CASE AGAINST TAYLOR CO. OF ABERDEEN NON-SUITED

The case of outstanding interest in Recorder's Court Monday was that against the Taylor Chemical Co., of Aberdeen, Jack Taylor, Dan Ferrel and Luther Tyner, in which the defendants were charged with obtaining property from the Moore County Mutual Exchange in Aberdeen under false pretense.

At the close of the State's evidence, the court sustained a motion of non-suit as to defendant Taylor. No probable cause was found and all the defendants were dismissed.

According to the evidence, the Exchange was indebted to the Taylor Chemical Company and a representative of the defendant company traded out, without the consent of the manager, Ben H. Wood, $95.30 cents worth of feeds of various kinds on the account. The prosecuting witness alleged that the goods were obtained unlawfully by making false statements to the clerk in charge at the exchange, but this was denied by the defendants.
