

S. P. Dramatic Club To Give Play March 11

Russian Tragedy, Later to be Offered in State Competition, is Offering

The annual play, which is later to be entered in the State contest, will be presented by the Southern Pines High School Dramatic Club on the night of March 11. A comedy will be included on the same program, which will be given at the school auditorium.

"Highness," a Russian tragedy, has been chosen as the contest play. The characters will be portrayed by Ruth Richardson, Winifred Kelly, Lawrence Williams and Tom Hardwick. Tom and Winifred are new members of the dramatic club this year.

Although the greater part of the cast in the comedy, "Rich Man, Poor Man," consists of newcomers to the dramatic club, it promises to be delightful entertainment. The leading roles are played by Mary Jane Woodward and James Spring, with the supporting cast made up of the following: Ellenore Eddy, Eleanor Harloe, Virginia Stevick, Ruth Thompson, Peggy Graves, Charlie Ross, Harry Adams, Jane Musser, Sue Milliken and Ernestine Bailey.

Valuable Book Gift to Southern Pines Library

Interesting Volume on Montana is Presented Institution by John F. Stevens

Among recent gifts to the Southern Pines Library, a volume of particular interest is "Montana: The Geological Survey" by Daniel E. Willard, A. M., formerly professor of Geology at North Dakota Agricultural College, and a member of the American Geographic Society and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. Prof. Willard writes with authority, and with scientific accuracy. But he writes also with a warmly human comprehension of the marvel of the earth beneath our feet, the landscape before our eyes, and with a simplicity which places an intricate subject within the grasp of the general reader; he sees sermons in stones, books in the running brooks, and lyrics in buttes, benches, floodplains, volcanic ash, and anticlines.

The book tells the reasons for valleys and mountains and boiling springs; the romance of the Missouri River, and how its course was changed, and how the great falls were formed; and whether the Gates of the Mountains were ever shut. It tells the things about the Yellowstone and Glacier National Parks which are left out of the guide books. It will appeal to all those who have ever seen the Northwest, or who ever hope to do so; and in general to those who are interested in how the earth is made. There are 120 illustrations from photographs.

The book is the gift of John F. Stevens, the discoverer of Marias Pass. This pass is a notch cut across the Continental Divide by the action of the Ice Age glaciers, and marks one of the few spots where it is possible to construct a railroad over the great Rocky Mountain axis.

University of Michigan Little Symphony Here Sunday

The University of Michigan Little Symphony, with Thor Johnson conducting, will give a concert in Southern Pines this Sunday evening at 7:45 o'clock at The Church of Wide Fellowship. The Little Symphony is composed of 14 assistants in instrumental instruction of the School of Music faculty. Each member of the group is qualified musically as an instrumental artist, and the personnel has been selected from outstanding youthful musicians throughout the United States.

This season the Little Symphony is giving more than 60 concerts in twenty states extending from Michigan to the Gulf of Mexico and covering the major portion of the eastern and southern states. Appearances are being made in a number of the leading institutions of higher education and prominent musical centers.

The program to be given here will include symphonic works especially written and adapted for chamber orchestra, and a number of interesting compositions seldom performed by larger instrumental groups. Reby Peinert, violoncellist, and Raymond Kondratowicz, pianist, concert soloists, will be presented as soloists with the Little Symphony. Miss Piener will play Popper's "Hungarian Rhapsody" for violoncello and orchestra, and Mr. Kondratowicz will play Mozart's "Concerto in D. Minor" for piano and orchestra. Both artists will be accompanied by the Little Symphony under the direction of Mr. Johnson.

No admission will be charged for the concert, but a free will offering will be taken toward the expense of bringing the orchestra here.

The Week in Vass

The Presbyterian Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. N. N. McLean on Tuesday afternoon, at which time an interesting program on home missions was presented under the direction of Mrs. Annie Chappell. Mrs. D. C. McGill conducted the Bible study. Refreshments were served by Mrs. McLean's sister, Miss Agnes Smith. The Rev. Mr. Calcote of near Richmond, Va., will preach in the Vass Presbyterian Church at 11:15 o'clock this Sunday morning; at Union at 3:00 p. m. and at Manly at 7:30 in the evening. Mr. Calcote was to have preached in these churches a few weeks ago, but those services were called off on account of the inclement weather and bad roads. Presbyterians of these churches are urged to hear Mr. Calcote and the public is invited.

The Rev. L. M. Hall will fill his regular appointment in the Vass Methodist Church at 11:00 o'clock this Sunday morning.

The Vass Methodist Auxiliary met on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. S. R. Smith with good attendance. "Being a Good Neighbor" was the topic, and the program was presented under the leadership of Mrs. Sue Cameron. Mrs. W. D. Matthews read the Scripture lesson after which the life of Jane Addams was presented by Mrs. T. F. Cameron and Mrs. W. H. Keith. A story on "neighboring" was read by Mrs. S. R. Smith.

Various ways of adding funds to the treasury were discussed, and the final decision as to the amount of the auxiliary's pledge for the year was made. Following a social hour, the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. D. Matthews, served refreshments. Mrs. Eurey was a guest at the meeting.

Mrs. Mary E. Edwards has been critically ill of puerisy and pneumonia for the past several days. Mrs. O. M. Spurlin of Sharon, S. C., Miss Ossie Edwards of Garner, Mrs. Seth W. Lassiter of Smithfield, Miss Jewel Edwards of Mount Olive and Earl Edwards of Rutherfordton were called home on account of their mother's illness, and her sister, Miss Rose B. Giles of Angier, is here, also. Miss Jessie Steele of Sanford is nursing Mrs. Edwards.

Misses Leia and Beatrice Beasley of Raleigh spent last week-end with their brother, Williamson Beasley, at Hotel Charmella.

The Vass-Lakeview girls defeated the Southern Pines girls by a score of 34-24 in a basketball game played in Southern Pines Friday evening.

John Harrington, former North Carolinian who came to this section some six weeks ago to visit relatives for the first time in about thirty-eight years, left last week for his home in Pampa, Texas, where he is engaged in the oil business. Mr. Harrington is a first cousin of Mrs. G. W.

Brooks, Mrs. Bertie L. Matthews, T. Griffin of Sanford were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Griffin.

Nelson Callahan of High Point is a guest in the home of his uncle, H. C. Callahan, for a week. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cox and children of Lumberton visited Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Tyson Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Beasley of Raleigh visited relatives here Sunday afternoon.

After spending several days with her sister, Miss Mary Beasley, Miss Katrina Beasley returned on Saturday to Hobgood.

Robert Rosser, a freshman at Davidson College, was at home with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Rosser, from Tuesday until Friday of last week, recuperating from a light attack of influenza. Robert, who ranked high in his studies while in Vass-Lakeview high school, is keeping up the good work. He was on the honor roll at Davidson for the fall term.

Miss Marian Cameron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cameron and a freshman at Louisburg College, was one of sixteen to make the fall honor roll. Marian was one of the girls from her college to serve as a "program girl" at the concert given by the Westminster Choir in the city auditorium in Raleigh last week.

Says Dangerous Varicose Veins Can Be Reduced At Home

Rub Gently Upward Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunches, the best advice for home treatment that anyone in this world can give, is to get a prescription known as Moore's Emerald Oil.

eral Oil (full strength) and apply night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you should notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are no longer troublesome. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that old chronic sores and ulcers are often entirely healed.
