Theatre

A real treat is in store for those who enjoy the "better things", of the screen. Manager Picquet takes a personal pleasure in presenting to the patrons of the Southern Pines Theatre none other than our own American operatic star, Marion Talley, whose fame is world-wide, in her screen debut, "Follow Your Heart", the attraction for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 28-29-30, with a Tuesday matinee.

With a gripping, romantic plot equally as important as the lavish musical background, the producers practically robbed the "blue book" of stage and screen players who could properly interpret the characters in "Follow Your Heart". In support of Miss Talley are Michael Bartlett, Niguel Bruce, Henrietta Crossman, Walter Catlett, Margaret Irving, Luis Alberni and Vivienne Osborne.

One of the most lavish musical offerings to date, the story, cast and presentations are all of the "big league" variety, while the musical numbers include both operatic and popular selections generously delivered by Marion Talley, Michael Bartlett and others, and in addition there is splendid choral work contributed by the famous Hall Johnson Negro Choir, and an ensemble of 100 dancers.

The new Schertzinger popular numbers are "Follow Your Heart", "Who Minds About Me", and "Magnolia In The Moonlight," and the Page aria from "Les Huguenot," and Michael Bartlett's special numbers include, "Magnolia In The Moonlight", "Ah Maria," and an old English hunting song, assisted with the first two by the 100 girl dancers.

The repertoire of the Hall Johnson Negro chorus, already famous for its four years on the stage with "Green Pastures", includes; "Who Minds Me" "Work In The Morning," "It's All Over Me", "This Old Hammer Killed John Henry", and several cotton-field spirituals.

"Follow Your Heart" is a real screen event.

Bringing together three of the most famous stars in motion pictures, directed by W. S. Van Dyke of "San Francisco" and "His Brother's Wife" fame, and telling a story that reaches deep into the hearts, "The Devil Is A Sissy" opens at the Southern Pines Theatre Thursday, Oct. 1st., for a two-day engagement with a Thursday matinee, and will prove to be a stirring, gripping and entertaining drama of modern youth.

The brilliant child actor, Freddie Bartholomew, who enacted first "David Copperfield", and then "Little Lord Fauntleroy," appears as an orphan of New York's lower East Side. The young British star has his most human role in this comedy-drama of contemporary boyhood. Co-starring with Freddie are Jackie Cooper and the irrepressible Mickey Rooney, with a strong supporting cast.

The funniest husband and wife in pictures, Charlie Ruggles and Mary Boland, are together again for the eleventh time in a delightful comedy of a great love which almost goes wrong, "Wives Never Know", the attraction for Saturday, (one day only) Oct. 3rd., with a matinee at 3:00

Aiding and abetting in the general merriment is suave Adolphe Menjou, cast as the serpent who comes into a Topeka, Kansas, Garden of Eden with some novel ideas on married happiness which he induces gullible Ruggles to try. Charlie does, with results that are almost disastrous to his happy marriage.

The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. Annie Kelly. She received her education at Flora Macdonald College and for several years has held a position in the Pinehurst postoffice. The groom has held a position with the Moore County Hospital since the opening of the institution. They will make their home in Pinehurst.
