Theatre

"An amazed preview audience paid homage here to a picture that sets a new milestone in screen entertainment. It roared its approval of the production with its beauty and splendor of costumes, production effects and settings of eye-filling pageantry. The production is replete with melodious music, specialty features and an abundance of excellent performances. Audience appreciation of the picture's heart-gripping human interest and the dramatic, romantic quality of its two motivating love stories, narrating in a welter of color and comedy Florenz Ziegfeld's mature career, would seem to indicate that the men and women who saw the picture considered it one of the greatest in years".

The foregoing is, of course, a quotation from one of the critics who pre-viewed "The Great Ziegfeld," the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 5-6-7, with a Tuesday matinee.

This long-awaited production needs no further comment except, perhaps, to re-remind the public that the leading characters are portrayed by William Powell, Myrna Loy, Louise Rainer, Frank Morgan, Fanny Brice, Reginald Owen, Virginia Bruce, Ernest Cossart, Joseph Cawthorn and hosts of other well known screen stars.

Because of the extraordinary length of the production (three hours and five minutes) it will be necessary to change slightly the hours of opening. The night shows will begin promptly at 8.10 with the Movietone News, and the feature will go on the screen promptly at 8:20. The matinee will begin (with the feature) promptly at 2:30. "By the terms of our contract we are obliged to raise the admissions by exactly five cents," Mr. Picquet states. The night price for adults will be 40c. and for children 20c, with the matinee prices 30c and 15c. No children will be admitted without tickets.

Plenty of laughs are in store for fun-loving patrons in "Lady Be Careful", the attraction for Thursday and Friday, Oct. 8-9, with a Thursday matinee. To those who have followed the New York stage successes it is only necessary to state that "Lady Be Careful" is adapted from that hilarious Broadway success, "Sailors Beware", which kept New York roaring for so many months. It's story of a shy sailor who accidentally gains a reputation as a woman killer, and then is forced to gain the attentions of Panama City's most gorgeous, but coldest-hearted "no" girl in Panama. The leading players in this fun-fest are Lew Ayres, Mary Carlisle, Benny Baker, Grant Withers, and others, with a chorus of girls and sailors.

After a long absence from the screen, Wallace Beery comes back Saturday, Oct. 10th., with a matinee at 3:00 in a vehicle made to order for him, entitled "Old Hutch". For 20 years Old Hutch has developed vague pains in his back whenever the word "work" has fallen upon his shocked and unwashed ears. But his life is changed completely on the day he finds one hundred thousand dollar bills buried on the bank of his favorite fishing stream, Giddy with sudden riches, he re-buries the fortune, and faces the unhappy fact that he must establish himself as a man of means before he can begin to cash bills of such large denomination. From then on the fun begins and continues to the end.

Graphic Outlines of History

The Lancaster Turnpike

On April 9, 1792, a charter was granted in Pennsylvania to a company to build the first macadam road in the United States—the famous Lancaster Turnpike.

68-Ton Whale to Visit Here

Colossus To Be Exhibited in Southern Pines in Largest R. R. Car Ever Built

The skin of a whale is not only as smooth as silk, but quite tender, and while it has no scales it is invariably covered with barnacles and other parasitic crustaceans, according to the agent of the Eureka Whaling Company, who is here in Southern Pines arranging with officials to exhibit "Colossus," the 68-ton whale caught recently off San Clemente Island, about 200 miles off the coast of California.

Colossus is mounted on the largest railroad car ever built and with many other ocean oddities will be exhibited in Southern Pines on a siding near the Seaboard depot Wednesday, October 14th.

Another feature that accompanies the whale is Madame Sirwell's Flea Circus and a family of real live Penguins from Little America. Captain David J. Barnett, veteran whaling commander, and a crew of 30 men accompany the exhibit car. The exhibit will be open to the public from noon until 11:00 p. m.
