ASSEMBLY PASSES BILL FOR LOAN FOR GYMNASIUM

Authorizes Southern Pines School District to Borrow in Anticipation of Taxes

The bill authorizing the Southern Pines School District to borrow money in anticipation of special taxes to pay for materials for building a gymnasium with PWA funds was ratified last Saturday, the closing day of the General Assembly session.

This bill, introduced by Senator U. L. Spence of Carthage, provides for a loan of $12,000 to provide the necessary materials for construction of a gymnasium in connection with the Southern Pines School, and means that the town will acquire its much needed auditorium automatically, for the plans as outlined calls for a gymnasium which may be utilized for this purpose, to seat some 500 persons.

It is understood that labor for the building will be provided by the Public Works Administration. No additional taxation will be needed to carry out the project. The Pilot is reliably informed.

On the closing day the General Assembly also ratified the bill to authorize the Register of Deeds of Moore county to have photostatic copies of plats, maps and blueprints filed in his office.

Other Moore county bills ratified by the General Assembly at the eleventh hour include the following:

Regulating trapping of game on lands of another prohibiting depredation of domestic fowls, and regulating fishing in Moore county.

Governing the sale of land for delinquent taxes in the Town of Southern Pines.

Regulating the salary of the Sheriff of Moore county.

Appointing A. S. Newcomb a justice of the peace of Moore county.

Theatre

Damon Runyon's "Hold 'Em Yale," as hilarious a comedy as has come to town in months, is the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 20, 21, 22, with a Tuesday matinee.

A brilliantly-told story, acted for all it was worth by an extremely capable cast, it will afford top-notch warm weather entertainment for every patron in the Sandhills. "Hold 'Em Yale" is the story of a flighty young heiress with a penchant for uniforms.

So fond is she of any kind of uniform and the men who happen to be inside them that her father is continually buying off ushers, policemen and bus drivers to keep them from marrying into the family.

"Hold 'Em Yale" is an achievement for everyone concerned. Patricia Ellis as the girl with "plenty of zing, very many potatoes, but very few brains," is superb. Cesar Romero is a properly scheming "Georgia the Gigolo," Larry Crabbe as the football hero, and William Frawley, Andy Devine, Warren Hymer and George E. Stone, as the four Broadway mugs, are positively sensational.

George Barbier, cast as the father, turns in another of his amusing, top-notch performances.

The attraction for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 23, 24, 25, with a Saturday matinee is a return engagement of that marvelous production, "Les Miserables." In this adaptation of Victor Hugo's work, the pages of the book as they trace the life of Jean Valjean are graphically re-created with all the drama, romance, tragedy, historical significance, humanness and thrill.

Frederic March is at his best as the hero, Jean Valjean, the fresh honest country youth who stole a loaf of bread because he was starving. As the fanatical detective, Jevert, who hounds him from pillar to post, Charles Laughton offers an entirely new and great characterization, and Sir Cecil Hardwicke, the distinguished English stage and screen star, is brilliant as the beneficent Bishop Bienvenu. The love story is provided by Cosett, Valjean's ward, played by Rochelle Hudson, and Marius, a young revolutionary, played by John Beal.

Other notable names in the cast are Frances Drake, Florence Eldridge, wife of Frederic March in private life, Ferdinand Gottschalk, and little Marilynne Knowlden.

MISS RICHARDSON BRIDE OF JOHN ADAMS LELAND

great-aunt of the bride, Mrs. Hannah Bond of Jefferson, Maine, from a recipe handed down in the family from the bride's great grandmother.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. Leland left by motor for a short wedding trip after which they will reside in Charleston, S. C. Mrs. Leland was attractively attired in a powder blue printed silk dress with matching felt hat and a darker blue wool redingote.

The bride is a graduate of the Women's College of the University of North Carolina and for several years has been a teacher in the Southern Pines School. Mr. Leland attended the Citadel Academy and the College of Charleston and received his law degree from the University of Virginia.

He is a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity and is now engaged in business in Charleston.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George H. Richardson of Potomac Park, Md., Mrs. Marianne Townsend Carter and Edwin McKeithen, Jr., of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. P. Wilder of Charleston, S. C., Mr. and Mrs. James Moffit and Miss Patricia Archibell of High Point, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Coursey of Columbus, Ga., and the Misses Jean Lane and Mary Lyon of Durham and Elizabeth Umberger of Greensboro.

IMPRESSIVE MOTHER'S DAY PAGEANT AT PINEBLUFF

The community of Pinebluff enjoyed a most impressive Mother's Day pageant, "I Light My Candle," last Sunday night. Mrs. J. D. Adcox played the part of a very lovely mother, with four of her attractive daughters, Mrs. E. G. Adams, Marie, Hazel and Virginia Adcox appearing in pastel colored robes and lighted candles, and presented words and songs of gratefulness and appreciation of a daughter to a loving and understanding mother.

"O, Little Mother of Mine," was beautifully sung by Miss Marie Adcox, accompanied by Miss Margaret DeYoe at the organ. Other girls in the community appeared with lighted candles representing symbols of life.

An invitation was given for all mothers and daughters who wished to get a deeper and better understanding of each other to come before the altar and light their candles as they approached.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINT HEADQUARTERS
SWP Gives Best Results at Lowest Cost
It costs less money to paint your house with SWP than with "cheaper" paint—it goes further, looks better and wears longer.
The cost on your house is what counts—not how much a gallon, and that's where SWP saves you money—it takes fewer gallons of SWP to do the job. SWP provides an armor plate of color that keeps your home looking its best and protects it from all kinds of weather.
Save Painting Dollars---Use SWP House Paint
Also Sherwin-Williams Porch and Deck Paints.
Also Sherwin-Williams Flat-Tone, a washable flat wall paint for interior decorations.
Also Sherwin-Williams Mar-Not, a varnish made to walk on, tough and not discolored by water.
