Mrs. Rockham Dies In Detroit

Mrs. Mary A. Rockham, 82, widow of Horace H. Rockham, founder of many educational and civic projects throughout Michigan, died Tuesday, July 22, at her Detroit residence after a long illness.

For many years Mr. and Mrs. Rockham had been among the prominent residents of the winter colony at Pinehurst, where they owned a home. Mr. Rockham died in 1933.

Among outstanding Rockham philanthropies were the Rockham Memorial building at Detroit; the Detroit Zoological Park foundation, the Fenton Community house and the Horace H. Rockham School of Graduate Studies at the University of Michigan. The university has received more than $10,000,000 in Rockham gifts.

Mr. Rockham, as a young attorney drew up incorporation papers for the Ford Motor company and made a $5,000 investment. These shares later sold for $12,500,000. The Rockhams used their financial success to devote their lives to aiding church, charitable and educational projects.

Mrs. Rockham, daughter of Col. Dexter Horton and Lavina Horton of Fenton, O., married Horace Rockham in 1888.

Her wide interests are shown by organizations in which she held membership, many of them charter or honorary memberships: the Detroit Golf club and the Silver Foils of Pinehurst, the Engineering Society of Detroit, the Ingleside club, Women's City club and Parmen's club of Detroit, and many others.

She was a member of the Christian Science church.

Funeral services were held from the residence Friday with burial in Evergreen cemetery, Detroit. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Mabel Patterson of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and Mrs. C. L. Bussey, of Detroit, also several nieces and nephews.

Carthage Water Is At Low Level

The Carthage water system is suffering from the recent prolonged dry spell, and Carthage citizens have been asked not to wash their cars during this week and possibly next.

While precautions are being taken there is believed to be no cause for alarm, said Mayor W. D. Sabiston.

This is the first time in four or five years the supply has been lowered to this extent, and it is expected to be at normal again within a short time.

While rain has been plentiful in the south end of the county during the past couple of weeks, there has been very little in the north end from which the springs supplying Carthage are fed. In some sections the drought has continued since early May.
