

BIRD CLUB AGAIN ACTIVE; MEETINGS EACH TUESDAY

Among Southern Pines activities that have been greatly curtailed by snow and cold have been the activities of the Southern Pines Bird Club. A few faithful and enthusiastic members have been going to Millen Park, the society's bird sanctuary, every week especially to see that feed was placed for the birds. While other members, unable to get here, were feeding the birds at their homes. In this way many of the lives of our feathered songsters have been saved.

Several members repaired to the New England House last Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock and from there went to the sanctuary where a number of resident species were observed and a few of the hardy adventurers of the south noted. At that time it was agreed, since suitable weather seemed now to have arrived, that each Tuesday, all those interested in birds would be welcomed by the club to accompany them on their excursions to Millen Park, meeting at the New England House on South Bennett street at 9 a. m.

CURRENT EVENTS CLUB INVITES NEW MEMBERS

The Carolina to Be Scene of One of Gayest Parties of Season; Grand March at Nine

All kinds of prizes are in store for the winners at the fancy dress ball to be given Saturday night in the ballroom of The Carolina, and the occasion bids fair to be one of the gayest events of the winter season to date.

Five carefully chosen judges, all duly insured, are to make the following awards:

Best group in costume; most original costumes, both single and in couples; costumes affording the most fun.

There will also be prizes for a lucky number dance, for best couple dancing the old fashioned waltz, the tango and other dances. Everybody is busy making costumes, practicing their steps and getting ready for the grand march which starts at 9:00 o'clock from the main dining room.

PINEHURST SPORTS FILM PLEASES LOCAL AUDIENCE

The showing of the Grantland Rice Sportlight picture in Pinehurst Wednesday night met with the approval of a large audience in the Carolina Theatre. It was a case of Pinehurst people, winter residents and transient visitors seeing on the screen a true story of one of the foremost sports filmed right here in one of the nation's most popular playgrounds.

The characterization of the sport of quail hunting and the fine work of some of the best trained dogs proved a brilliant spectacle. Glen Davis, one of the leading characters of the review, showed how well he knows his dogs and how well he uses his trusty gun.

FULTON'S STEAMBOAT

Robert Fulton with the aid of Livingston, built the first practical steamboat in America. His enterprise was greeted by jeers when his first attempt to start the craft failed. He proved his theory in steam, however, by making a trip from New York to Albany and back in 72 hours. From that time on, steam navigation forged ahead and the U. S. soon became a power in merchant marine. A skillfully trained staff of experts relieve the family of endless details.
