FIVE CENTS

HUNTER TRIALS AT THE PADDOCK TO BENEFIT CLINICS

Parking Space Proceeds For Maternity Welfare and Venereal Disease Control

FOUR EVENTS SCHEDULED

Recently organized health clinics in the county are to benefit from the Sandhills Invitation Hunter Trials to be held at The Paddock in Southern Pines on Friday afternoon, March 18th, it was announced this week. The net proceeds from the sale of parking spaces for the event are to go to the Maternity Welfare Association toward the support of its clinics, and to the Pinehurst and Southern Pines committees conducting venereal disease clinics.

The sale of parking spaces will provide the only revenue at the Hunter Trials, it was stated as there is to be no entrance fee for the horses and no general admission charge. On the other hand the committee said, the expenses in connection with putting on the trials are slight so that it is possible a sizeable sum may be realized for these important health movements launched here within the past year or so.

Classes for the Hunter Trials were announced yesterday as follows:

Event No. 1—Working Hunters. For horses regularly hunted with a recognized pack. Horses competing in this event not eligible for Events 2 and 3. Ribbons to winner.

Event No. 2—Open Hunters Lightweight. For horses up to carrying 165 pounds to hounds. Plate to winner presented by C. W. Middleton of Pinehurst.

Event No. 3—Open Hunters, Middleweight and Heavyweight. Plate to winner, presented by the Hunter Trials Committee.

Class for Hunt Teams

Event No. 4—Hunt Teams of Three Horses. Combined Ownership permitted. To be ridden in hunting costume. Plate to winner presented by The Pine Needles.

No thoroughbreds are eligible for the Working Hunter Class. Non-Thoroughbreds may enter an Open class but no horse may enter both Working Hunter and Open classes.

Entries must be acceptable to the committee. No post entries are to be allowed, and entries close with the Secretary on Tuesday night, March 15.

The first class starts promptly at 2:00 o'clock, to be shown over a course of nine fences in natural country regularly hunted by the Moore County Hounds.

The trials are to be judged by F. Wallis Armstrong of Philadelphia and Aiken, Algernon S. Craven of Charlottesville, Va., and Harry D. Kirkover of Camden.

Comprising the committee in charge of the trials are Frederick H. Burke, chairman; William E. Baker, James Boyd, Almet Jenks, B. R. Tompkins, Ernest I. White and Nelson C. Hyde. Entries and parking space applications are to be sent to Mr. Hyde, secretary of the committee, Southern Pines.

Alleged Slayers Waive Hearing in Recorder's Court.—“Judge” Pruett in Trouble

Robert Svendsen and Jean Baptiste Caron, charged with the murder of J. E. Carraway, operator of Connecticut Tourist Camp on Highway No. 1, south of Aberdeen last August 6, waived a preliminary hearing in Recorder's Court Monday and were bound to Superior Court without privilege of bail.

Each of the men, officers stated, has admitted participation in the robbery-slaying, but each accuses the other of being the actual slayer.

Getting rough with his mother-in-law has plunged “Judge” Pruett, colored of Aberdeen, into deep trouble with the “law” and he has given notice of appeal to the Superior Court. Pruett told the court that he just led her to the door and pushed her

SANITY, RELIGION ONLY ROAD OUT OF WORLD CHAOS

Stop Tinkering With Economics and Legislation, Bishop DuMoulin Tells Kiwanis

Bishop Frank DuMoulin of Locust Valley, L. I., quoting from Zachariah: “Not by might, not by power, but by my spirit,” told members of the Sandhills Kiwanis Club yesterday that Religion has got to solve the world turmoil of today.

“We are at a turning point in human history. Transitional periods are not pleasant. They demand sanity. We must keep our feet on the ground; demand balance and give balance. In striving for sanctity, let us not lose sanity,” he said.

“The human family is the individual in mass form. The individual, as a child, idealizes the athlete. As he grows older his hero is the intellectual, and he works up to the moral and spiritual. It is the same with humanity as a whole. Life started with the physical prowess of the Roman era, passed along to the material; (which proved that dictatorships are never permanent, always ephemeral—a flash in the pan) this was followed by the cultural chapter, emphasizing beauty, poetry, the arts, architecture, literature; a magnificent chapter. And during the past century we have been living through the Science era.”

Then, he said, came a regrettable perversion, when culture turned into “Kultur,” and era ended by the Armistice. “The sun rose then, but has become eclipsed. Forces of progress have been pulled back. Dictators have been rising again. But in all progress there is reaction. The present reaction cannot be met by mechanism or theory. It must be met by Religion, the most dynamic force in life.

“We must stop thinking with economics, science, legislation, business. These things have failed to solve our national and international problems. We have got to use Religion. Science is away ahead of Religious, but it can catch up.

“Let us stop tinkering and settle down to the realities of life. Sanity, logic, reason must prevail,” he said.

Thrilling Race Foreseen For Sandhills Cup

Mrs. Gould's Ostend and Paul Mellon's Corn Dodger Among Timber Event Entries

RECORD CROWD EXPECTED

A thrilling three-mile battle over the timber course of the Sandhills Steeplechase and Racing Association is in sight for next Saturday, March 19th when the Sandhills Challenge Cup event is run. Two of the country's leading timber horses are among the entries for the grueling grind, Ostend, owned by Mrs. Frank M. Gould of New York, and Corn Dodger, owned by Paul Mellon of Pittsburgh.

Ostend has won some of the biggest races in the country, including the Virginia Gold Cup at Warrenton, Va., the Middleburg, Va. Cup and the Long Island Hunt Cup. Interest is keen throughout the state in the fourth annual steeplechase event here next week, and the largest crowd ever to gather for a sports event in this section is anticipated. The course is fast, the new brush jumps completed, everything in readiness for the Sandhills' big race day.

Richard Wallach, Jr., racing secretary, returned from Aiken and Camden, S. C., Wednesday with a pocket full of entries for the five events on the day's card which, with those already in from Pinehurst, Southern Pines and various Virginia points assures good fields in the brush, timber, hurdle and flat races. Purses in the other events are each $300, with the new Sandhills Challenge Cup an added incentive in the three-mile timber race. Verner Z. Reed, Jr., president of the association, has also donated a trophy in memory of Noel Laing for the winning rider in the timber event.

The afternoon card includes The Catawba, one and one-half miles over hurdles; The Croatan, two miles over brush for maidens and winners of one race; the Sandhills Cup, three miles over timber; The Yarkin, two and one-half miles over brush, and The Midland, one and one-quarter miles on the flat.
