Vass Juniors Tender Banquet to Seniors

Hotel Charmella Colorful Scene of Festivities, With Faculty In On the Fun

The junior class of Vass-Lakeview High School entertained the members of the senior class, the high school faculty and the county superintendent at a banquet at Hotel Charmella in Vass last Saturday evening. The main dining room was beautifully decorated in Japanese style, introducing Japanese lanterns, fans and parasols, with the senior colors of pink and white emphasized in the flowers, candles and other table decorations. A three-course dinner was served.

Jesse Thomas, president of the junior class, presided as toastmaster and the following toasts were given: to the seniors, Connor Cole; to the juniors, Gilbert Bailey; to the faculty, Julian Smith; to the students, W. E. Gladstone; to the county superintendent, Edith Matthews. Other interesting numbers were two quartets, "Goody, Goody," and "Please Believe Me," sung by Alma Crouse, Gladys Cox, Grace Goodman and Rebecca Gardner; humorous reading, "The Trouble With Rastus," by Viola Briggs; solo, "Freckles," by Connor Cole, and a talk by the superintendent, A. M. Calhoun. Group singing brought the program to a close.

Those present were: Seniors, Gilbert Bailey, Mack Callahan, Herbert Cameron, Ernest Clayton, Gladys Cox, Pauline Crissman, Alma Crouse, Grace Goodman, T. K. Gunter, Jr., Arthur Hendrick, Ernestine Johnson, Barney Kirk, Preston Matthews, Marshall McRae, Henry Parker, Mildred Priest, Myrtle Priest and Edna Earle Richardson; Juniors, Connor Cole, Edith Matthews, Rebecca Gardner, Jessie Thomas, Bill Coore, Sidney Cox, Harold Eastwood, Linwood Keith, William Klingenschmidt, Julian Smith, Billy White, Frances Bailey, Ruby Brewer, Viola Briggs, Ila Dee Byrd, Lois Cameron, Lula Cameron, Gladys Causey, Ruby Richardson, and Irene Cameron; Faculty members, A.
