Are You Planning To Attend World's Fair?

Reasonably Priced Accommodations Available To Subscribers To The Pilot

Woodyard Associates, Inc., 247 Park avenue, New York, The Pilot's advertising representative in New York, has advised The Pilot that those desiring reasonably priced hotel accommodations during their visit to the New York World's Fair may obtain them by simply telephoning Plaza 8-0020 from 9 a. m. to 5:00 p. m. (or Chelsea 2-4760 after 5:00 p. m., and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays) and giving their name as a subscriber to this paper.

This service is offered solely as a convenience to out-of-towners planning a visit to the Fair who do not wish to pay the extremely high prices of the larger hotels. There is no charge for this service.

For the most part, accommodations can be had for $1.50 per day per person. However, if more spacious accommodations are desired, they can be had at slightly higher rates. Children under 12 are provided for at half rates.

If anyone wishes to make reservations in advance, simply write Woodyard Associates, giving the price you wish to pay, as well as the date, duration of your planned visit, and the number of persons to be accommodated. Reservations made in this way carry no obligation, but should not be made until plans are definite.

These apartment hotels are located on or near the Hudson River, in excellent residential sections within easy driving or subway distance from the Fair grounds.

Mrs. Horace W. Roberts Passes in Pinebluff

Native of Aberdeen Had Been Resident of Sandhills for Past 25 Years

Mrs. Edith Hooper Roberts, widow of Horace W. Roberts, passed away at her cottage in Pinebluff Tuesday morning, July 4th. She had been in delicate health for some year, but had been confined to her bed about a month.

Mrs. Roberts was born March 17th, 1853 in Mobile, Ala., daughter of Harriet Robinson and James Austin Hooper. In 1868 she went with her parents to Titusville, Pa. She was graduated from Swarthmore College and about 1877 was united in marriage with Horace W. Roberts. A son was born who died in infancy.

After her husband's death she went to Europe several times with her friend Mrs. J. A. Cadwallader, and at one time spent three years in Germany, studying languages and enjoying the opera.

About 1914 Mrs. Roberts came to the Sandhills and later built a cottage in Pinebluff where she was loved by all who knew her.

She is survived by her brother, Charles R. Hooper of Pinebluff, and a niece, Mrs. Clarence L. von Tacky of Titusville, Pa., who were with her at the end. There is also a brother, F. Marion Hooper, of Oil City, Pa. Two other brothers, James M. and Thomas Hooper, died some years ago.

Mrs. Roberts will be taken to Titusville, Pa., where services will be held Friday at 2:30 from Saint James Memorial Church. Interment will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Titusville, beside her parents.

Raleigh Orphanage To Observe Anniversary

Representatives of Fayetteville Presbytery Invited To Barbecue on Sunday

The Methodist Orphanage in Raleigh is celebrating its 40th anniversary on July 9. Three representative laymen from each local Methodist church in the Fayetteville District are to be guests of the orphanage at a free barbecue dinner on this coming Sunday at 1:00 o'clock. Following the dinner a most interesting program will be put on in the orphanage auditorium by the children of the home.

The invited guests will be shown over the campus and through the cottages by the 310 children. It is the sincere wish of Superintendent A. S. Barnes that at least the Sunday School superintendent, the presidents of Men's Bible classes and the Church Lay leader from every local church in the Fayetteville district honor the orphanage with their presence. A good time is in store for those who visit the Methodist Orphanage next Sunday.

NIAGARA

Mrs. D. S. Ray had the misfortune to fall last week and has been suffering from broken ribs.

Bill Turnley has returned from a trip to Boston, Mass.

The Rev. Mr. Foster filled his regular appointments at the Village Church. His sermon Sunday night was very impressive, showing parents where they are failing in their obligations to the youth of today.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Copeland and daughter, Miss Mateine, of Durham spent the Fourth at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Snipes.

J. W. Frank, who has been quite ill, is improving.

Mrs. C. F. Andrews and Miss Ada Tilley of Chapel Hill visited relatives here Tuesday.

BREAK GROUND FOR NEW STORE BUILDING IN VASS

F. L. Taylor has broken ground for a new store building of stucco construction 32 by 80 feet to house the Stutts-Taylor store in Vass, which is now located in the small wooden building on Railroad street. The building will be on the lot adjoining the present store. O. D. Causey of Lakeview is in charge of the work.
