Christmas Pageant

The Carthage Presbyterian Young People presented a Christmas pageant, "Peace on Earth," Sunday evening before the young people of the Baptist and Methodist Churches, the parents and many friends, the occasion being the monthly meeting of the Interdenominational group from the three churches.

The scripture, the Christmas Story, was read by Patrick Hill McDonald. Those taking part in the pageant were: The Six Rulers: Misses Cam Willcox, Neely Frances Boing, Betty Jo Blanton, Peggy Wallace, Isabel McDonald, and Betty Jo Webster; Pages: Misses Catherine Cox and Mary Elizabeth Currie, who sang "Good Christian Men, Rejoice"; Misses Helen Strader and Kay Boyette, who sang "Away in a Manger"; Misses Frances Golden, Annie Ruth Strader and Kay Boyette, who sang "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen"; Shepherds: Vernon Cole Kelly, Margaret Gunter, Nancy Blanton, Jean McDonald, and Eleanor Woltz; Wise Men: Charles McDonald, Sonny McCormick, and Epps Wallace; Angels: Misses Jane Tyson and Helen Boyette; Mary, Frances Golden, who sang "Sleep, Holy Babe."

A chorus composed of the Presbyterian Young People sang carols, during the pageant, which closed by the congregation singing "Joy To The World." The pageant was directed by Miss Grace Blue, adult advisor of the Young People, and the music was under the direction of Mrs. Myrton Stewart.

P. T. A. Program

On Monday evening, December 15th, the Carthage Parent-Teacher Association held its meeting in the high school auditorium, with Mrs. H. Lee Thomas presiding. During the business session the following committees gave reports: Miss Mattie Kate Shaw, treasurer; Mrs. Maggie Lee Kelly, luncheon; Mrs. Walter Warford, parent-education; Mrs. Myrton Stewart, grade representatives; and Mrs. E. S. Adams, membership, with 307 paid members.

Mrs. R. Lee Comer was in charge of the program. Mrs. Chas. Barringer conducted the devotional. Earl Barber, Jr., gave a Christmas reading. A two-act play "Children of the Inn" was given by the Dramatic club of the high school under the direction of Miss Catherine Griffin. Those taking part were: H. Lee Thomas, Jr., Elizabeth Ann McDonald, Betty Jo Blanton, Kenneth Flinchum, Mary Frances Willcox, Walter Porter, Jr., Dixon Adams, Frances Golden, Alexander Richardson, Julian Farrar, Johnny Spencer, and Norman Caldwell. Thomas Lancaster was property manager and Jane Tyson, costume manager for the play.

Miss Betty Kennison's room won attendance prize for high school and Miss Mattie Kate Shaw's fifth grade won for the elementary school. The association meets again the 3rd Monday night in January. Fred Greene, of N. C. E. A., will be the guest speaker.

Woman's Club Meeting

The Carthage Junior Woman's Club held its Christmas meeting Tuesday evening at the Carthage Hotel, with Miss Grace Blue, presiding.

Mrs. A. L. Barnes, public welfare chairman, presented plans to the club for the annual Christmas party given by the club for underprivileged children. One hundred children have been invited for the party this year. Stockings will be filled by the club and given each child. The expression class of Mrs. H. Lee Thomas will be in charge of a Christmas program for the party.

January 27 was set as the date for the club's annual banquet. Plans are going forward in the hands of Mrs. J. E. Muse, Jr., Entertainment chairman, and her committee.

Mrs. Eugene Stewart, international relations chairman and program leader, presented Miss Meade Seawell, who read to the club "The White Cliffs of Dover" by Alice Duer Miller.

Delicious refreshments, carrying out the Christmas motif, were served by the Entertainment committee.
