Turner President All States Association Plans Entertainments Through the Summer

D. H. Turner was elected president, Edward Green and Edgar T. Chapman vice-presidents, George W. Case treasurer and Mrs. Turner secretary of the All-States Association at the business meeting held in connection with a picnic supper and dance at Lovejoy's Cabin on Tuesday of last week. Nearly 100 persons, including many children, enjoyed the singing, entertainment and readings, which preceded the bountiful supper served on the terrace.

From all indications, there seems to be a prospect of an active social season for those who remain in the Sandhills through the summer, if the present plans of the official board of the All-States Association are carried out. For some time there has been a feeling on the part of those interested in this organization that it could greatly increase its usefulness by continuing to function through the summer, following much the same program as the former Community Club, which sponsored all kinds of social activities through the summer months, and did a great deal to keep people from thinking they would die of dullness if they remained here through the hot weather. The actual fact is, that the climate and attractions of the Sandhills as a summer home are being increasingly realized, as the large number of people staying here all the year can testify. And the leisure and relaxation of the vacation period, combined with the new interests of the fruit season, are conducive to a desire for informal social intercourse, and a definite community feeling.

The new officers met on Thursday last at the Parkway to consider future plans which will be presented to the association at a meeting to be held next Tuesday.

State Senator John Sprunt Hill this week made a gift of the Carolina Inn at Chapel Hill to the University of North Carolina. The inn, one of the most attractive in the state, is one of many of Mr. Hill's benefactions to his alma mater.

Operetta and Play at Aberdeen Auditorium

Young People of Page Memorial Church To Give "Gypsy Festival" and a Comedy

The young people of Page Memorial Church of Aberdeen will present a gypsy operetta and a play tonight, Friday, at eight o'clock in the High School auditorium.

The operetta, "The Gypsies' Festival," portrays the yearly reunion of two bands of gypsies belonging to the same tribe, and tells the story of their wanderings in song and verse. Miss Dorothy Doub as queen presides over the meeting. Miss Mary Margaret Burney as fortune teller contributes an attractive song and dance, and Miss Lanie Ruth Gunter as a peddler adds a bit of comedy. The songs are sung by a chorus of twenty-one voices. The members of the chorus are as follows: Misses Hazel Melvin, Harriet Weaver, Mary Spencer Harrington, Mary Page, Billie Brooks Pennington, Lucille Hilliard, Kathleen Rhyne, May Rhyne, Maggie Frances Dixon, Sara Smith, Nancy Dixon, Margaret Hilliard, Emma Jane Melvin, Maxine Lawrence, Carol Bowman, Charlotte Miller, Mildred Smith, Medrith Burns, Sybil Epps, Ruby Norton and Louise Martin. Forrest Lockey, Nat Macon, Charles Cummings and Hardin Gunter, Jr., act as guardians of the campfire.

The play is entitled "The Elopement of Ellen" and the interest centers around a maid of that name who mysteriously disappears. The scene is laid in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ford, a pair of newly-weds who live in the suburbs of New York. These roles are taken by Dan Farrell and Miss Rebecca Doub.

Miss Margaret Miller takes the part of June Haverhill, a college girl masquerading as Huldah Svenson, the new maid who comes to take the place of the departed Ellen.

Mrs. Ford is entertaining guests for the week-end among whom are her brother Bob Shepard, a confirmed bachelor, Max Ten Eyck, his friend, and Dorothy March, reluctantly engaged to Max because of the terms of an eccentric will. These roles are played by Sydney Windham, J. C. Robbins and Miss Elizabeth Ferree.

J. Vance Rowe, Jr., acting as the new rector, wanders in and out at odd moments during the play, earnestly hoping that he "might be of service."

ANOTHER INDUSTRY HEADED SOUTH

New processes have proved the value of the pine for the manufacture of newsprint. The center of the pulp industry will probably move southward.

THE UNITED STATES IMPORTED OVER $71,000,000.00 IN PAPER BASE STOCKS AND MORE THAN $87,000,000.00 WORTH OF PAPER AND PAPER MANUFACTURES DURING THE YEAR OF 1934.

Timber is one of the most valuable resources in the Carolinas. Two-thirds of the area of the Carolinas are best suited to timber production and not needed for other purposes. The wise landowner will prepare for a future demand for pulp stock.

Within the next several years new pulp paper plants will probably be dotted throughout the Carolinas. Timber growth is more rapid in the southern climate than in more northern latitudes. This fact gives the South a distinct advantage in providing a continuous supply of pulp wood.

IDLE LAND IS WASTE OF A VALUABLE RESOURCE. THE CAROLINAS HAVE ABOUT 4,000,000 ACRES OF LAND THAT SHOULD BE PUT INTO TIMBER PRODUCTION AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

Let Every Idle Acre Produce Timber
