

Dear Julie
 Yesterday a stranger asked me where she could get a Teddy Bear, so I escorted her to TOTS' TOGGERY. Well, it seems that she had a number of small fry friends and got them all presents because she couldn't resist the toys. For a brother and sister about two and three, she bought a circus horse and donkey—they were so real-looking, you could almost hear the calliope. Since she has a daughter in college, she got the most delicious-looking pink flannel suit with elephant buttons down the front.

Local Students Give Bill of Rights Play

Southern Pines high school students heard the practical meaning of the Bill of Rights from a teacher, a lawyer, a preacher and a newspaperman at their assembly program Monday, the 150th anniversary of the first 10 amendments to the constitution.

Appearing in part of a little play presented by the students were Mayor W. Duncan Matthews, the Rev. J. Fred Stimson, pastor of the Baptist Church, D. W. Gamble, teacher at the school, and Carl G. Thompson Jr., editor of The Pilot.

Students participating were Norris Hodgkins, Lloyd Woolley, Carol Thomas, Mary Grey, Newton Baker, Hannah Moger, John McCain, Frank Green, Tom Roberts and Albert Martin.
