

Service Club Hears Clothing Specialist

Miss Hunter, State College, Is Speaker at Meeting of County Group

Miss Willie N. Hunter, extension clothing specialist of State College, was a guest speaker at an interesting meeting of the Moore County Service Club held Monday evening in the new community building in Carthage with Miss Lillian Flinchum presiding and with 28 of the older youth in attendance.

"Good Grooming" was Miss Hunter's topic and she discussed the important points of color, line and texture in connection with the selection of clothing; posture, and care of the hair and nails. Helpful hints on developing the personality were given and bulletins on grooming were distributed.

Miss Ruby Flinchum gave a glowing report of the older youth conference held at State College, Raleigh, last week, a feature of which was a banquet at which there were representatives from 43 counties and at which Governor Hoey was the chief speaker. Miss Flinchum brought interesting points from talks which she had heard on such subjects as income earning, selection of a life partner, citizenship, and others.

Plans were made for the club to spend a week-end in the mountains of North Carolina this summer.

The Service Club is under the sponsorship of Miss Flora McDonald, home agent.

Wholly Unprepared To Enter War As Belligerent, Says Bailey

Senator Gives The Pilot Inventory of Arms and Men Available in U. S.

The condition of preparedness of the United States is outlined in a statement sent to The Pilot by Senator J. W. Bailey.

In the Air, says the Senator, we have only 2,800 pilots in the Army. We are planning to lift this to 7,000, but the training of pilots will require a great deal of time. We have in the Navy only 2,602 pilots. We are planning to lift this number to 16,000, but this will require a great deal of time.

In the Army, we have only 2,800 airplanes and less than 800 of these are up-to-date. We plan to lift the number to 8,000, but it requires a great deal of time to build a modern fighting airplane. Less than 600 of these 2,800 airplanes are combat planes of fairly modern design, but they are lacking in armament equal to that of the German planes. The Army hopes soon to be receiving forty planes a month of the best type. Over against this, we should bear in mind that Germany today is said to be turning out 3,300 first line planes each month and proposes to step up her production to 6,000 per month.

In the Navy, we have 1,765 airplanes. We are preparing to increase this number to 10,000. Of these 1,765 planes, only 1,367 are adequate for battle and we have ordered only 734 additional.

We are now producing about 450 first class training pursuit and bombing planes per month. The authorities hope that production may be gotten up to 800 a month by January, 1941.

We now have a capacity to produce 8,000 planes of all types per year. It is proposed that we shall increase this capacity to from 30,000 to 50,000 a year, but this will require a great deal of time in the assembling of material expansion of plants and the production of the necessary machine tools, not to mention actual construction. The authorities do not hold out the hope that we can get the production up to 30,000 planes a year within twelve months.

As to the Navy, we have, as the President said, probably the strong-

CHURCHES

"Is The Universe, Including Man, Evolved by Atomic Force?" is the subject of the lesson-sermon at the Christian Science Church Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock. Sunday School convenes at the same hour. "Truer Enemies" will be the theme at The Church of Wide Fellowship next Sunday morning at the 11:00 a. m. Morning Worship hour in a sermon by the pastor Voight O. Taylor.

The subject of the pastor's sermon at the Baptist Church Sunday morning will be "Eyes on the Horizon."

est Navy in the world, but even so, our Navy is sufficient to defend our shores on only one ocean front. It is now in the Pacific and we should be well aware that there may be need for defense in the Pacific at any time as well as in the Atlantic. There are those who think that if we should be engaged in the Atlantic or in Europe, we would be attacked in the Pacific. We are proposing to increase our Navy and the process is going on with the building of battleships, but the building of a battleship usually requires four years and sometimes longer. We will not have a two-ocean Navy within several years.

As for the Army, we have in the regular Army 298,500 men and officers. This is a small Army. It is good as far as it goes, but it is wholly inadequate compared with the size of modern armies now engaged in war. We could not spare 75,000 men for war in Europe.

In addition, we have a National Guard of 251,000 men and officers. The National Guard is a strong organization. We have in the Reserves, men and officers, 192,000.

That is to say, in the Army, the National Guard and the Reserves, we have a total of available fighting force of less than 750,000 men and officers. Compare this with the newspaper statement today that in the German line of battle in France there are two million men.

War Equipment
As for tanks and combat cars, we have only 503. As for anti-aircraft, we have only 463, hardly more than sufficient to defend two cities. It costs from $40,000 to $60,000 to build one anti-aircraft gun. In field artillery, we have only 235 guns. Of anti-tank guns, we have only 228. Of semi-automatic rifles, we have only 40,000.

"The foregoing will indicate that we are totally unprepared to engage in a war at this time," says Senator Bailey. "For those who consider that we might send our civilian sons to Europe, let me say that the rule is that it requires not less than six months of intensive training to make a good soldier of a civilian. In the World War we called for recruits throughout the country, but they were not placed in the battle line until 16 months after we had entered the war. That is to say we entered the war the first week in April, 1917, and our soldiers, other than those in the regular Army, were not engaged in combat until July, 1918. Sixteen months were required to train and equip them, and we never did equip them, but depended upon the Allies.

"If we propose now to send our sons, we should understand that we cannot prepare them for the field of battle within six months, and cannot equip them in less than a year. The foregoing facts speak for themselves.

"I am without reservation for the whole program of National defense including that portion of it intended to get rid of the disloyal element in this country, and of course, including the expansion of industry and plants with a view to producing the guns, the planes, the ships, the tanks and equipment that may be necessary. I do not think it prudent for this country to get into the war as a belligerent. We are utterly unprepared and one may look abroad and see for himself what it means to go into a modern warfare unprepared."

L. D. Williams Elected Commander of Legion

Sandhills Post Has Enthusiastic Meeting.—Three To Attend State Convention

L. D. Williams of Niagara was elected commander of Sandhill Post, American Legion at the annual meeting held last Thursday night in the Legion Hut in Southern Pines. The meeting was a most enthusiastic one, and pledged support to State and national authorities in such work in connection with preparedness and protection as the post may be called upon to do.

Carson Graham and Tom Wilson were elected vice-commanders, L. V. O'Callaghan finance officer and the Rev. A. J. McKelway chaplain. Other officers are to be appointed by the commander. Paul Dana, F. M. Dwight and Mr. Williams were chosen as delegates to the State Legion convention next week in High Point.

Theatre

A skillfully contrived story, expertly directed and brilliantly enacted by a splendid cast, makes "Safari" which stars Douglas Fairbanks, Jr. and Madeleine Carroll, which is the attraction at Pinehurst Sunday night, June 23rd, and at Southern Pines, Monday and Tuesday, June 24 and 25, an outstanding screen effort. Having for its principal locale a West African jungle it offers a deft combination of romance, adventure and comedy.

As visualized on the screen, "Safari" is an intriguing narration which tells of a beautiful but wholly sophisticated woman, played by Madeleine Carroll, who, with her friend Muriel Angelus, is a guest on the luxury yacht of Tullio Carminati, a wealthy Baron bound for West Africa for a hunting expedition. Madeleine is determined to marry Carminati and welcomes the opportunity to arouse his jealousy by becoming deeply interested in Douglas Fairbanks a big game hunter Carminati has hired to lead the expedition.

In his cast selection, the director, has been both fortunate and discerning. Fairbanks fits perfectly into the role of the personable, reckless and, sometimes, swashbuckling Jim Logan. Madeleine Carroll brings artistry and intelligence as well as pulchritude to her portrayal of a frankly designing woman who is yet human enough to abandon her mercenary plans when real love enters her scheme of life.

The attraction for Thursday, Friday and Saturday is the picturization of another of Rachel Crothers' famous stage plays, "The Captain Is A Lady," with Charles Coburn as the Captain and Beulah Bondi as "Old Lady 31," supported by a notable cast including Billie Burke, Helen Broderick, Helen Westley, Marjorie Main Cecil Cunningham, Virginia Gray and Dan Dailey, Jr.

"The Captain Is A Lady" is the tale of an aged sea captain who is admitted to the old ladies' home his wife enters, and becomes the only man in the institution. One of the most elaborate ship thrills in months was staged for a dramatic high-light in this production.

Attention is called to the special showing of that old masterpiece, "Mutiny On The Bounty," for the benefit of the Red Cross fund at the Southern Pines Theatre Wednesday night, June 26th.

CROP DIVERSIFICATION IS MAKING GAIN IN COUNTY

Diversification of crops is making steady progress among farmers on the Farm Security Administration program in Moore county, according to Edward G. Odom, FSA Supervisor at Carthage.

"A study of the farm plans of FSA borrowers shows that much headway is being made on getting away from the old one-crop domination. Tremendous strides have been made in crop diversification, which means that a good start also has been made in the adoption of farm improvement and soil conserving practices, because the two go hand in hand," Mr. Odom stated.

"The FSA, since the beginning of its program in the county, has insisted on production of food for the family and feed for the livestock, and farmers who have come to us for loans are realizing that production of their own food and feed is an important factor in the successful operation of any farm.

"In addition to these subsistence crops, we have encouraged the production of two or more cash crops, and can now report that every farmer on the program in the county will this year have more than one source of cash income from his farm."
