125 Enjoy Annual Father's Night Entertainment of Pinehurst P.T.A.

Washington Birthday Program Put on by Pupils.—Leland McKeithen Speaker

The Pinehurst Parent-Teacher Association held its meeting in the school auditorium Monday night, February 21st, attended by 125 patrons. Mrs. Raymond Johnson, president, stated that in view of the interest shown and large attendance of fathers present, there would be another night meeting this spring.

The audience was pleased to learn that efforts are being made to secure a venereal disease clinic for Pinehurst. Another delightful piece of news was that the students of the cottage school had raised and contributed $51.61 to the Public School milk fund and already underprivileged children are having a mid-morning lunch of a glass of milk and crackers. This gift was made by the Cottage School students themselves and represented the profit realized from a newspaper they published, "The Cottage School Tattler," which is a very interesting publication.

Other items of especial interest were that plans are under way for improvement of stage facilities, and the announcement that the program of activities of the Pinehurst organization was given a fine write-up in the State Parent-Teacher Bulletin for February. Mrs. True P. Cheney, publicity chairman, had several copies of The Bulletin on hand for distribution. Further evidence that this organization is "Keeping-Up" is a certificate of merit received by Mrs. Robert Barrett from the national organization for the splendid preschool clinic she held last year. Mrs. Barrett is already planning a similar clinic this spring with follow-up work during the summer, thus enabling children entering school next fall to be in a healthy condition.

Miss Dorothy Ehrhardt and Mrs. David Coffey made short talks about the observation trip the teachers of the elementary school made to Cabarrus county schools last Wednesday.

The program of the evening was under the guidance of Misses Elma May and Mildred Petway and carried out the George Washington mo-

Bird Notes

By "The Cotton Wearin' Gal"

The all-morning field hunt conducted by the Southern Pines Bird Club Tuesday, was beyond a doubt a profitable one (as far as birds were concerned) as well as an enjoyable one.

Five cars filled with bird enthusiasts left the New England House to study the wild birds in the "open" around Olive's Dairy, where 22 species and about 300 or more individuals were seen in less than two hours.

To behold a flock of some 20-odd Meadowlarks among the broom sedge; to listen to a little brook babbling on its way; or watch a pair of Killdeer strut around a barnyard does not take a lot of hunting skill, nor test your eye for colors, or your ear for sound, but it does something to that inner you, and just how much you behold God in all this beauty, so in proposition shall your soul be fed.

The announcer of the features was Helen Hartsell; she performed this task in a most efficient manner. The first number was a minuet by eight girls and boys from the fourth grade, who were dressed in Colonial costumes and wore powdered wigs. The second number was the dramatization of the "famous cherry-tree incident." The young people delighted the audience with these numbers. Students taking part were Mary Jane Cole, Flora Ellen Cameron, Dorothy Graham, Elsie Everett, Whit Thomas, Colin McKenzie, Edgar Currie, S. R. Ransdall, Jr., Richard Smith and W. M. Chrisco.

The speaker of the evening, W. A. Leland McKeithen, was introduced by Donald Currie, Jr. Mr. McKeithen contrasted modern life with that of the time of George Washington and pointed out that education is the only solution to our present complex difficulties and entanglements.

After the program boys and girls of the fourth grade served refreshments.

Theatre

At Pinehurst

The first story of English undergraduate life to be filmed in England with a cast of American stars, sent abroad to act in authentic locales, comes to the Pinehurst Theatre Sunday night, February 27th at 8:30 and Monday, February 28th at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m. with the showing of "A Yank At Oxford," with Robert Taylor playing the title role and with such American and English film favorites as Lionel Barrymore, Maureen O'Sullivan, Vivien Leigh, Edmund Gwenn and Griffith Jones filling prominent supporting roles.

There are stars enough, laughs, tunes and gags enough for a dozen big musicals, plus a screen full of romance and the extra zing and sparkle to make Darryl F. Zanuck's "Sally, Irene and Mary," the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre, Wednesday, March 2nd at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m., a real hit. Alice Faye and Tony Martin sing the tuneful songs as only they know how. With Fred Allen of Radio's "Town Hall Tonight," twice as funny face-to-face, they lead a whole "who's who" of peppery uppers frolicking to town. Joan Davis, the knee-action gazelle, learns some new Durantics from the famous "Schnozzola."

Patrons who for years have been looking for a brand new idea in mystery pictures will find that "Arsene Lupin Returns," the attraction at Pinehurst Friday, March 4th, at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m., will satisfy their longings. "Arsene Lupin Returns" is a mystery picture all right. But even more, it is comedy. While it amuses in breezy, frolicsome fashion, it also is a puzzler that undoubtedly will leave most audiences more bewildered at the conclusion than they were when they first thought they were beginning to catch on to the story trend.

At Southern Pines

Revolving about one of the most ingenious themes ever brought to the screen, "Radio City Reveals," the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 28th, and March 1st, at 8:30 with a Tuesday matinee, has been lavishly produced with a star-studded cast headed by Bob Burns, Jack Oakie, Kenny Baker and Ann Miller. With its spectacular finale scenes at Radio City during an anniversary celebration, its intimate glimpses of the business of song writing and its unique story and hilarious situations, "Radio City Reveals" promises to be a genuine novelty in screen entertainment.

Placed in the stirring days of Lincoln, and in pioneer settlements in Ohio, "Of Human Hearts," the human drama of a circuit-riding preacher and his family, brings Walter Huston to the screen for the first time since his triumph in "Dodsworth." The new picture, in which James Stewart and Beulah Bondi are teamed with Huston as his son and wife, comes to Southern Pines for a return engagement, Wednesday and Thursday, March 2 and 3, at 8:30 with a matinee Thursday at 3:00. "Gold Is Where You Find It," the all-technicolor production starring George Brent, Olivia de Havilland and Claude Rains, is playing a return engagement at Southern Pines Friday and Saturday, March 4 and 5, at 8:20 p. m. with a Saturday matinee at 3:00. This production should be of special interest to the Sandhills due to the fact that the story is by Clements Ripley who formerly lived in this section. It is a story of the famous feud between the wheat growers and the miners of California during the 1870's.

SILVER TEA WEDNESDAY

The annual Silver Tea of Group 1 of the Woman's Society of the Church of Wide Fellowship will be held at the home of Mrs. E. Lewis Prizer on Massachusetts avenue, Southern Pines from 4:00 to 6:00 o'clock next Wednesday, March 2. All are cordially invited.
