There will be regular services at the Church of Wide Fellowship on next Sunday, August 18, as follows: Morning Worship at 11:00 a. m., with sermon by the pastor; Church School at 9:45 a. m.; Vespers in the Church Garden at 7:00 p. m.

The school will continue through next week and all boys and girls of the community from four through 16 are invited to attend.

The pastor's subject at the Baptist Church for Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock is "Jesus Teaching on Human Responsibility."

Record Cotton Yield

Production Placed at 588,000 Bales for 1940.—Boll Weevil Absent

North Carolina's cotton yield, estimated at 342 pounds, equals the record per acre yield produced in 1911. Boll weevil damage has been almost negligible to date according to the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service of the Department of Agriculture. Weevil damage to date was reported as lower than for any year since 1922 when weevils became a menace to the crop in this state. The severe winter and hot, dry weather have almost completely held weevils in check so far this season.

Production for the state was placed at 588,000 bales for 1940, compared with last year's crop of 457,000 bales. The crop this year is expected to be 29 percent more than 1939 and 52 percent above the short crop produced in 1938 but it is 11 percent less than the 10-year (1929-38) average.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The Vacation Bible School of the Church of Wide Fellowship ends tonight, Friday, with a program for parents and members at 7:30 o'clock. Yesterday afternoon's picnic of the group was held indoors owing to the weather. The school had an enrollment of 70 for its two weeks course.

Theatre

Occasionally a film critic labels a screen production as "fine for the carriage trade," meaning that it will appeal particularly to the patrons who can appreciate and relish a high class production which might go slightly "over the heads" of what is known as "the masses," and "Pride and Prejudice," the attraction at Pinehurst Sunday night, August 18th, at 8:30 and at Southern Pines Monday and Tuesday, August 19, 20, has been so described, which should make it most desirable for our community.

From the best-selling novel of Jane Austen and the Broadway hit of the same name, has been fashioned for the screen an altogether delightful and moving romantic comedy of a mother with five marriageable daughters who was called upon to plot, scheme, and carry on intrigue to see her offspring safely launched on the sea of matrimony.

For the prospective audience of millions who have read and re-read Jane Austen's tale of a lover too proud of his family and a girl prejudiced against class discrimination, there has been added the attractive lure of big marquee names. Mary Boland, as the mother, might well be proud of her brood which includes Greer Garson, Maureen O'Sullivan, Ann Rutherford, Heather Angel and Marsha Hunt. Laurence Olivier is in the male lead and the supporting cast has such distinguished names as Edna May Oliver, Frieda Inescourt, Edmund Gwenn, Karen Morley and many others.

And then—on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 15, 16, 17, with a Saturday matinee, comes another truly "laugh riot," in "I Love You Again," that will go over with a bang with any audience looking for diversion, something that will make them forget these troubled times. It's a picture with the kind of entertainment that made "The Thin Man" so popular and with the same starring duo, William Powell and Myrna Loy. It is strictly comedy screen fare, of the broad variety, with laughs, coming thick and fast, some of them so loud they drown out the dialogue. Both Powell and Miss Loy give their usual fine performances, the kind that made them big selling names and Frank McHugh's characterization is tops.

A preview night audience at the Village Theatre, Westwood, Cal., a situation remote enough from Hollywood not to partake of the latter's publicized idiosyncracies, found this William Powell-Myrna Loy vehicle tremendously to their liking, and evinced the fact with continuous laughter and applause.

Hurricane Drives Local Party From Pawley's

Island Evacuated in Night Time, Sandhillians Go To Conway, S. C.

(Continued from page one) could not see ten feet in front of you. Only by crawling along at a snail's pace and keeping your eyes on the white line in the center of the road were you able to proceed at all. It was nearly 6:00 a. m. when we reached Conway.

"We were ahead of the main body of refugees, apparently, for we were able to get rooms in a hotel, a good hotel, the Grace, where Proprietor K. V. Kirton couldn't do enough for us. We soon had the two children in our party, aged six and eight, back to sleep after the most exciting experience of their lifetimes, and it didn't take the grown-ups long to follow.

Big Day in Conway
 "The wind howled all day Sunday. Conway experienced the biggest day in its history. The warning had gone out all along the line from Charleston to Wilmington for people to leave the beaches, and there was a steady stream of automobiles for hours passing through Conway headed for the inland. Filling stations, restaurants, boarding houses, everything that was open on Sunday was busy caring for the hordes. The Hotel Grace filled up in no time.

"We kept getting reports all day that the worst was yet to come along the coast. People were warned not to attempt to return to the beaches, so we spent Sunday night in Conway. Monday morning we learned by telephone that the storm was spent, that it would be safe to return. We reached Pawley's before lunchtime, to find to our surprise that comparatively little damage had been done. The island had been pretty well under water, one bridge damaged, sand and debris had been washed against and into cottages nearest the beach, a few roofs torn off, and the island reduced in width by some ten feet, but nothing very serious happened. Shovels and brooms removed the accumulation of sand from our porches and the bedrooms in which windows had been left open, and there was still ice in the refrigerator so we hadn't lost the chickens we'd bought for Sunday dinner. We had Sunday dinner Monday.

"One of the first things we inquired about upon our return was whether anyone had stayed on the island through it all. We found that two young men who have a store, Green's Grocery, had stuck it out. We learned they are students in Yale Divinity School."

A large number from the Sandhills shared in the excitement of the hurricane. At Pawley's were Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McKeithen of Aberdeen, Mr. and Mrs. George E. London, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCluer and daughter Jane, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Innes-Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. John Weld, and Mr. and Mrs. Hyle and son Timmy, of Southern Pines, and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Leland McKeithen of Pinehurst. At Myrtle Beach, which suffered less than Pawley's, were Mrs. William Chase Mudgett and Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Page of Southern Pines, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lovering of Jackson Springs; also Mrs. Emily Wilson and her daughter, Emily Mae and G. R. Chatfield of Southern Pines. Miss Ellen Maurice of Eagle Springs owns a cottage at Pawley's Island, but had left before the hurricane. The cottage was not damaged.

On another island, Folly Beach, near Charleston, evacuated during the storm, were Mr. and Mrs. John Leland and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilder of Charleston. Mrs. Leland is the former Emily Richardson of Southern Pines, Mr. Wilder the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Wilder of Aberdeen. They were able to reach the mainland and safety.

WARNING TO BOYS

Small boys who own casting boxes which make soldiers and other toys from moulds have been surreptitiously helping themselves to linotype metal at The Pilot office, it was discovered this week. It may be they do not appreciate the fact that this metal costs 12 cents per pound, but in any event, The Pilot has been forced to report the thefts to the police department.

Pilot Want ads are bringing excellent results.

Today's popularity of Doan's Pills, after many years of world-wide use, surely must be accepted as evidence of satisfactory use. And favorable public opinion supports that of the able physicians who test the value of Doan's under exacting laboratory conditions.

THE TRUTH
 SIMPLY TOLD

These physicians, too, approve every word of advertising you read, the objective of which is only to recommend Doan's Pills as a good diuretic treatment for disorder of the kidney function and for relief of the pain and worry it causes.

If more people were aware of how the kidneys must constantly remove waste that cannot stay in the blood without injury to health, there would be better understanding of why the whole body suffers when kidneys lag, and diuretic medication would be more often employed.

Burning, scanty or too frequent urination sometimes warn of disturbed kidney function. You may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel weak, nervous, all played out.

Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won world-wide acclaim than on something less favorably known. Ask your neighbor!
