

Dewberry Growers Lay Plans For Next Season

Intensive Advertising Campaign in North to Rehabilitate Demand for Fruit

Dewberry growers and market men from Cameron, Vass and the outlying communities gathered in the town hall in Vass last Friday evening to lay plans for giving King Dewberry a boost back onto the throne from which he has been slipping for the past several years.

Plans for an intensive advertising campaign in northern cities next year were discussed and the majority of those present agreed to a proposition of each farmer's paying two cents per crate and the markets one cent per crate to raise funds for financing the proposed campaign.

Better quality and better packing were suggested as ways of raising the price of dewberries and the fact that one buyer on the Vass market had three telegrams this year asking for berries from the farm of one particular grower would indicate that something could be done in the dewberry fields and pack sheds to create a stronger demand for the berries for it shows that quality is recognized.

A committee composed of L. B. McKeithen of Cameron, R. P. Beasley and W. B. Graham of Vass, D. M. Cameron and J. W. Smith of the Lohelia section, Mr. Seward of the Lakeview community, C. L. Tate of the Vass auction market, and possibly others, was appointed to investigate the advertising proposition and gain any information they could as to ways and means of improving the dewberry situation.

More, Better Education Needed, Says Highsmith

State Supervisor of Schools Says Times Call for Change in Curriculum

Speaking to a group of people in the courthouse at Carthage last Friday evening, Dr. J. Henry Highsmith, State Supervisor of Schools, stressed the importance of more and better education in North Carolina. Dr. Highsmith had been asked to discuss the Robin Hood Farm movement but stated that he knew far too little about the movement to speak on the subject. There is great need for a more adequate provision for education in this state, said the speaker. He also said that the majority of our schools are paying too little attention to the emotional and social reactions of students. Dr. Highsmith is keenly interested in 9-month schools and twelve grades.

"We must educate all the children of all the people, for ignorance is the menace of civilization," said he, "and as we educate we must adjust the curriculum to modern life." The speaker urged the teaching of practical subjects and especially emphasized the importance of the right sort of education to meet the need of every boy and girl in North Carolina.

Following Dr. Highsmith's address an open discussion of Robin Hood Farm was held. A great many questions in the minds of those present were answered by speakers who accompanied Dr. Highsmith from Raleigh and who are back of the Robin Hood Farms movement.

Big Crowd at Rally For Deane at Rockingham

Delegations From Every County in Congressional District Pay Him Tribute

Supporters of C. B. Deane for Congress from the entire eighth district gave unmistakable manifestation Saturday night for their enthusiasm and endorsement for Deane. Rockingham was the scene of one of the greatest political rallies ever held in this section of the state.

There were delegations from every county in the eighth district—eight representative citizens from Wilkes, seven from Davis, 14 from Davidson, 29 from Lee, 52 from Anson, 33 from Union, 17 from Hoke, 34 from Moore, 20 from Montgomery, 36 from Scotland, and hundreds from his own county of Richmond.

So great was the crowd that the rally had to be held in front of the courthouse. The police roped the street off, a platform was built on the courthouse steps and an amplifying system installed. Every word was clearly heard throughout the closely packed area. And the cheers that greeted the speakers betokened the keen, and earnest, interest of those assembled. It was a marvelous tribute to C. B. Deane.

The rally was presided over by Attorney W. R. Jones, Jr. There are six major contests in Richmond county in the second primary—hot fights for Sheriff, Senate, House, Recorder, etc., and the 6,854 votes cast in Richmond county June 4th will be exceeded July 2nd. Every candidate has signed a pledge endorsing and favoring Deane, and these candidates were the first speakers at the rally.

Following the local candidates the following spoke: K. C. Garner, merchant, and Felix Cannon, representing the railroad brotherhoods, of Hamlet; Odus Colvin, representing the textile workers of the mills; Walter S. Thomas, Clerk of Court. Then came spokesmen from the various counties: Jennings King from Scotland, Buren O'Brien from Lee, Clarence S. Deweese from Davie, J. W. Cummings from Moore, Hugh A. Cranor from Wilkes, Attorney C. W. Teague, Lola Byerly and Clifton Smith from Davidson, C. W. Seate and Dr. A. C. Bethune from Hoke, C. N. Maynard from Union, "Bock" Hurley from Montgomery, and from Anson the speakers were Francis Liles the Register of Deed, Fred Mills, postmaster at Wadesboro, and Jule Allen, ex-chairman of the County Commissioners.

And finally J. Chesley Sedberry, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee from Richmond county, was called upon and made a ringing speech of introduction for the candidate. Mr. Deane's entry was the occasion for prolonged applause that was not stilled until he called for silence. He expressed his gratitude to the voters of the district for the 13,127 votes given him June 4th and which made him the high man in a field of five candidates, placing him some 500 votes ahead of the next high man. And he pledged himself to be the representative of all the people of the entire district, without regard to class or condition or section. And that he will do that very thing is the confident belief of his home folks who know Deane to be four-square, a clean man who wears no man's collar but who is fearless, able and conscientious.

"WHO BUYS THE FINEST TOBACCO?"

I KNOW BECAUSE I'M A TOBACCO PLANTER. FOR YEARS, AT AUCTION AFTER AUCTION, CAMEL HAS BOUGHT MY FINEST LOTS. LAST YEAR CAMEL PAID ME HIGHEST PRICES. I SMOKE CAMELS BECAUSE, TO MY WAY OF THINKING, THE COMPANY THAT BUYS THE FINER GRADE OF TOBACCO IS BOUND TO PUT OUT A FINER CIGARETTE. MOST PLANTERS FEEL THE SAME

Mr. Wells speaks for many tobacco growers when he says: "Most planters smoke Camels because they know the finer grades of tobacco bought for them." And as men who know tobacco, they know that Camel's FINER, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS make a world of difference in smoking pleasure. Try Camels.

DAVID ELMER WELLS gives you a mighty good reason for smoking Camels

"WE SMOKE CAMELS BECAUSE WE KNOW TOBACCO"

Look for this symbol in members' own advertising

This symbol means a lot to lovers of good beer!

IT IDENTIFIES the brewers who have pledged their support "to the duly constituted authorities for the elimination of anti social conditions in the sale of beer."

It identifies the brewers who, through The Brewers' Code of Practice, have pledged themselves to the promotion of practical moderation and sobriety.

These brewers ask, with all thoughtful citizens, for adequate enforcement of existing laws... to close outlets operating illegally... to prevent the sale of beer to minors... or after legal hours... or to persons who have drunk to excess.

These brewers ask the public to support and encourage the great body of retailers who sell beer as law-abiding citizens and who operate legal, respectable premises.
