

Four New Courses in Southern Pines School

Art, Vocational Guidance, Physical Education and Hygiene Introduced

Four new courses have been installed in Southern Pines school to begin the fall term, Art, Vocational Guidance, Physical Education and Health Hygiene.

In the art class each pupil is given the privilege of following the phase of art in which he is most interested. The different subjects taught are charcoaling, watercoloring, crayon drawing, modeling, block printing, carving and batik dyeing. By keeping a bulletin board in the library the pupils are able to know the current advancements in art. The class, under the tutelage of Miss Lonie Gordon, meets twice a week during school hours and each Wednesday in the afternoon from 3 to 4 o'clock. Miss Gordon now has an enrollment of 19 pupils.

Another of the new classes that promises to be successful is physical education, directed by Mr. Weaver. Although the program could be carried out more adequately with a gymnasium, instruction is being given to the elementary grades at the present time. Mr. Weaver is a new teacher this year, and a very capable one.

Mr. Freeman has charge of the vocational guidance in the seventh grade and also the civic guidance in the eighth grade. Plans are being made for a class in occupations for next year.

The health hygiene is under the instruction of Miss McCorkle. This class is sponsored by the Red Cross organization and meet three times each week. Training is given in the personal care of the body and in nursing at home.

'Old Union' Enjoys Perfect Day To Celebrate 138th Anniversary

Throng of Present and Former Worshipers at Ancient Church Hear Rev. Rowan

"A perfect homecoming" is the term that has been applied to the gathering held at beloved "Old Union" on last Sunday when a throng of present and former worshippers there gathered for an occasion which met the highest expectations of the most optimistic.

The Rev. Charles Rowan of Paw Creek, one of the many strong Christian men who have gone out from this church since its organization in 1797, preached to the large assemblage at the 11 o'clock hour, bringing a message of power and inspiration.

It was fitting that Mr. Rowan should be the speaker of the morning, for the land on which the first church building there was erected was given by one of his ancestors, and his people from his great-grandfather through succeeding generations have worshipped there. His own father, the late R. D. Rowan, was made an elder there 60 years ago this week, being installed during the pastorate of the Rev. Martin McQueen, who served this field from 1864-1888 and who exerted an influence that his memory is still fresh in the hearts of the older members of the congregation. A daughter of Mr. McQueen, Miss Flora McQueen of Overhills, sang a beautiful solo.

During the noon hour a bounteous picnic dinner was served and in the afternoon the crowd reassembled for the program which was presided over by the pastor, the Rev. C. A. Lawrence. Letters from a number of former pastors who were unable to attend were read, and reminiscent addresses were made by the Rev. M. D. McNeill of Cameron, a former pastor, the Rev. Charles Rowan, the Rev. W. S. Golden of Carthage, and John McQueen, a son of the Rev. Martin McQueen. A vocal duet by Miss McQueen and Mrs. W. H. McNeill of Southern Pines was greatly enjoyed.
