Out of the total of $712,224 spent by 85 North Carolina counties in fiscal 1938 for care of indigent and aged in almshouses. Moore county had a monthly per capita cost of $22.46 in taking care of an average daily population of 22, according to figures of a survey by the division of institutions and corrections of the State Board of Charities and Public Welfare. The state-wide average during the same period was $17.76 per month.

Expenditures for permanent improvements to 23 county homes ranged from slightly more than $200 to $100,000 spent by Edgecombe county on its new home and sanatorium. Statewide expenditures for permanent improvements during the fiscal period cost the counties $170,210.39, the survey showed.
