Not to Blame for Lindbergh Departure

Local Resident Received Reply to Letter Sent Governor of New Jersey

Incensed at the departure for England of the Lindbergh family a prominent resident of Southern Pines addressed a letter to Governor Hoffman of New Jersey, and this week received the following answer from a member of the Governor's executive staff:

"Contrary to the stories that some of our newspaper friends seem so anxious to circulate, Governor Hoffman has never expressed sympathy for Bruno Richard Hauptman, nor has he expressed an opinion as to the innocence or guilt of the prisoner. With his own newspaper background, the Governor should surely be able to differentiate between publicity and notoriety, and it would not be plausible to believe that he could be moved by any cheap notions of publicity or political advantage. The Governor can only honestly and honorably make his decisions as a member of the Court of Pardons in the light of evidence and information, and his trip to Trenton State Prison was entirely within propriety and not without precedent. A former Governor of New Jersey employed the same means of familiarizing himself with the facts in a like case, and another Governor delegated a member of the Court of Errors and Appeals to perform this duty.

"No doubt Colonel Lindbergh had good and sound reasons for sailing for Europe at this time, but it would be decidedly unfair to say that his departure is chargeable to the Governor. Most certainly Colonel Lindbergh has never made a statement that would justify this belief."

House; Garland Pierce of The Belvedere; A. S. Ruggles of The Woodworth; Preston T. Kelsey, Louis Scheipers, Frederick Stanley Smith, Jack White of the Highland Pines, and City Clerk Howard Burns. During the meeting a quintet, Charles W. Picquet, Frank Buchan, Shields Cameron, Dr. R. P. Shepard and Willard Dunlop sang a number of songs.

Suggestions made included these: Place more emphasis on horseback riding here; erect more direction signs on highways leading to Southern Pines; more advertising and efforts to bring North Carolina residents to the section during the season; stress "Mid-South Resort" rather than "Sandhills" in advertising, lest northerners get the idea of a sand dune country here; solicit new ideas for slogans. Several spoke of the great value to Southern Pines the development of its private schools will mean. Dr. George G. Herr reported on the town beautification program, of which committee he is chairman.

HAVE YOU SEEN THE NEW X-ERCYCLE?

A bicycle without pedals, invented by two Chicago men, designed to operate on body motion alone. Standing on a springy footboard, a rider propels the vehicle simple by raising and lowering the body.

The rear wheel of the X-ERCYCLE has its axle mounted off center. A downward thrust of the legs tends, after the bicycle has been placed in motion, to pull this axle down to its lowest position, thus causing the wheel to revolve in a forward direction.

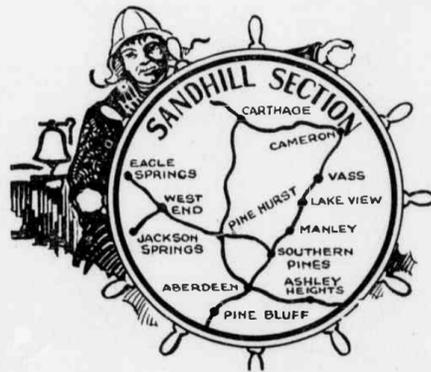

Momentum returns the axle to its highest position and the procedure is repeated. The up and down flexing of the footboard, once the rider gets the knack, can be coordinated with the movement of the rear axle to make operation easier.
