

Sikol and Molliver Placed on Probation

Youths Plead Guilty of Entering Apartment in Aberdeen. Other Court Cases

Myron Sikol and Sidney Molliver, young white hitch-hikers who entered the apartment of John Woods in Aberdeen during the night time in October, plead guilty in Superior court last week to non-burglarious entrance of a building.

Hearing a noise in his room, Woods investigated. One of the boys crawled under the bed and was captured, the other ran, but was arrested in Sanford. Charged with first degree burglary, they were lodged in the county jail to await trial.

The youths' plea was accepted and they were given one year each, on the roads, but the sentence was suspended upon payment of the costs and upon certain other conditions and they were placed on probation for two years.

Sikol was placed under the supervision of Rabbi Habas and Probation Officer Taylor of Pittsfield, Mass. Rabbi Habas wired money for the payment of his costs, which were heavy due to the fact that the boys had been in jail for about three months, and for bus fare and Sikol left the county Monday.

Molliver was placed under the supervision of Probation Officer Joseph Kaplowitz of Manhattan, N. Y., but his money had not arrived Tuesday morning. He was expected to settle up later in the week.

Other Sentences

Temple Pearce, alias John Wesley Jones, in two cases of breaking and entering and larceny, a total of four years in State Prison.

Roscoe Brown, in two cases of public drunkenness and disorderly conduct, 30 days in jail to work on the roads, in each case.

Donnie Persons plead guilty of breaking other than burglariously and was given eighteen months on the roads.

Gaston Shaw, assault with a deadly weapon, twelve months in jail to work on the roads.

James Needham, who entered a plea of nolo contendere to bastardy, six months in jail to work on the roads, suspended upon payment of costs, and specified amounts to the mother of the child.

For violating the prohibition law, Bill Maples, twelve months in jail to work on the roads; Gibson Faircloth, twelve months to work on the roads, to be suspended upon payment of the costs and a fine of $25 by the May term; Lacy Faircloth, twelve months to work on the roads; Ernest Faircloth, six months to work on the roads.

"ROYALTY"

"King" and "Prince" Meet Judge in Recorder's Court Monday

Feminine "Grace" coupled with the dignity of a "Judge" lent a perfect atmosphere for the occasion Monday when a "King" and a "Prince" from neighboring domains were presented at court in Carthage in one of the most royal sessions ever presided over by Judge J. Vance Rowe.

Prince Albert Hamilton, colored of Eagle Springs, plead not guilty of assaulting W. M. McCane with a gun and with threatening death if McCane had him indicted, but the Court found "Prince Albert" guilty and sentenced him to serve six months on the roads, or at the county home if the commissioners approved.

Judge King and Grace Murchison were charged with having whiskey in their possession for the purpose of sale, but their case was continued.

Edmond Gaines, alias Ralph Gaines, colored, plead not guilty to a charge of breaking and entering and larceny, but the Court found probable cause and bound him to Superior court under bond of $500.

In default of defendant's giving bond, it was ordered that he be examined by the county physician and if found to have tuberculosis, that he be confined in the criminal department of the State Sanatorium to await trial at the May term of Superior court.

Gaines was charged with entering a house near Aberdeen where an old colored woman had her household goods locked up and with stealing bed clothing, wearing apparel and a clock. It was brought out in court that he had been trying to sell some of the goods.

Comings and Goings in Vass

Mrs. Eliza Jane Garner, 65, wife of James Garner of the Beaver Creek community out from Cameron and Vass, passed away at the Moore County Hospital in Pinehurst Friday after an illness of several days.

The funeral was conducted at the home Sunday afternoon with the Rev. Mr. Solomon of the community officiating, and burial was in Johnson's Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Garner, who before her marriage was Miss Eliza Jane Cameron, had been a member of Cypress Presbyterian Church for many years.

She is survived by her husband; five sons, Gilbert, William, Andrew, Alex and David Garner; four daughters, Lillie and Maggie Garner, Mrs. Rache' Stewart and Mrs. Bessie Allen; four sisters, Mrs. Sarah Ann Monroe, Mrs. Christian Monroe, Mrs. Kate Bass and Mrs. Mollie Priest; five brothers, Neill, Pat, John, Daniel A., and Rob Cameron, and several grandchildren. All of these relatives live out from Cameron or Vass.

"Another Golden Opportunity" was the subject of an inspiring sermon preached Sunday morning in the Vass Presbyterian church by the Baptist minister, Dr. Guy C. Funderburke. The Baptists held their service in the Presbyterian church due to the fact that they were unable last week to complete the repairs to their building, which was damaged by fire the previous Sunday.

World Day of Prayer

World Day of Prayer will be observed in the local Presbyterian church Friday afternoon, February 9, with ladies from the three churches in town participating.

Birthday Party

In celebration of her eighth birthday anniversary, Alice Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Evans, entertained ten of her little friends at a party at her home on Thursday afternoon. Following a delightful playtime, Alice's mother served ice cream, cake and candy hearts to the group.

Ice Accidents

Junior "Dutch" Hudson, popular member of the seventh grade of Vass-Lakeview school, is nursing a broken arm as a result of a fall on the ice just as he was arriving at the school building Monday morning. "Dutch" said that his bicycle skidded out from under him.

A five- or six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Jones of the Lobbelia community out from Vass slipped on the ice-coated concrete steps of his home Saturday and suffered a broken leg. The child was carried to the Moore County Hospital.

It was announced Sunday that school work, which was suspended on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week on account of the snow and ice, would be resumed Monday, but the attendance was very poor, so the children were dismissed until Wednesday. The small boys are getting a big thrill out of skating, and coasting on their sleds, pleasures which are not available very frequently.

Byrd Cox and family, who for the past several years have resided in the Cranes Creek community, have moved this week to the Wes Seawall place near Carthage.

Miss Ruby Brewer of High Point spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Brewer.

H. A. Borst visited his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Borst, in Cameron Sunday afternoon.

Linwood Keith and Franklin Matthews, of Raleigh, were at home over the week-end.

Bernice Graham of Chester, S. C. visited his mother, Mrs. W. B. Graham, during last week-end.

R. P. Beasley visited his sister, Miss Mary Beasley, in Apex Thursday night and made a business trip to Raleigh Friday.

A. M. Calhoun of Red Springs was a supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. N. McLean Sunday evening.

Church Services

Dr. S. A. Maxwell will preach in the Vass Methodist Church at 11:00 o'clock this Sunday morning and the Rev. C. M. Voyles will fill his regular appointment at the Presbyterian Church at 7:00 p. m. All are invited to attend these services.

Mrs. C. P. McMillan is able to be out after an attack of influenza. Mrs. V. P. Parker taught the fifth grade or Mrs. McMillan during her illness.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Garrison and E. Peebles, all of Carthage, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gladstone Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Abernathy were entertained at dinner in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Abernathy, in Sanford on Thursday evening, the dinner being given in honor of Mrs. J. H. Abernathy's birthday.

Dr. and Mrs. R. G. Rosser visited the latter's brother, Gordon Harrington of Broadway, at the Lee County Hospital in Sanford Wednesday. Mr. Harrington is critically ill with a stomach ailment.

O. E. Hamilton of near Dunn, Mrs. W. E. Hunter of Sanford, Mrs. Winfrey Suggs and son of Raleigh, Mr. and Mrs. John Thompson of Elberle, Mrs. Jewel Hemphill and Miss June Hemphill of Cameron called on Mr. and Mrs. W. D. McCraney and Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Thompson Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Parker and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Williford spent last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Winfrey Parker at Scotland Neck.

Mrs. D. C. McGill became ill with pneumonia Sunday night, but is responding to treatment as satisfactorily as could be expected.

E. M. Corbett, who has been confined to his home for several days with a sore foot, is able to be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cameron and family visited Mrs. Cameron's parents in Buie's Creek Sunday.

Mrs. W. T. Cox spent Sunday in Sanford with her husband, who is undergoing treatment in the Lee County Hospital. There has been little change in Mr. Cox's condition in the past week.

Miss Eloise Brooks of Buie's Creek visited her mother, Mrs. G. W. Brooks, during the week-end.

Poultry School To Be Held in Carthage

Interesting Program is Planned For 7-County Group Meeting On February 19th

Flora McDonald, Home Agent

One of a series of twelve one-day Poultry Schools will be held in Moore County on Monday, February 19th in the Court House. The school will be held for Richmond, Lee, Hoke, Montgomery, Scotland, Randolph and Moore counties.

The Short Course is held for all people interested in poultry. The following program is interesting and educational.

9:45-10:20, "Utilizing our Flocks and Equipment More Fully," C. F. Parrish.

10:20-10:55, "A Breeding Program for All Piedmont North Carolina Farmers," Dr. C. H. Bostian.

10:55-11:30, "Better Feeding and Sanitation as an aid in Controlling Disease," Dr. R. S. Dearstyne.

11:30-12:05, "Modern Methods of Marketing Poultry Products," T. T. Brown.

12:05-1:15, Recess for lunch.

1:15-1:45, Showing Film Strip, C. F. Parrish.

1:45-2:45, Round Table Discussion, led by the Staff.

2:45-3:30, Autopsying Diseased Birds, Dr. R. S. Dearstyne. Demonstration in Grading and Packing Eggs, T. T. Brown. Exhibits and Models, Dr. C. H. Bostian and C. F. Parrish.

There will be an egg show on the side. Every poultry keeper is urged to bring at least one dozen eggs to enter in the show.

This is the first time that the Poultry Short Course has been held in Moore County and I wish to urge the Women, W. H. Club girls and home economic students and teachers to attend.

A DIXIE VIEWPOINT

BY LEONARD ROAN

We have on our desk a copy of the Louisville Courier-Journal, an ardent supporter of President Roosevelt and we see that the strong and influential Kentucky newspaper takes a decided stand against a third term.

So it is that the spirit of Henry Waterson still hovers over the paper he loved and edited for so long. Three reasons are given for opposing a third term for President Roosevelt by the paper whose present editor is Barry Bingham, son of the late Robert Bingham, who was appointed by Roosevelt to the Court of St. James. Briefly they are:

FIRST, it would mean a national campaign of unprecedented bitterness.

SECOND, his re-election would find him the head of an angry and divided country.

THIRD, "the country is bored with arguing about Mr. Roosevelt and the country deserves a rest from it."

Now this is the attitude of a paper that is extremely friendly to the President. But there is a greater and more fundamental reason for the people of America to oppose a third term.

To quote from the Rome (Ga.) News—"It would break a tradition which is inseparably associated with the democratic form of government in the United States, this tradition limiting the term of a President to eight years. To break it would be to open the way for a third, fourth or fifth term and an eventual dictatorship. There is the peril of the proposition."

The Only Man?

So, that it what the son of Robert Bingham thinks. On the other hand two of our present Ambassadors, Kennedy and Davies, say that Mr. Roosevelt is the only man capable of holding the all-important post of President.

The famed Will Rogers used to say: "Well, all I know is what I read in the papers." So let's take a look at a few of our contemporaries.

The "Spectator" who writes for several South Carolina newspapers had this very interesting comment in a recent column:

"Only one competent man in a nation of a hundred and thirty million people! That is appalling. Yale and Harvard, Johns Hopkins and a hundred other universities have labored in vain; and the thousand colleges that stand on every hill—they too, have failed us woefully. It is even worse than that: ten thousand high schools have disappointed the just expectations of the taxpayers. Indeed, the free processes of democracy have not trained a man capable of serving as President so that Mr. Roosevelt may retire to the ease and enjoyment of his magnificent ancestral mansion on the great estate of his mother. No nation should insist that one man shall wear himself out in public service. After all, Mr. Roosevelt, however robust, cannot live forever, so we may as well lay the burden on someone else next year."

That, of course, may sound a bit sarcastic, but we feel that the "Spectator" meant rather to show the absurdity of the contention that only one man is fitted for the Presidency.

Several Good Men

To our own way of thinking there are several good men who could step into the White House and give a most creditable account of themselves—and some of them might not find it necessary to spend quite so much money doing it.

We admit a decided preference to Vice-President Garner, who is an announced candidate. Mr. Garner is a sound, level-headed statesman of the old school who believes in staying within income. If you doubt it look at his own private fortune. He has plenty. And he didn't get it borrowing from Peter to pay Paul.

There is no other candidate in the field whose public and private records can withstand a stern economic scrutiny as can Mr. Garner's.
