Theatre

This is a tale based on fact of heroic life and a conflict of loyalties, told in reverence and without bitterness. Nursing is a dedication to mercy and healing. War is a dedication to brutal force. Neither admit distinction of race or person. Each is the uncompromising foe of the other." —Foreword from "Nurse Edith Cavell," the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre Sunday night, November 5th at 8:30. It is a tale of sacrifice and devotion to the cause of saving lives, appealingly told in documentary style. History having made Nurse Edith Cavell one of the most outstanding figures of the early days of the World War and her execution by the enemy a cause celebre throughout the civilized world.

Anna Neagle, best known in the United States for her outstanding performance in "Victoria The Great" plays the role of Nurse Cavill and at the preview in Los Angeles her performance received a great ovation.

"Showmen can tell their customers that if they don't think sequence of murders can be a completely efficacious cure for war jitters, melancholia, economic ennui or plain washday blues, they'd better come and see "The Housekeeper's Daughter," especially if it happens to be shown on "blue Monday." So spoke one critic in previewing the aforementioned attraction which comes to Southern Pines Monday and Tuesday, November 6, 7, with a Tuesday matinee. Another commentator says "It is unquestionably the surprise laugh hit of the year, made in the Hal Roach formula, with a tint of Chaplinesque technique; a type of picture needed now with laughs galore and riotous dialogue." The cast can truly be called all-star, with Joan Bennett, Adolphe Menjou, John Hubbard, William Gargan, George Stone, Peggy Wood, Donald Meek, Lillian Bond and many others. An added attraction and a decidedly worth while one is the new March of Time Magazine, telling the comprehensive inside story of "The Battle Fleets of England" in which you will see England's Fighting Navy in action.

An attraction of unusual merit, produced for the entire family and one which every member of the family should see, is "Bad Little Angel" starring the 12-year old Virginia Weidler, late of "The Women" cast, and Gene Reynolds, remembered for his sterling work in "They Shall Have Music" coming to Southern Pines Wednesday and Thursday, November 8, 9, with a Thursday matinee. These youngsters are supported by a sterling cast.

Although no point has been made of it, this wholesome story about a little girl who believes in God is a particularly appropriate item for exhibition in connection with observation of the cinema's 50th anniversary. The team of Laurel and Hardy has been reunited and their first full-length laugh howl is "The Flying Deuces," coming to Southern Pines Friday and Saturday, November 10, 11, with a Saturday matinee. This time the veteran comics have taken the airways as a back-ground for their misadventures, a thrilling and hilarious climax being provided in the final sequence, when the boys, as two Foreign Legionnaires sentenced to die for desertion, take flight in an endurance ship.

Welfare Club Elects For Ensuing Year

D. H. Turner President of Organization Seeking Passage of Old Age Pension Bill

A very enjoyable meeting was held by the General Welfare Federation Club on Monday night in the Jefferson Inn, the parlor having been kindly loaned to the club by Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds.

It was the night for the election of officers for the ensuing year. The committee on nominations proposed D. H. Turner for president, F. W. Van Camp for vice president, Mrs. Luella Smiley to succeed herself as secretary, and Mrs. D. H. Turner to succeed herself as treasurer. They were elected with thanks to the nominating committee.

Members read articles of the good work of attorney Arthur L. Johnson who is now lining up Congressmen to bring the bill No. 2520 to the floor for action on old age pensions, and to equalize the amounts paid to our aged throughout the nation. Criticisms are now rife in the land because some states pay as low as $6.02 per month, while some, as California and New York, pay as high as $32.45. North Carolina pays $9.59.
