H. H. PETHICK TALKS ON COIN COLLECTING AS HOBBY

H. H. Pethick of Hong Kong, China, gave a most interesting talk on "Coin Collecting as a Hobby" at the Christian Endeavor meeting of the Church of Wide Fellowship last Sunday evening. His talk was illustrated by a display of hundreds of rare coins which he has collected himself, in pursuit of this hobby.

Theatre

At last Ann Harding comes to the screen in the type of role that won her fame on the legitimate stage. It was in a highly dramatic production that the New York critics hailed her as another Bernhardt, a young Duse—but as the result of an early screen success in a light, comedy-drama role she almost invariably has been cast in such parts.

In "The Flame Within," however, the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 10, 11, 12 with a Tuesday matinee, she portrays the highly emotional part of a noted woman psychiatrist. It is drama; vital, absorbing drama every step of the way. Sharing the star honors with the blonde cameo beauty is Herbert Marshall, who is seen with her for the first time. Marshall is the handsome, capable doctor who seemingly always had been in love with the youthful psychoanalyst, Maureen O'Sullivan, as a neurotic girl, proves that her fine dramatic performance in "Barretts of Wimpole Street" was no accident. She actually surpasses that portrayal in this story.

A newcomer of great promise, Louis Hayward, makes his motion picture debut in "The Flame Within," as the likable ne'er-do-well who becomes involved in two love affairs. After seeing him in this screen play it is not difficult to understand why he was awarded the Vanity Fair medal for the best stage performance of the year in Noel Coward's "Point Valaine."

Noel Coward, the man responsible for "Design For Living," "Cavalcade," and "Private Lives," three of the most popular motion pictures of the past five years, at last turns motion picture actor himself to appear in the leading role of the new Hecht-MacArthur production, "The Scoundrel," which is the attraction Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 13, 14, 15 with a Saturday matinee.

Coward-actor, playwright, composer and generally conceded the most brilliant figure of the contemporary theatre, plays a literary Casanova in the sharp and satiric tale of decadence in the New York smart set. He is a hollow, artificial and brilliant publisher, so accustomed to playing at love with the unreal people who comprise his society that he fails to comprehend the realness of Julie Haydon, a young poetess, who offers him her heart.

Coward takes her from the boy who really loves her, breaks her heart and sets her adrift in his corrupt circle. He goes on an airplane trip to escape one of his unfortunate women and is reported killed. While his former friends are cynically commenting on his demise, he suddenly reappears among them to pay fervent suit to Julie Haydon, the only real person he has ever known.

Brilliant dialogue and perfect casting make "The Scoundrel" an outstanding offering for sophisticated audiences. Julie Haydon surprises with a vivid, emotional power as a young poetess, and Alexander Woolcott plays an important part.
