FIVE CENTS

TEN HORSES FROM SANDHILLS ENTER RACES AT CAMDEN

Mrs. Hill, Laing, Cashion and Tuke Send Steeplechasers To Carolina Cup

CROWD FROM HERE GOING

The eleventh annual Carolina Cup races at Camden, S. C., tomorrow, Saturday, will have a distinctly Sandhills flavor through the entry of some ten horses which have been in training in Southern Pines throughout the winter season, and it is expected that more than the usual number from here will be at the historic and picturesque Springdale course when the starter lets 'em go for the first event.

There are six races on the Camden card, and there will be one or more entries from here in each. Geoffrey Laing, local trainer, will send the fleet Mansfield Park, owned by Paul G. Daly of New York, to the barrier in the feature Carolina Cup event over timber, and if Mansfield Park proves as he did in the Sandhills Challenge Cup race here he will rate with the favorites. The Daly horse was away out in front when a broken stirrup leather resulted in a lost rider on the last lap, and experts believe he would have run off with the cup which went to Postman Home. "Geoff" has his heart set on winning a Carolina Cup event, a race in which his brother, the late Noel Laing, rode the famed Trouble Maker to glorious victory some years back.

Young Laing is also running Thomas B. Gay's Betty Tour and his Leslie Myer in one of the hurdle events on Saturday's card, and will put A. J. Sackett's Lancashire in the flat race.

Sir Koster To Run

Mrs. George Watts Hill's Sir Koster, second in the $1,000 Croatan Steeplechase over brush at the Sandhills meeting, will carry the Hill colors in one of the brush races, and is reported in the pink of condition.

Arthur McCashion, who has been training here this winter, will run his Proud Marcus over hurdles at Camden, and G. C. Tuke, trainer for Mrs. R. H. Ingalls, is running her Johnny Tight and his own King Cob in hurdle events.

Carleton H. Palmer of New York and Southern Pines will have two or more horses in timber and brush races.

Word came from Camden yesterday of a special match race for a sizeable purse, to start tomorrow's program. Mrs. DuPont Weir's Golden Oak, winner of The Imperial Cup at Aiken last Saturday, will run against F. Ambrose Clark's Bachelor Philip, winner of the same Aiken event in 1939, each horse carrying 140 pounds. As these are considered two of the best hurdle horses in the country, the race will add much excitement to the day's card.

Camden also reported eight entries for the Carolina Cup race over timber, including Faction Fighter, Catraz, Mansfield Park, Home Sweet Home, Postman Home, Gil Blas and Escape, all of which ran in the Sandhills Cup here, and Magic Man, owned by D. P. Cheff of Holland, Michigan.

James Boyd of Southern Pines is on the Carolina Cup Committee and will be one of the Sandhills delegation at the Springdale course Saturday. His brother, Jackson H. Boyd, and Richard Wallach, Jr., racing secretary of the Sandhills association, will be officials at the meeting. A large number from here plan to motor down to Camden Saturday morning. Several luncheon parties will precede the races, and the Carolina Cup Ball will be held at E. G. Fitzgerald's Kirkwood Hotel that evening.

TO MEET TUESDAY

The Women's Missionary Society of the Southern Pines Baptist Church will meet Tuesday, April 2 at 3:00 o'clock at the Jefferson Inn.

Painter, a Success Despite Loss Of Use of Limbs, To Exhibit Here

Earle Bailly, Whose Works Hang in House of Commons and White House, at Pine Needles

An event of unusual interest which residents of the community, members of the winter colony and visiting hotel guests are cordially invited to attend, will be the exhibition of the paintings of Evern Earle Bailly to be held at the Pine Needles Club on Thursday, April 4th from 2:00 to 6:00 in the afternoon.

An artist of distinction, who has had his paintings shown at the Royal British Academy in London, the Philadelphia Art Alliance, Montreal Art Association and Pennsylvania Academy, as well as holding one man shows in Palm Beach, Toronto, Rochester and other leading cities, Mr. Bailly is to be greatly commended because of the tremendous handicaps under which he has achieved success.

Born at Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, he lost the use of feet and hands at the age of three through an attack of infantile paralysis. With undaunted courage and spurred always by the relentless urge to paint, Earle Bailly taught himself the difficult art of creating beautiful pictures by holding his brush between his teeth, and it was not until the summer of 1931 when he had already won some recognition, that he studied under George Pierce Ennis at Eastport.

Win Prizes on Merit

Even if his pictures were the work of an artist who painted in the conventional way they would be pleasing to artist and layment alike, for he manages to capture the poetic lure of the sea, tall-masted ships, wide beaches and rock-bound coast, so typical of his native land. That their merit is not exaggerated by the human interest elicited by their courageous author, is proved by the fact that in many cases the selection was made for outstanding exhibitions by a committee which did not know the origin.

In addition to having his pictures hung in the White House, House of Commons, Royal Bank of Canada and Warm Springs Foundation, many private collectors have one or more of Mr. Bailly's paintings, among them: Leighton McCarthy, K. C. of Toronto; Morris Wilson, president of the Royal Bank of Canada, Montreal; George Matthew Adams, well known American columnist; Hugh Dillman of Palm Beach, and President Roosevelt.

During her visit to the United States and Canada last year Earle Bailly was presented to her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and presented her with an autographed oil to be carried back as a gift for the Princess Elizabeth. The subject of the painting was "Peggy's Cove" a spot in Nova Scotia known as an artist's and writer's paradise.

In addition to his talent as a painter in oils and water colors, Mr. Bailly has a fine baritone voice and has sung in a number of radio programs.

Judge Cowper Presides at Superior Court Term

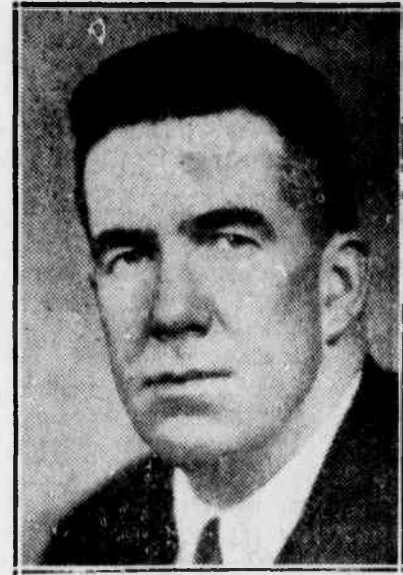

Two Divorces Granted Tuesday. —Case of Jenkins vs. Cole on Trial

A term of Superior Court for the trial of civil cases convened in Carthage Tuesday morning with Judge G. V. Cowper of Kinston presiding.

Verdicts favorable to the plaintiffs were returned in two divorce cases Tuesday morning, Mary Loggins versus Charlie Loggins and Mattie Beal Price versus Raymond F. Price.

At noon Tuesday it was clear that the remainder of the day would be taken up by a land case in which F. C. Jenkins and wife were plaintiffs and Charlie Cole and others the defendants, so it was decided to postpone all cases appearing on the calendar for Tuesday until Thursday so that Monday's and Tuesday's cases could be cleared on Tuesday and Wednesday, no court having been held on Monday.

HUNTER TRIALS AT THE PADDOCK ARE GREAT SUCCESS

Big Crowd Sees Horses Perform Over Picturesque Course in Southern Pines

FOXHOUNDS ON PARADE

A large and enthusiastic crowd witnessed the third annual Southern Pines Hunter Trials held last Saturday afternoon at The Paddock, and saw the pick of fencing horses take the varied jumps typical of the local hunting country without a mishap to mar the occasion. As these trials always are, it was a colorful event, topped by a parade of the Moore County Hounds and the hunt staff.

The Southern Pines Library benefitted from the sale of parking spaces, netting approximately $100.

Long Reach, chestnut mare owned by Boylston A. Tompkins of New York and ridden by his son Tommy won the open hunters class. Idle Chatter, dark chestnut gelding owned and ridden by Jackson H. Boyd of Southern Pines, was second and Bunree-Boy, big chestnut gelding entered by William A. Laing of Amisville, Va., and ridden by Geoffrey Laing was third.

Lady Go Lightly, brown mare from the stables of Mrs. George W. Johnson of Englewood, N. J., with Nick Crotty in the saddle, won the blue ribbon in the class for light-weight working hunters. Virginia Girl, owned by Lloyd Tate of Pinehurst, with Billy Tate up, was second. Moore County, an entry from Mile-a-way Stables of Southern Pines, with Johnny Voss up, came in third.

O'Mariety, big bay gelding owned by William J. Stratton of Southern Pines and ridden by Mrs. Stratton, led a field of eleven and won the blue ribbon in the class for middle-weight working hunters. Mrs. George W. Johnson's roan, Cheerio, with Nick Crotty up, came in for second place, and Persimmon, owned by James Boyd of Southern Pines, with James Boyd, Jr., up was third.

Corbett Alexander of Pinehurst, riding Tramp, set the pace over the picturesque course in the class for hunt teams of three horses. His team comprised Miss Edith Dent of Greenwich, Conn., and Dan Boyd of Southern Pines.

The team taking second place was piloted by Roberta Johnstone of New York, on Windy. In her team were Geoffrey Laing of Southern Pines and Lloyd Tate, Jr. Persimmon, owned by James Boyd and ridden by James Boyd, Jr., led the third place team.

DUKE ENDOWMENT ALLOTS $961,250 TO INSTITUTIONS

Hospitals and Orphans' Homes Granted Aid For Charity Cases

EXPECT $7,000 HERE

A total of $961,250 was appropriated by the Duke Endowment at its trustees' meeting in New York on Tuesday for 120 hospitals and 42 orphans' homes in the two Carolinas. This is the Endowment's annual contribution toward the support of charity cases in these institutions.

No appropriation was made at Tuesday's meeting for the Moore County Hospital. Asked by The Pilot why the local institution was not included, Paul Dana, treasurer of the hospital, said:

"The application of the Moore County Hospital was delayed due to the illness of myself and other officials, and did not reach the trustees in time to be acted upon at Tuesday's session. It will be considered, with others received late, at a subsequent meeting, and it is expected we will be allotted the customary one dollar per day per charity patient some time in April. Our figures indicate the amount should be approximately $7,000 this year."

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Moore County Hospital will be held at the hospital on Tuesday evening, April 9th, at which time officers and directors will be elected for the ensuing year. Dinner will be served at 7:30 o'clock to be followed by the business meeting. George H. Maurice, president, will preside, and annual reports will be read by Treasurer Dana and by Edwin T. McKeithen, business manager.

Kiwanis Hears Golf History and Prospects

Nicoll Thompson Says Game Has Not Scratched Surface in this Country

Nicoll Thompson, of Hamilton, Ontario, who started his connection with the game of golf as a caddy in 1892, and has been prominent in the sport ever since, talked on "Golf Yesterday and Today" at the weekly Sandhills Kiwanis Club meeting on Wednesday at the Southern Pines Country Club. Mr. Thompson says we haven't scratched the surface in the game on this side of the Atlantic as yet. In Great Britain 38 percent of the population play the game; over here only five percent play in Canada, only seven percent in the United States.

He spoke of the part Pinehurst has played in the development of the game in this country, and sang the praises of the courses in Pinehurst and Southern Pines since the establishment of grass greens.

F. P. Tucker, former president of the Albany, N. Y. Kiwanis Club, followed Mr. Thompson on the program and made a very inspirational as well as amusing talk.

PUBLIC MEETING ON THE JAPANESE EMBARGO

All who believe that in continuing to supply Japan with materials essential to its program of aggression in China this country is pursuing a course of action both morally indefensible and contrary to its best interests from a realistic point of view, are invited to attend an open meeting for the discussion of the question and possible action, to be held at the Southern Pines Library Monday, April 1st, at 5:00 p. m.

BAPTIST CHOR TO SING CANTATA, "HAIL REDEEMER"

Complete Re-Registration Of Voters in Moore County Ordered by Election Board

Firemen Busy Aid in Fighting Grass Fires in Aberdeen, Have Two Calls Here

Firemen Busy

The Southern Pines firemen had a busy pre-Easter week-end with every blast of the alarm calling out swarms of spectators. A run to the home of Ben Morgan at Niagara was the opening call. This was followed by an appeal for assistance from Aberdeen whose firemen were fighting the fire at the old McKeithen home at 1:30 o'clock, Friday. There a grass fire starting near the Taylor chemical plant swept the crest of Page Hill, the brisk wind sweeping sparks into wood piles, chicken houses and outlying structures. With the aid of Southern Pines, Pinebluff and Pinehurst firemen these fires were extinguished.

At 11:30 o'clock Saturday morning a grass and brush fire originating in the rear of houses on Orchard Road again called out the department, and at 1:15 o'clock that afternoon another alarm was sounded for a blaze in the roof shingles of the home of M. H. Turner on Massachusetts avenue. Damage by fire and water slight.

The hunter championship went to Sauntering, a bay mare owned by Mrs. Rufus E. Finch of Rumson, N. J., and the $100 stake class for jumpers was won by Six Spot, ably ridden by Sergeant P. V. Pace of Fort Bragg. Pace took Six Spot twice around the difficult jumping course without ticking a fence, though the horse is 16 years old.

Year 1908 Believed Last Time New Books Were Opened For Enrollment

BOARD CHAIRMAN

The Moore County Board of Elections met Saturday in the courthouse in Carthage for the purpose of organizing. John A. Fry was elected chairman and A. S. Ruggles, secretary.

The board ordered a complete re-registration of voters in the county, it appearing that a large majority of the precincts favored this action, and the body adjourned to meet again on April 6 for the appointment of registrars and judges of the election.

When asked how long it had been since Moore county had had a complete re-registration, Mr. Fry expressed the belief that the last one was in 1908, although he was not positive about the matter. Several others were asked the same question, but the inquirer was never able to get the date firmly established. Judge Kowe's memory was not clear on the matter; Ben H. Wood of Vass "was not here that far back;" W. Duncan Matthews was inclined to think that there had not been one since 1908, if then.

Speaking of general registrations called to the Southern Pines lawyer's mind the first year the women were registered. Mr. Matthews, who at that time resided in Vass, was registering there. Two school teachers whom he knew well and their mother came in to register. Knowing that they were well educated he did not ask them if they were able to read.

A fourth woman was standing by and when her time came to register, Mr. Matthews, not knowing anything about her educational attainments, asked her to read from the Constitution.

According to the lawyer's version of the affair, she bawled him out to a fare you well, then pitched in to reading. After the first few words, he told her that that was enough. "I want to see what it says," she replied and continued to read on and on for several minutes, perhaps until she felt that he was properly punished.

"I didn't blame her, though," Mr. Matthews chuckled.

BOY GETS SIX MONTHS FOR LARCENY IN VASS

Luther McKeithen, 17-year-old colored boy of Vass, pleaded guilty in Recorder's Court Saturday to the larceny of $15 from Keith's Service Station in Vass, and was given six months on the roads. While loafing in the station, McKeithen removed three $5 bills from the cash register while the attendant was busy.

John Henry Ingram, colored, of Cameron was given a four months' road sentence on charges of assault and battery and assault with a deadly weapon. Hugh W. Allen alleged that Ingram assaulted him with rocks and struck him in the face with his fists.

$163 REALIZED BY SALE OF Poppies IN SANDHILLS

Sales in Southern Pines totalled $98, and in Pinehurst $65. The proceeds are used to provide comforts for disabled veterans. The poppies are made by the veterans in government hospitals.
