TEN CENTS

Four Are Injured, One Fatally, When Car, Truck Crash

Robert K. Guin Dies In Hospital After Wreck Near Carthage

Robert Kenneth Guin, 19, was fatally injured and his brother, J. W. Guin, and two companions, Lonnie Bullard and Martin Simpson, all of the Carthage community, were less seriously hurt around three o'clock Monday morning when a car owned and driven by Robert Guin collided head-on with an A. and P. truck on the Carthage-Sanford highway near the State Prison Camp just out of Carthage.

There were no eyewitnesses, but the accident was reported to authorities in Carthage soon after it occurred, by the driver of a Carolina Trailways bus.

The four injured men were rushed to the Moore County Hospital, where Robert Guin was found to have a fractured skull and crushed chest. He died about two hours after being admitted. J. W. Guin suffered a knee injury, but after having it treated was able to return home. Bullard, with a fractured ankle, and Simpson, with injuries to his shoulder and head, are still in the hospital. The driver of the A. & P. truck was not injured, so far as The Pilot has been able to learn, but both vehicles were badly damaged.

Coroner R. G. Frye, Jr., and Sgt. W. B. Kelly of the State Highway Patrol are investigating the cause of the accident.

Funeral services for Robert Guin, son of Dan R. Guin and wife, Ada Baker Guin, were held at Eureka Presbyterian Church on Route 3, Carthage, Tuesday afternoon with the pastor, the Rev. W. S. Golden, in charge. Surviving are the parents; one brother, J. W. Guin; and two sisters, Misses Margaret and Edna Guin, of the home.

Mackall Masons Entertain Locals

Southern Pines Lodge No. 484, AF and AM, were entertained at a dinner in the Masonic Hall Monday evening by the Masons at Camp Mackall as a token of their appreciation of the courtesies extended by the local lodge during the past three years.

Seventy-five attended in which group nine grand jurisdictions (or nine states) and 18 lodges in the United States were represented.

Highlight of the evening was the beginning when halves of fried chicken, mashed potatoes, green peas, sliced tomatoes and lettuce, celery, ice cream and peaches, hot rolls, butter, and coffee were served in quantity and of a quality to tempt even the most finicky gourmet. The Southern Pines Masons took their hats off to M/Sgt. M. F. Webb, mess steward at the Camp Mackall Station hospital, who was in charge of preparation and service of food.

Following the dinner, Lloyd Woolley, Secretary of the Lodge and acting toastmaster, called on Colonel Allen W. Dawson, Post Surgeon, who told of his experiences in the regular army following World War I. He received his degree in Masonry with the combat army of occupation in Coblenz, Germany, where a lodge was chartered by the Grand Lodge of Rhode Island. The lodge continues today for servicemen and veterans.

DOG DAYS

Dogs that have been confined to their premises since last March under the dog quarantine put into effect in March because of the prevalence of rabies may now resume their regular travel schedules, provided their masters approve, for Dr. J. W. Willcox, county health officer, this week announces the lifting of the ban.

Dr. Willcox expresses appreciation of the cooperation of the people of the county in this emergency. Records show that around 800 more dogs were vaccinated in Moore County this year than last.

ANY MAGS TODAY?

An SOS for used magazines, to be distributed by the County Librarian as she makes her rounds, has come from the Moore County Librarian.

Picture magazines, women's magazines, even the children's cast off comic books are in demand for use in homes where magazines are a rarity. So when you gather up your scrap paper, stack your magazines in a pile and drop them off at the local library whenever you're passing by.

L. B. McDonald, Jr. Home from Pacific

Lyle B. McDonald, Jr., PH 1c, veteran of two years in the Pacific, arrived at the Raleigh airport late Wednesday night where he was met by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. McDonald, and brought to Southern Pines.

This was the first time "Buddy" (as most folks in Southern Pines call him) had been home in over two years with the exception of a few days spent here in May. He will spend a 20-day leave with his family here before returning to Norfolk, Va., where he has been transferred to the 15th Naval District Headquarters.

During his months in the Pacific, "Buddy" has received two silver stars, four bronze stars, the Navy Good Conduct Medal, and the following ribbons: American Theater of War, Asiatic Pacific Theater of War, and the Philippine Liberation Bar.

Scott Gray of Raleigh, an old friend of "Buddy's", who was recently liberated from a German POW camp, returned to Southern Pines with the McDonalds to spend several days.

Men Over 26 Not To Be Inducted

In compliance with the instructions of President Truman that men over 26 years of age not be called for induction or preinduction examination, the Moore County Draft Board will fill this month's call with men who are not in the 26-or-over age group, it was announced this week.

Notices have been mailed out to those in the younger age group. A. L. Burney, chairman of the Moore County Draft Board, emphasizes that all youths must continue to register with the draft board on the day they reach their 18th year.

Workshop Type of Meeting Will Be Held By Teachers

Tried Last Year In County, It Proved Popular; 10 Planned

The workshop type of teachers' meeting, which was introduced into Moore County last year and which proved quite popular, will be continued this year. Ten workshops have been planned, the first to be held September 24 and the final one on November 26. Dr. H. A. Perry of the State Department of Public Instruction will be in charge of the overall program for the workshops, and only one subject will be taken up at a meeting. Attendance will be voluntary.

The first workshop will be held in the Carthage gymnasium at 8:00 o'clock on Monday evening, September 24, following a seven o'clock county-wide teachers' meeting in the high school auditorium. The program will consist of a lecture and demonstration on art, with Lloyd George of Roanoke, Va., art specialist, in charge.

County Superintendent H. Lee Thomas is making plans to have specialists to lead all of the meetings, which will be on different subjects of especial interest to the teachers, and which will be held in different schools of the county.

A tentative list of the leaders whom Mr. Thomas hopes to bring to the county and their subjects is as follows: Miss Hattie Parrott, assistant in the division of instructional service of the State Department, language-arts; Dr. Earl H. Hartsell, of the English Department, University of North Carolina, Raleigh; Charles E. Spencer, Raleigh, and O. R. Cornwell, Chapel Hill, health and physical education; Mrs. Mary P. Douglas of the State Department, library and children's literature; Miss Bertie Holloway, WCUNC, Greensboro, music; Dr. W. A. Brownell, Duke University, mathematics; Miss Julia Witherington, State Department, science; Dr. S. H. Hobbs and Dr. John Ivey, both of the University of North Carolina, social studies; Mrs. Reid, a demonstrator for the Zaner-Bloser Company of Columbus, Ohio, handwriting. The leader of a reading workshop is to be announced.

Carolinas Have Full Horse Show Schedule

Second on the full program of eight horse shows, scheduled in the Carolinas for the next three months, is the York County event to be held at Rock Hill on Wednesday, August 29.

The Newton horse show led off this season's events last week. Following the Rock Hill exhibit will be the Raleigh display, August 30-September 1, and the big Sedgfield show September 13-15 at Greensboro-High Point. The Statesville show is set for September 21-22; Mooresville show, September 28-29; and the Robeson county event October 5-6 at Lumberton.

The horse show program for 1945 has been a very active one in the Carolinas in spite of restricted transportation which was relieved recently by the release on gas.

School Heads to Meet in Carthage Wednesday

Representatives from the State Department of Education will conduct a meeting of all principals and superintendents in the county in Carthage at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Aug. 29.

The purpose of the meeting is to announce promotions and discuss routine school business regarding the opening of county schools on August 30, and city schools in Southern Pines, September 5, and in Pinehurst, September 4.

CAVINESS INJURES HAND

Wesley Caviness of Carthage, who is working as a photographer in Rocky Mount, was the victim of a painful accident Wednesday when he jabbed an ice pick into his finger. He immediately received tetanus shots and is now recovering at his home in Carthage.

VICTORY LOAN

The Eighth and final war loan, which will be a "Victory" drive, probably will have a goal of $12,000,000,000, and begin on October 29, according to tentative plans agreed upon at a conference of State War Bond chairmen and Treasury officials, including Secretary Vinson, held in Washington Saturday. Two billion dollars lower than the Seventh goal, the Eighth will include five billion in individual purchases, two billion in "E" bonds will be requested.

Alcohol Sedative, No Stimulant, Says Kiwanis Speaker

Dr. Leon Coach, executive secretary of the Durham Methodist Society of Durham, made an interesting address to the Sandhills Kiwanis Club at its luncheon Wednesday at the Holly Inn in Pinehurst, on the subject, "The Approach To The Alcoholic Problem."

Dr. Coach, secretary of the Alcoholic Anonymous Group, has recently made a study of the subject at Yale University. He pointed out the University had appropriated the sum of $100,000 for the study of alcohol and its effect in various stages on the human being. He explained alcohol is the best sedative there is and it is found not to be a stimulant.

He said that at Yale the group had the benefits of lectures given by men from various walks of life such as judges, attorneys, business men, ministers, and brewerymen, in order that they might approach the subject from its various angles.

The speaker was introduced by John Ruggles, chairman of the Program Committee.

Preceding the address, President Burney read a telegram from Hamilton Holt, president of the Kiwanis International, pledging the cooperation of Kiwanis International in directing the peace.

Paul Jernigan read a victory message from President Holt.

Scarce Item List Shrinking Rapidly

Good news about new tires, nylon stockings, and new radios comes to the ears of an eagerly-waiting public in announcements made this week by government officials.

Careful not to mention the end of rationing, the officials did say that motorists might get a break on tires within 90 days, predicting that production might jump 100 per cent within the next three months.

No doubt this will hasten Governor Cherrý's action in raising the wartime speed limit of 35 miles per hour to its pre-war limit of 60 miles per hour. Immediately after Victory was announced the governor said he expected the limit would be upped "sometime before Christmas."

Nylons may be available by Thanksgiving, or by Christmas at least, the announcement read, since the government has turned loose its controls on nylon and rayon.

WPB says that 3 1-2 million radios may be on store shelves by Christmas too because there's been an 80 per cent cut in military orders for radar and radios.

Of interest to Southern Pines landlords is the announcement that rent ceilings are expected to disappear in areas where army camps close or war plants shut down.

Verifying Agriculture Secretary Anderson's statement that meat rationing would soon end, OPA indicated meat points would be reduced beginning in September.

First Anniversary

Harold A. McNeill and Bryan Poe, operators of the Texaco Service Station on West Broad Street, are this week celebrating the first anniversary of their business venture, and they are very appreciative of the splendid response of the public which has made the year a successful one for them.

Boastful Negress Guilty in Knife-Chopping Scuffle

Indignant Wives Apply First-Aid To Roving-eyed Widow

A lively session of the Moore County Recorder's Court took place Monday morning at Carthage when Georgana Allmond (Negro) 44-year old "grass-widow", was adjudged guilty of assault with deadly weapon on a high-waiver near Robbins.

The defendant was charged with knifing her two companions as the trio was coming home one evening from a carnival near Robbins.

Georgana, who was married several years ago but is not living with her husband, was said to have boasted brazenly of "running around" with the other two women's spouses, which nettled the wives no little. They grew so indignant that a moment later they were applying "first aid" to Georgana, who finally beat them off with a few whacks of the knife.

The husbands were noticeably absent at the trial, but both prosecuting witnesses testified. After the insistent pleadings of the defense attorney that Georgana had not taken the offensive but was merely defending herself, Judge J. Vance Rowe sentenced the defendant to 90 days in jail, suspended upon payment of costs and good behavior.

Criminal Court at Carthage Scores Brevity Record

The August term of Moore County Superior Court for the trial of criminal cases scored a record for brevity last week by convening on Monday morning and adjourning at noon Tuesday. Judge J. H. Clement presided.

Two colored boys, Jesse Robinson of Asheville and Henry Cox of Wilson, were given two years on the roads for breaking and entering a business house in Aberdeen.

Mary Evelyn Garner of Robbins, found guilty of breaking and entering, was sentenced to serve 18 months in State Prison. Several cases were continued, several nolo prods. judgements were recorded, and the following were found not guilty of the charges specified: Taft Cameron, careless, reckless driving; Herbert Harrington, abandonment.

S. W. Moxley, Robbins chief of police, was found guilty of assaulting a man named Williamson, whom he arrested, and was taxed with the costs. He gave notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.

Several divorce cases were heard and judgments favorable to the plaintiffs were recorded in the following: D. A. Hannon vs. Maxine Hannon, Mrs. Emma Lloyd vs. I. M. Lloyd, Ethel Connelly Mann vs. Frank Ballard Lockwood, E. L. Tart vs. Thelma Tart, T. E. Bass vs. Inez Bass. The case of Elijah Wood vs. Robena Bolton Wood was continued to next month. The marriage of Richard R. Williamson and Inez Halthcock Williamson was annulled, in an action brought by the plaintiff's next friend, Kermit B. Williamson.

Day of Prayer Is Observed Quietly

A quiet day was last Sunday as Southern Pines, like all cities, towns and villages the nation over, observed World Day of Prayer on the first peace-time Sunday in almost four years.

The Church of Wide Fellowship was the only church that announced a special Victory service, but peace after war was the theme of every sermon preached from the pulpit. The Baptist Church had already held a Victory service on Tuesday night of the preceding week, the night President Truman made the peace official.

There were prayers, familiar hymns, and Bible lessons, as the entire nation pronounced a litany of thanksgiving.

Warehouse Operators Get Ready for Sales To Begin Sept. 11th

Tobacco Is Good in Middle Belt and the Outlook Is Excellent

TIME TO START SHOPPING FOR OVERSEAS GIFT

"Its time to start getting those overseas Christmas packages ready for mailing," Postmaster Frank Buchan says, reminding that all packages, transoceanic-bound, must be mailed between September 15 and October 15 if they're to reach their destination before Christmas.

Regulations which insure the safe arrival of packages overseas are pretty much the same as last year, according to Mr. Buchan, but with so many Americans stationed in the far-off Pacific, he advises mailing packages to that area before October 1 in view of the distance involved.

During "Christmas-mailing" months, requests from addressees are not required, but patrons should plainly write on each box "Christmas parcel." Christmas cards may be mailed at any time, but should be posted before November 15, if they are to have a reasonable expectation of delivery before Christmas.

Christmas parcels should not exceed five pounds in weight or 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. Not more than one package may be mailed in one week by the same person to the same addressee.

Boxes must be sturdier than those used for packages that do not leave our shores, and each must be tied securely with strong cord. Sealing the boxes with gummed tape strengthens them, but is not satisfactory since the tape loosens when the boxes are exposed to a moist atmosphere.

Perishable matter will not be accepted, nor intoxicants, matches, lighter fluid, poisons, or the like. Addressees must be legible, in typewriting or ink, and postage must be fully paid. Valuable papers and small articles of intrinsic value are the only packages that may be insured.

Postmaster Buchan recommends the use of postal money orders to transmit gifts of money to members of the armed forces outside the Continental United States.

Welfare Department Gives July Figures

Federal and State funds for old age assistance and aid to dependent children received in Moore County for the month of July amounted to $4,756, which was supplemented by $1,272.78 from the county, the Welfare Department has disclosed.

This amount made 285 aged persons partially self-supported and enabled 87 dependent families to be independent, with the mothers able to remain in the homes with their children. The average grant per aged person was $11.62, and the average assistance per dependent family was $31.79.

"In helping the underprivileged, we are raising the standard of our county and community," commented Miss Pauline Covington, superintendent of the Moore County Welfare Department.

No Hustle For Point-Free Goods

Sane and orderly buying characterized the first week of lifting of rationing of canned vegetables and fruits; local grocers reported yesterday. More canned fruit than vegetables were purchased, but no general rush of buying on the part of the public was made.

Grocers here predicted that purchasing would likely follow the same course, but one dealer suggested that one of the reasons was that housewives were beginning to consume pantry stocks which have been built up from victory gardens since rationing has been in effect.

WAC ON LEAVE

WAC Catherine Willcox of Greensboro is spending this week with her father, John Willcox, in Carthage.

Tobacco markets in the Middle Belt, in which Carthage, Aberdeen and Sanford are located, will open for the sale of the golden weed on September 11, and the outlook is bright as the crop this year is good.

Although laborers have been scarce, women and children have rallied to the aid of their menfolk even in the actual curing, and many high school girls and boys from the towns have assisted in gathering and getting the tobacco ready for the barns. Farm families have exchanged work with their neighbors, and now they are rejoicing that the long hard nights of curing are about ended.

While sales will not begin in the Middle Belt until Tuesday, the 11th, warehouses will open to receive tobacco on September 7, and Moore County warehousemen are getting ready to handle an unprecedented volume, giving special consideration to the convenience of the farmers.

In Carthage the two warehouses are undergoing great improvement.

George D. Carter and Sons, operators of the McConnell Warehouse, one of the old established warehouses of the State, have doubled their floor space and made an entrance at the new end of the building, where a wide lot extending across an entire block has been cleared in order to give plenty of space for vehicles. This is a convenience that will be especially appreciated, as at this entrance there is no railroad to cross in approaching the warehouse, as at the old one. New baskets and other equipment have been added.

The warehouse of Smothers Brothers and Hobgood is at present a scene of great activity, with a large crew of workmen engaged in adding 18,000 square feet of floor space to the 12,000 in use before, to bring the total to 30,000 square feet. Mr. Hobgood, who is on the scene told a Pilot representative Wednesday (Continued on Page 8)

Knollwood Field May Turn Civilian

Proposals for the operation of Knollwood Field will be received by the Knollwood Airport Committee any time before 10 a. m., Friday, August 31, according to an announcement from the committee this week.

All proposals should be filed with Howard F. Burns at the office of City Clerk here, or presented at the Committee's hearing to be held in the Carthage Courthouse Friday morning August 31.

The Army is expected to release the field in the near future, and plans are underway to have the field in operation for the coming season.

Morning Mail Leaves Half Hour Earlier

Those who want their letters to make the morning outgoing mail have to rise a half hour earlier according to a notice posted near the letter drop in the Southern Pines Post Office.

Instead of going out at 10 a. m., the mail is collected at 9:30, which procedure was inaugurated last Sunday. The change was made necessary by a change in the timetable of the morning mail trains.

KEEP SCRAPPING

No, you can't get rid of that stack of scrap paper until next week unless you want to tote it down to the garage back of the Sandhill Drug Company yourself. Paul Butler, chairman of the local Salvage Committee, says no collection can be made before next week, the time to be announced in next week's Pilot. So be patient, and keep saving paper for Uncle Sam does want all the scrap paper you can scrape together.
