDY OF PITTSBURGH DIES HERE

Among this winter's visitors to Southern Pines was William F. Kennedy of Pittsburgh, Pa., and Chautauqua, N. Y. On Easter Sunday Mr. Kennedy passed away at the age of 71 years.

Born in Pennsylvania, Mr. Kennedy began his educational career, teaching his first country school at the age of sixteen. From this little red school house began a professional service that was ever widening in scope, broadening in vision, ever increasing in achievements, even exerting a stimulating influence, and always rendering great service in each community.

The McKelway School in Pittsburgh was the first Flatiron school in that city and is a modified Gary one. Mr. Kennedy was its first principal. He also held the position as Associate Superintendent of all the schools in Pittsburgh.

His life was a busy one. He was a member of the faculty of the summer school at Chautauque, N. Y., and also a lecturer at the University of Pittsburgh. Loving folks, working among young people, vitally appreciating music, genial and friendly Mr. Kennedy will be greatly missed by his host of friends.

Two sons, both in educational work mourn their father's death. Two sisters, Miss Esther Kennedy of Chautauqua, N. Y., and Mrs. Mary Myer of Elmira, N. Y., who were both in his household at Southern Pines, accompanied his remains to Chautauqua, where funeral services were held.
