Theatre

Roaring out of the Orient, a typhoon of fierce loves, bitter hates, and perilous intrigues will strike the screen of the Southern Pines Theatre Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, September 23, 24, 25, with a Tuesday matinee. "China Seas" has everything that any audience could want and is chock full of that stuff that shoved the picture business to the top of the amusement enterprises. The story is packed with suspense and moves at lightning speed, with the main characters, Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery backed by as fine a cast as has ever been thrown together in any one picture.

There is never a dull moment in the picture, nor is there a moment for the audience to relax, for it's not sitting on the edge of its seat thrilled by the plot's intrigue, it is laughing at the antics of Robert Benchley and others or enraptured by the romance indulged in by Harlow. All the action takes place on the wheezy old liner, Kin Lung, as it plows through the seas between Hong Kong and Singapore with a cargo of gold freighted with an even more interesting cargo—human passions.

The supporting cast is equally noteworthy. Lewis Stone does one of the finest jobs of his brilliant career; Rosiland Russell, a comparative newcomer to the screen, establishes her claim to fame, and among those deserving especial mention are Dudley Diggs, C. Aubrey Smith, Robert Benchley, William Henry, Lillian Bond and Edward Brophy.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 26, 27, 28, with a Saturday matinee, are the days when "The Big Broadcast of 1936" showers down on the grateful audience of the Southern Pines Theatre. To drop the play on words for a moment "The Big Broadcast of 1936" is an attraction that would have made Barnum himself turn green with envy, because it has specialties by Bing Crosby, most popular crooner, on screen and radio; Amos 'n Andy, who hold the record for holding a daily radio audience; Ethel Merman, at the height of her popularity due to her overwhelming success in "Anything Goes" and her radio programs; Ray Noble and Orchestra, the ace band on the airwaves; Mary Boland and Charlie Ruggles, the screen's most she's doing, and, among many bright satellites who help make "The Big Broadcast of 1936" the gorgeous entertainment it is, are Sir Guy Standing, Wendy Barrie, Henry Wadsworth, Ina Ray Hutton and her Orchestra, Nicholas Brothers, Gail Patrick, David Holt, Virginia Weidler,
