COURT DISPOSES OF 50 OLD CASES

"Spring Housecleaning" Achieved by Superior Term; Other Cases Minor

Although no civil cases of outstanding interest have been heard in the two weeks' term of Moore County Superior Court now coming to a close, a fine job of "spring housecleaning" has been done, with around 50 old cases being cleared from the docket on Monday of this week, alone.

In some of these, appeals had failed to be perfected, and for this and various other reasons, the cases were retired from the docket.

Three additional divorces were granted, bringing the number for the term to a round dozen. The cases were: Jason Moore versus Ethel Moore; Bertha W. Tyson versus Ralph Tyson; Elvin Hughes versus Elizabeth Fry Hughes.

Other Cases
J. H. Priest versus J. J. Harrington, et al; Plaintiff to take nothing against defendant J. E. Harrington. Southern Desk Company versus Herman B. Meiselman, trading as Morristown Manufacturing Company; this case having been settled by compromise by payment of $120 to plaintiff, it is retired.

Carl Buchan and others versus Bud Ritter and others; Original judgment supplemented to extent that plaintiffs recover a personal judgment against Bud Ritter for the amount as recovered in the original judgment subject to a credit of $75, and that execution be delivered to the sheriff for the sum of $225 with interest from the Sept. 1941 term with accrued costs. It was further ordered that if execution be returned unsatisfied, Ritter is to be committed to jail pending payment or until discharged by law.

The Town of Vass case against a number of citizens, relating to the collection of taxes, was retired from the civil issue docket and transferred to the tax docket.

W. C. Dowd and C. Dowd and R. C. Frye, Sr., versus C. J. McDonald, Sheriff, and Sumpter Casket Company, a branch of Witherspoon Bros. and Co., Inc.; defendant permanently restrained from any proceeding under a certain judgment in regard to any sale thereunder of lands described in a deed from S. R. Hoyle to W. C. Dowd and C. Dowd.

to operate these at the same locations, with no change in personnel, R. A. Stutts and Mr. Hancock retained ownership of the lumber business, but Mr. Taylor is buying and selling lumber and timber independently.

Lumber Truckers, Inc., of which Mr. Taylor was president, a corporation operating a fleet of 28 trucks through ten eastern states from South Carolina through Massachusetts, has also changed hands, this business having been acquired by N. Vick Keith of Vass.

March Temperatures Return To Normal And Spring Comes

In pleasing contrast to the excessive loss in average temperature recorded for the months of March 1940 and 1941; March of 1942, returned to normal. As a result the Sandhills bloomed with the blossoms of peach and pear, the deep rose-purple of the flowers of the long leaf pines and the light pink of the Judas trees. The Junco's disappeared and flights of ruddy-breasted robins came in their place. Wis-taria and dogwood show every promise of an early flowering. The only disappointment of the month was the first day of Spring, with its rainfall of two inches, making a gloomy day for the Steeplechase.

Bright sunshine marked seventeen days of the month, six days were cloudy, eight days partly cloudy, five days with rain, four days with just a trace of rainfall. The total rainfall for the month was 6.14 inches, 2.28 inches more than normal. This marks a surplus in precipitation of .39 inches for the three months of the year.

Fourteen days of the month registered 70 degrees or above, the highest 80 degrees on the 15th. Lowest temperature for the month was 26 degrees recorded on the 1st. The greatest rainfall, 2.14 inches came on the 9th. High winds occurred on the 3rd and 8th. Rain on the second obscured the eclipse of the Moon.
