

Pine Maskers Present Two Comedies Tuesday

Will Enact "Tooth or Shave," Club's Entry in State Dramatic Tournament

The Pine Maskers, Southern Pines High School dramatic club, will present two one-act comedies in the school auditorium on next Friday evening.

"One Egg," by Barbetta Hughes, is a hilarious farce in which two people, meeting in a restaurant, are brought together by the difficulty of ordering one egg for breakfast. Hazel Kelley and David Speir give excellent portrayals of the girl and boy characterizations, and Raymond Hayes makes the old waiter a highly appearing character.

"Tooth or Shave," a Mexican folk comedy by Josephina Niggli, will be the second presentation on the evening's program. Miss Niggli gives a delightful picture of four Mexican peasants two of whom she has known since her childhood.

"Tooth or Shave" is the Pine Maskers' entry in the State Dramatic tournament, the preliminary for which is to be held in the Needham Broughton high school auditorium in Raleigh on March 15.

The persons in the play are: Anselmo, a barber, Dick Pethick; Maria, his wife, Barbara Plummer; Tomas, a carpenter, Richard Plummer; Juanita, his wife, Mary Belle Price.

Home Ownership Gets B. & L. Fund Boost

Loans Made By Association in State During January Total $1,625,000

Home loans made by building, savings and loan associations of North Carolina greatly exceeded those of January of last year, according to John B. Craven of Lexington, president of the North Carolina Building and Loan League.

A total of $1,625,000 worth of home loans were made during this month, of which $870,000 was for the construction of homes, and $355,000 for the purchase of homes. The balance of $600,000 in loans were made for refinancing, repairs, remodeling, and other miscellaneous purposes. This splendid showing, during January, substantiates for this month the optimistic predictions of building, savings and loan leaders throughout the State that 1939 will be even better than 1938, unless there is a sudden increase in construction costs or a severe drop in business within the State.

Continued emphasis upon the practical value of home ownership today is producing tangible results as shown by the fine January record of these home financing institutions.

SERVICE CLUB DISCUSSES "HOW TO WIN FRIENDS"

The book, "How to Win Friends and Influence People," was discussed by members of the Moore County Service Club at its regular meeting held Friday night in the court house.

Miss Helen Morgan gave a brief account of the writing of the book and the following divisions were discussed by the members named:

"Six Ways to Make People Like You," Gertrude Lamb; "Twelve Ways to Win Others to Your Way of Thinking," Letha Blalock. Brief summaries of other parts of the book were given.

Miss Anna Mae Richardson, vice-president, presided.

HARLEM PAGE WAITE, 76, DIES IN SOUTHERN PINES

Harlem Page Waite died on Monday, February 20th, Southern Pines, following a short illness. Funeral services were held in the Clark Funeral Home at 2:30 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon, the Rev. Voight O. Taylor of the Church of Wide Fellowship officiating. Pending arrangements for interment at Portland, Me., the body was taken to his brother's home at Northfield, Mass.

Mr. Waite, a seasonal resident for the past few years, was born December 6, 1862, at Portland, Me., the son of Joshua Waite and Lucy Fogg Waite. He is survived by his widow, the former Cora Minor, for many years a winter resident of Southern Pines; a brother, Walter H. Waite, and a daughter by a former marriage.

Our new stationery is attractive, up to date and reasonably priced.—Hayes.

Comings and Goings in Vass

"Fires of Evangelism" was the subject of a challenging sermon preached by Dr. Guy C. Funderburk in the Vass Baptist Church Sunday morning to the good-sized congregation which braved the inclement weather to attend.

Dr. and Mrs. Funderburk were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Tyson and Miss Effie Bailey at the Tyson home.

The Rev. C. M. Voyles, pastor of the Cameron Presbyterian church, preached an inspiring sermon in the local Presbyterian church Sunday evening, taking as his text the two words, "Follow Me." The service was well attended.

Entertain Auxiliary

Mrs. W. P. Parker and Mrs. S. R. Smith were joint hostesses to the Methodist Auxiliary at the home of the latter on Wednesday afternoon of last week. "Widening the Horizons of the Home" was the topic and the program was presented by Mrs. G. W. Griffin, Mrs. A. G. Edwards, Jr., Mrs. W. J. Cameron, Mrs. C. L. Tyson, and Mrs. W. C. Leslie. Mrs. T. F. Cameron conducted the Bible study.

During the social hour a Bible contest and a George Washington contest were enjoyed, with Mrs. H. A. Borst and Mrs. C. J. Temple winning in the first and Mrs. Leslie and Mrs. W. T. Cox, Mrs. Borst and Mrs. W. J. Cameron tying for honors in the second.

ENJOY ALL THE PLEASURE THERE IS IN SMOKING—

Let up—Light up a Camel

CAMELS GIVE ME TWO BIG THINGS I WANT IN A CIGARETTE—MILDNESS AND GOOD, RICH FLAVOR. CAMELS MAKE SMOKING MEAN A LOT MORE TO ME. 'I'D WALK A MILE FOR A CAMEL' TOO!

WHEN the combination to a safe gets lost, Harold J. Weidman is likely to get a call. His work as a locksmith is opening locks by touch and sound. Often that's a long, wearisome job, and, as Harold says, "No task for a man with jittery nerves." So he pauses now and then to let up—light up a mild, tasty Camel. He finds these recesses pleasant and refreshing.
