FROM SKI SAILS TO BARBED WIRE

There are sturdy work shoes for men in the 1941 catalog of a mail order house whose name has been a household word for three generations. There are overalls and blankets and cast iron coal ranges. There are wheel barrows and chicken brooders and cartridges—as there have been from the beginning.

But there are vacuum cleaners, too, benefit supper at the Church Tuesday evening a delicious turkey dinner was served. There were 225 people in attendance.

in this book of more than a thousand pages. There are radios, some of them costing as much as $75.00, and ski suits for women, recommended as much for their smartness as for their quality. There are as many pages of cosmetics as there are of wire fencing, which is an old staple, and there are fancy holiday wrappings and sterling silver knives and forks. For a mail order catalog is an accurate reflection of the living habits of America. And America has changed.

In the good old days, when these catalogs first served the people of this sprawling nation, country women paid little attention to fashion and had not time for such nonsense as cold cream and no patience with face powder. They were busy keeping their houses clean without the help of electricity . . . preparing all the food that their families ate including bread in a hot coal range . . . and making clothes for their children if not for themselves and their husbands. There wasn't time and often there wasn't enough money for beautiful things and amusing things.

We hear again and again that the lot of women has been radically changed by modern industry these last few years. But there is nothing like looking through a mail order catalog to realize what some of these changes are.

"Ringfree silk stockings, chiffon or service weight." Imagine these in a mail order catalog in your grandmother's day! "Musical powder boxes." What nonsense! But what fun! Perfume and lipstick and fancy sweet smelling soap as well as cleansing cream and face powder. Blue willow china and smart modern porcelains. Here is a wide range of good looking dishes to choose from. And linen damask and brightly patterned cloth will meet most any woman's taste. And look at the pages of kitchen cabinets! You won't be able to get past these in a hurry or past the pictures and descriptions of modern sinks designed for houses where the water was pulled up from the well once upon a time.

Has woman's lot been changed? Has industry given her a break? Has she leisure and youth and freedom undreamed of even when her mother was young? Look through your newest mail order catalog and you'll find the answer.

The BIGGEST THING YOU CAN DO FOR YOUR BOY

. . . is to equip him for life with a college education. Education will train his mind, develop his natural ability, fit him to grasp opportunity. Its influence will affect his earning power throughout life.

Only 23 out of every 1,000 boys ever graduate from college—usually because there are no funds for the other 977 to continue on. You want your boy to be among the fortunate 23? Investigate the Jefferson Standard Education Plan today—it guarantees that the money will be ready when your boy is ready to go to college.

Week of Activity At Pine Needles Reported

Among Numerous Guests Was Former Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson

Emmett E. Boone, manager of the Pine Needles, had a busy week playing genial host to his many regular seasonal guests, and also those who came to spend the past holiday weekend in the Sandhills.

W. L. Cummings of Greenwich, Conn., entertained a large group of guests at a golfing luncheon in the Pine Needles Club. Among the guests were Louis Johnson, former assistant Secretary of War; Frank Houston, president of the Chemical Bank & Trust Company of New York; E. S. Thompson, president of the American Waterworks and Electric Company, and A. C. Spur, president of the Pennsylvania Electric Company.

Guests arriving during the week included a group of representatives of the Barrett Company of New York.

C. W. Middleton of Knollwood and Greenwich, Conn., also entertained a party of friends as his guests at the hotel. They were J. W. Barnett, Lyon H. Nones and George H. Rock of New York City; W. E. Blewett, Jr., Newport News, Va.; R. S. Campbell, Woodbury, N. J.; Eugene B. Williams, Hyde Park, Boston, Mass. George H. French of Baltimore, Md.; William H. Collins and J. W. Parvell of Quincy, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Warfield of the Wellington in Philadelphia, Pa., made a return visit this week. Mr. and Mrs. Ludvig Aubert of Washington, D. C., are registered for an indefinite stay, and also Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Dondero and Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Sampson, all of New Rochelle, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Cummings of Greenwich, Conn., were on hand at the Knollwood Airport Sunday to meet their son, Wilbur L. Cummings, Jr., who arrived from Greenwich to join his parents for a short stay at the Pine Needles. Mr. Cummings, who has a ranch at Cameron, Mont., flew down from Greenwich in his beautiful Stinson cabin plane, in the short time of three hours and 45 minutes.
