Two stars who appeared in several of the past season's most popular pictures are featured in "Shanghai," the noteworthy attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, July 22, 23 and 24, with a Tuesday matinee.

Charles Boyer, seen in "Caravan," and "Private Worlds," and Loretta Young, in "Rothschild" and "The White Parade." The story, the character of which has demonstrated its entertainment appeal since the time of "The Sheik," is located in the Shanghai International settlement, and is lavishly produced. Adapted from the stage play of the same name, it steps out of the beaten path, and produces a silken romance spun from provocative skeins and encrusted with daring design. The story of the Shanghai boom places an American society lass, Loretta Young, in China and conflicts her emotions with half Russian, half Chinese Charles Boyer, setting her love story against the churning background of China's hot spot where "there ain't no Ten Commandments in love or trade."

Boyer gives a fine, restrained and convincing portrayal, elevating his popular esteem, and Miss Young, in a mood of rapture, displays rare beauty and is the attraction's asset. Warner Oland, Alison Skipworth and particularly Fred Keating, stand out in support.

"Discovered in a Hollywood Projection room! The hush in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer projection room turned to a muffled whisper; the whisper rose to an audible hum; and in less than five minutes everybody in the room knew that a great new star had been born, Luise Rainer; making her first American appearance in "Escapade." William Powell's great new starring hit! It was a historic day for Hollywood, reminiscent of the first appearance of Garbo; another of those rare occasions when a great motion picture catapults a player to stardom."—Hollywood Reporter.

In "Escapade" which is the attraction Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 25, 26, 27, with a Saturday matinee, William Powell adds another suave characterization to his long list of successes, and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer swells the longest list of stars in filmdom with another brilliant name, Luise Rainer.

Adapted from the stage play "Masquerade," it is a dramatic romance of love and intrigue. Miss Rainer radiates simple beauty slightly Oriental and expresses her talent so artistically that not only is stardom assured but it is quite possible that she may become one of America's leading players. She combines Claudette Colbert's quality with Elizabeth Bergner's ability, and those who saw the latter in "Katherine The Great" will agree that that's saying plenty.

FOR SALE—3-apartment house, fine condition, fully furnished, all conveniences, beautifully located, 2 apartments rented. A bargain, easy terms. Inez Bredbeck, Southern Pines.

OL' UNCLE TROY JES WAN' TEND HOSSES IN HEAVEN

day work, his mind dwells most often on the happy days of his youth and his glazing eyes are dreaming of the kindly old Marse with whom he now expects to soon be reunited.

We asked, "Uncle Troy are you a member of the church?" "Yassum I see a good Methodist alright."

"Do you expect to go to Heaven when you die?" "Yassum, I reckon I will, I ain' nevvuh done nobody any harm. But Mis Lou, I do' wan' no wings. If theys Chariots up there, I kno Ol Marse has got one and dat's all I wants—jus to tend to de Hosses what pulls of Marse's Chariot." A tear rolled slowly down his furrowed, kindly face, as I walked away and left him sitting, dreaming in the sun by his cabin door.

"NEW DEAL" CROPS PAY FARMERS BETTER HERE

775. The total tobacco income was $667,431.

The income of the growers was augmented still further by the $1,650 in benefit payments distributed to holders of corn-hog contracts. The income from the sale of corn and hogs had not been calculated at the time Garrison made his report.

All told, he said, the income of the growers last year was greater than these figures show, and indications at present are that the 1935 income will compare favorably with that of last year.

NEILL MCKAY DALRYMPLE, NATIVE OF MOORE, DIES

Neill McKay Dalrymple, one of the oldest and most influential citizens of the Jonesboro section, died Monday at his home after a long illness. A few days ago he sustained a broken hip in a fall at his home. The injury hastened the end.

Mr. Dalrymple was born in Moore county February 15, 1857. He was the son of J. H. Dalrymple and Elizabeth McIver Dalrymple, both members of prominent families. The greater portion of his life was spent in farming. He was a Presbyterian in faith and active in church work.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock from the Jonesboro Presbyterian Church, of which the deceased had been a member since early manhood, with the pastor, the Rev. J. S. Cook, officiating. Interment will take place in the family burial plot in the Shallowell Cemetery.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Claudia Benson and Mrs. Wade Lawrence, one son, John McKay Dalrymple and one sister, Mrs. Lydia Wilson, of Jonesboro. There also survive 19 grandchildren and 13 great grandchildren.

EXERCISE FOR LAWYERS

The new roller book shelves have been installed in the Clerk of Court's office at Carthage and as they reach to within some six inches of the floor Moore county lawyers and others having use for the books will find themselves getting some excellent back-bending exercises in reaching for and replacing the books.

What is the yardstick for a cigarette...

Take mildness for one thing—how does it measure up for mildness?

Chesterfields are milder—not flat or insipid, of course, but with a pleasing flavor.

Then take taste for another thing—does it have plenty of taste?

Chesterfields taste better—not strong but just right.

In other words, They Satisfy—that's my yardstick for a cigarette.

Chesterfield... the cigarette that's MILDER
Chesterfield... the cigarette that TASTES BETTER
