DESTINY . . . FOR AMERICA

Reading history . . . hearing the stories handed down to your own family . . . listening on the radio to episodes from our past . . . have you ever wondered why we built this country so fast?

Only a little more than a century and a half since we became a nation! Only 300 years since all there was of it were those few, precarious settlements on the Atlantic seaboard!

And now? We are the greatest nation in the world with power to lead that world, if we ever choose!

Have you ever felt that back of the urge which brought people to this country was something more than personal ambition? A great plan—perhaps—that caught them up in its unfolding so that they were eager to cross the ocean when it was six weeks wide, and dangerous; so that they were determined to go West, generation after generation until there were no more frontiers? Have you ever wondered why women as well as men, were possessed with such a love for land of their own that nothing mattered but gratifying it? Not frugery, not danger, not loneliness.

Have you ever wondered why even the climate of this new world is for the most part more stimulating than that of the old so that men are necessarily active and intolerant of idleness? Have you ever thought that we are set apart between two great oceans or wonder why we have been so inventive and skillful with machinery?

Today, as the old world seems to be destroying itself, the need for a strong, new world, equipped by Nature and her own self-elected people for complete self sufficiency is apparent.

The great role, for which we as a nation have been unconsciously preparing through all of the swift, full years of our history, is not revealed. The part calls for colossal strength, great wisdom, tolerance and hard, persistent work if we are to play it well and realize the destiny which our great past has made possible.

We have the necessary resources. We have the propitious geographical setting, the economic genius and the material development. Those who have gone before us have played their part well . . . but have we the Will, the Unity and the Vision to play this part as it must be played if the world is to go forward in its own development?

Each one of us alive in America today is helping to give the momentous answer!

Champion Driver

THELBERT BOYKIN

Thelbert Boykin of Bailey is motoring to New York with his parents to attempt to turn his skill in driving a car into a scholarship for his college education. Young Boykin, who recently topped all other North Carolina drivers of high school age in the Ford Good Drivers' contest sponsored by Edsel Ford, hopes to major in Agriculture at North Carolina State College on the strength of winning the top $5,000 scholarship to be awarded in the National finals of the contest during the week of August 26th.

Boykin, who was graduated from Bailey High School this year, won his North Carolina title in a contest which included a severe 25-mile road test, an essay of 300 words on the subject, "What I Can Do Personally to Reduce Automobile Accidents," and a written examination of questions based on the book "How To Become A Skilled Driver," written and published for the Ford Good Drivers' League. His victory was cheered by members of the 4-H Club and the Future Farmers of North Carolina. Mr. Boykin is president of both organizations.

Shriners Had Good Time at Outing Here

Official Organ of Oasis Temple Devotes Page To Recent Lakeview Gathering

"Desert Dust," the official publication of Oasis Temple, devoted more than a page of its August number to the Shriners' midsummer outing held at Lakeview a short while ago.

"The good Nobles of Aberdeen, Southern Pines, Pinehurst, Vass, and throughout that vicinity—mostly the members of the Sandhills Shrine Club—had made all the arrangements which were perfect to the minutest detail," the paper states in telling of the visit to the Sandhills.

"Unfortunately 'Doc' Gloma Charles, member of Oasis Patrol and charter member of the Sandhills Shrine Club, a key man, if not 'the' key man, on arrangements—found himself sick-a-bed in the hospital. The good Doc, however, lost no time in turning the bulk of the work over to Noble A. M. Cameron of Vass. And along with Cam we found N. M. McKeithen and John Fiddner of Aberdeen, C. E. Muse of Laurinburg, C. M. Gunn of Sanford, T. O. McEwen of Hamlet, P. K. Kennedy of Carthage and others, all doing a fine job of dishing out that good old frolicsome spirit that goes to making a success of any Shrine gathering. But best of all was the excellent job of registration which was done most efficiently by the charming daughters of Doc Charles and Noble Cameron, Miss Kathryn Charles and Miss Marian Cameron. Registering and 'badging' 300 people is no small job and these beautiful girls were kept so busy, even until a late hour, that we will all have to ask them for a dance on the occasion of our next gathering," said Editor Brockman, in part.

CARTHAGE WATER SUPPLY LOW; LAUNDRIES CUT OFF

Carthage is experiencing a water shortage which has become so acute that laundries there were stopped from using water from the town supply on Monday of this week. Residents of the town were asked several weeks ago to cooperate in conserving the supply by not watering their lawns, and the filling stations were asked not to wash cars. However, plenty is being held in reserve for emergency use in case of fire, it is said.

The town's water supply comes from a reservoir fed by a network of pipes set into a hillside about two miles from town.

Theatre

Please Note: The Tuesday matinees will be resumed with "Lucky Partners," Tuesday, September 3rd at 3:00.

Bracketing two of the screen's top favorites for the first time "Lucky Partners" brings Ronald Coleman and Ginger Rogers to the Pinehurst Theatre Sunday night, September 1st, at 8:30 and to Southern Pines Monday and Tuesday, September 2, 3, with a Tuesday matinee in one of the sprightliest comedy-romance of the season.

Ronald Coleman, in the pink and Ginger Rogers surpassing herself in the field of humor, the picture had its Hollywood preview audience at its fingertips from start to finish. Delightfully charming in every respect, and with plenty of entertainment value for the masses, as well as the classes, bringing Ronald Coleman and Ginger Rogers together has proven a stroke of genius that will make any audience happy. It is a gay, romantic and unique comedy, handled in a sprightly fashion.

The attraction at Southern Pines for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 5, 6, 7, with a Saturday matinee is none other than the new version of the famous "Sea Hawk," which in its silent version in 1924, rode the screens of the nation to a box office record long used as a measuring rod for other productions in an era of mounting grosses.

It is not easy to describe the magnitude of the production, nor to single out any given scene or acting part as excellent, because everything in the picture is excellent. The picture offers action from the first to the final foot; is jammed with entertainment of any type of audience.

Errol Flynn gives a two-fisted performance, the kind that has brought him such popularity. An excellent supporting cast, including Brenda Marshall, Claude Rains, Donald Crisp, Flora Robson and Alan Hale, brings great aid to the thrilling story. Sum total opinion may well be ventured that this picture will be one of the most successful of the year, if not the best winner since "Gone With The Wind."

It is a story full of heroics and combat, of man-to-man conflict, ship-to-ship battle, nations to nation diplomacy, a chronicle of swashbuckling, bravado, guile, chicanery and a deal of romance.

This production is 127 minutes long, which means that it will be preceded only by the News, and patrons are advised to be on time.

Organize County Unit of Forestry Association

J. Hawley Poole, West End, Chosen President of Conservation Group Here

A Moore county unit of the North Carolina Forestry Association was formed at a meeting of citizens from throughout the county in the courthouse at Carthage last Friday night. J. Hawley Poole of West End was elected president and O. U. Alexander of near Carthage was elected secretary.

The association will work for a more equitable tax rate on forest property, an adequate system of statewide forest fire control and an improved plan of timber harvest by selective cutting. The conservation of game resources is another aim of the organization.

Talks were made by Colin G. Spencer of Carthage, president of the North Carolina Forestry Association, and by the State field secretary, William L. Beasley, who maintains an office in Carthage.

RETURNS FROM VACATION

Miss Beas Stuart returned to her office in the courthouse Monday after a two weeks vacation.
