LITTLE AGNES MANN DIED OF SPINAL MENINGITIS

Little Agnes Mann, fifth grade pupil at Vass-Lakeview school, died of spinal meningitis while being taken to Moore County Hospital last Sunday. She had been ill since Friday.

Funeral services were held at Apex Tuesday morning. She was the daughter of Mrs. W. L. Champion of route 3, Carthage, and was popular among her classmates.

Mrs. L. D. Williams of Niagara this week received word that her nephew, Francis Beaton, was among the missing of the tanker, Oregon, crew. He was chief radio operator on the tanker which was reported shelled and sunk on February 28.

Theatre

"Screen poetry" perhaps best describes Walt Disney's Technicolor Feature Triumph, "Fantasia," the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre, Sunday night, March 29th at 8:30 and Monday, March 30th, at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m. The longest run in the history of talking pictures is accorded to it as it went into its second year at the Broadway Theatre, New York, where it has been seen by over a million people. Never before has any motion picture received such acclaim by the leading newspapers of the big cities where it has been shown at $2.20 admissions. Now it has its pre-release showing in the Sandhills at our regular admission prices. Interest in this "milestone movie" is boiling as its fame spreads from the millions who have seen it. Wherever they know movies, they know "Fantasia."

Now it can be told. The strange "inside" story of the motives behind the Pearl Harbor treachery is graphically told in "Secret Agent of Japan," the attraction at Pinehurst, Wednesday, April 1st, at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m. This engrossing and suspenseful drama of espionage and fifth-column activities in Shanghai just before the attack on Pearl Harbor has plenty of entertainment value. Its timeliness and the fact that the picture is one of the first in the field to deal with the subject matter is especially interesting to all Americans.

"The Fleet's In," the attraction at Pinehurst, Friday, April 3rd, at 3:00 and 8:30 p. m., is a completely satisfying musical. It is distinguished by generous portions of fun, a warmly human love story, the last (and some of the best) music written by the late Victor Schertzinger, and the finest trouping to be seen in a long time. Here's screen fare to keep everybody happy. With music by Jimmy Dorsey and his band, romance by Dorothy Lamour and William Holden and comedy by Eddie Bracken and his Gobs, its the salt of entertainment.

At Southern Pines on Monday and Tuesday, March 30, 31, with a Tuesday matinee, the Hardy Family is playing a return engagement in "The Courtship of Andy Hardy," acclaimed as the best of the entire Hardy Family series. Motion picture fans of the "Hardys" are taken on another film trek into the private lives of this typical American family.

If Carole Lombard had had a choice of memorials to leave her devoted public, undoubtedly she would have chosen just the sort of comedy picture "To Be or Not To Be" turns out to be and which is playing a return engagement at Southern Pines, Wednesday and Thursday, April 1, 2, with a Thursday matinee. Her role is one of the best she has ever had, and one in which audiences will be glad to remember her.

"When you work for relatives, everything is relative, relatively speaking." Such is the plot of "This Time for Keeps," the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre, Friday and Saturday, April 3, 4, with a Saturday matinee. Average American family life and the troubles of newlyweds combine to make a merry mixture of comedy, romance and tender human interest in this satire of youthful marriage. Ann Rutherford, Robert Sterling, Guy Kibbee, Irene Rich and Virginia Weidler make up the two interesting families, who are people right out of the average movie audience. An added attraction is the especially interesting number of the March of Time Magazine on "The Argentine Question."

ginia in 1930 and later admitted to the practice in this State about the year 1932. He was a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon and Phi Alpha fraternities.

"On Sunday, Dec. 28, 1941, while engaged in a polo game at Pinehurst, Mr. McCluer met with the tragic accident which resulted in his untimely death. He leaves surviving him his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Rudel McCluer, who was the wife of Mr. McCluer for about two years prior to the accident. The sudden death of Mr. McCluer was a great shock to the entire community where he lived and left in its wake a great pall of sorrow and sadness. He was loved and respected by all who knew him and his passing causes the loss to the Bar of one of its most promising members and the State one of its finest young citizens."

Sea Otter Boats

her hatch covers down, she becomes a sort of surface submarine. The results of the first trials at Orange, Texas, were sufficiently impressive to encourage the Navy to experiment further with the Sea Otter, and test runs were being held at Charleston this week while Mr. Boyd was there.)

All hands interested in the Sea Otter here and throughout the country have been further encouraged by the naming of Commander Hamilton Bryan, original sponsor, as senior member of a board to promote production of the Sea Otter. Bryan's appointment, I learned today, came after a White House conference.

Whatever the outcome, the Sea Otter will now be given a fair trial and those who have handled her appear to be convinced that she represents a unique improvement in design of cargo vessels.
