Sanatorium Employees Rescue Injured Men

Quick action on the part of staff members at the N. C. Sanatorium probably saved the lives of William Lentz and John Thomas Walters, both of Raeford, who are in a critical condition at the Moore County hospital following an accident Saturday evening on Highway 1.

Returning home from the Duke-Carolina game Saturday about 8:30 p. m., the men lost control of their car near Sanatorium in the rain and fog and skidded into a tree, smashing the car badly and setting it afire. A patient at the Sanatorium heard the crash and sounded the alarm. E. B. Satterwhite, postmaster, and Robert Perry, chief engineer, who lived nearby, were first on the scene, and with fire extinguishers and their hands put out the flames sufficiently to drag the unconscious men to safety.

Dr. Meredith Johnson and Dr. William Byrd gave emergency treatment, and the men were wrapped in blankets and taken on stretchers into the Sanatorium, where an ambulance was called from Southern Pines. Dr. Johnson accompanied them to the Moore County hospital.

NAME OMITTED

In the Sandhills Kiwanis history in The Pilot's Resort issue last week, a name was omitted through error in the list of past presidents. This was P. T. Kelsey, who served in 1941 until an illness caused his resignation. He was succeeded by I. C. Sledge.

MRS. WALTER T. IVES

Mrs. Walter T. Ives died Wednesday night at Miss Chase's Convalescent home, where she had been a patient for more than two years, following a long period of declining health.

She was a native of New York, and she and Mr. Ives made their home in Montreal, Canada, before moving to Southern Pines some 15 years ago. Her husband is her only immediate survivor.

Funeral services will be held at Patterson's funeral home Sunday at 3 p. m.

Burwell Reports On Airline Hearings

L. C. Burwell, Jr., president of Resort Airlines, met with directors of the company in Charlotte Wednesday and reported on the fight to obtain a franchise from the Civil Aeronautics board for operating a network of vacation air routes.

Burwell predicted that the hearings, which began October 29, will be ended within a week or 10 days. Some 14 air lines are opposing the application. He explained that, after the hearings, a date will be set for all parties to file briefs. An examiner's report will follow and appeals from this report may be filed, with subsequent arguments before the CAB. A final decision in the matter, Mr. Burwell believed, may be expected early next summer.

The directors plan another meeting in December on a date yet to be announced. Charlotte members of this board are Dr. Paul W. Sanger, J. Chad Bolles, William H. Barnhardt, James J. Harris, Frank O. Sherrill and A. R. Davis.

C OF C SECRETARY

(Continued from Page 1) the duties involved. Applications for the position will be invited, and the entire board was named a committee for seeking and finding a man to fit the job.

Jerry Thompson, Jr., a high school senior, was appointed interim secretary, to keep the building open and perform essential duties until an executive can be secured.

Parkway Planting

Promotion of the planting of Italian rye grass on all parkways was accepted by the directors as a Chamber of Commerce project, on suggestion from the town board, presented by Chairman Ruggles.

The town plants Italian rye grass only on Broad and Ashe Street parkways, through its street beautification program, but the board suggested that work needed to be done on other streets of the town, with particular attention to Massachusetts avenue.

The Chamber of Commerce will inaugurate a campaign immediately to have planting and clean-up work done by property owners, and where facilities for such beautification are needed, plans arrangements to provide them.

IN BRIEF

Mrs. Duncan Matthews had as guests over Thanksgiving Mr. and Mrs. Warren D. Matthews and children, of Fayetteville, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Fullenwider, of Chapel Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Vanderveer, of St. Petersburg, Fla., formerly of Beaufort, have been visiting Mr. Vanderveer's mother at her apartment in the Resthaven. They left Sunday to return to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Atkinson and little Sally, with Mrs. R. E. Patterson and Miss Marie Adams of Vass were guests of Capt. Sarah Patterson of General Hospital No. 2, Fort Bragg, for Thanksgiving dinner. Captain Patterson is the daughter of Mrs. R. E. Patterson and Mrs. J. W. Atkinson's niece.

First proximity-fuzed anti-aircraft to destroy a Japanese plane was fired from the cruiser USS Helena on January 5, 1945.

POLIO MEETING

Held By State Director

The meeting of Sandhills chapter and campaign representatives was held at the instance of Mrs. Phillips Russell, state organizational director, to review the past year's work, preview future responsibilities and plan for the January March of Dimes campaign. It was one of a series being held throughout the state.

Attending were Mrs. Russell, Mrs. McMillan; Philip S. Randolph, Chapel Hill, state representative of the Foundation; Isaac S. Dondon and A. G. Corpening, of Rockingham, chairman and treasurer of the Richmond County chapter; J. A. Overton, Lee County chapter chairman; Maj. W. W. Hague, representing Fort Bragg, and Mrs. Hague.

From Moore county were Paul C. Butler, Southern Pines chapter chairman; H. Clifton Blue, Aberdeen, campaign chairman; Norris L. Hodgkins, Southern Pines, chapter treasurer; Mrs. Hodgkins, secretary; Howard Sumerford, Robbins, and Dr. J. W. Willcox, chapter directors; Mrs. Worth McLeod, county welfare worker; Mrs. Eldon S. Adams, Carthage, women's division chairman, with Mr. Adams; Mrs. Valerie Nicholson, campaign publicity; Edward Cox, radio promotion.

Quotas Are Set

Quotas "higher than last year's but less than was actually given" were set by Mrs. Russell, for the Sandhills counties, as follows: Moore, $3,680; Lee, $2,800; Hoke, $1,400; Richmond, $4,600; Cumberland, $8,850; Robeson, $7,600; Scotland, $2,300.

H. Clifton Blue, as acting chairman during the first part of the meeting, conducted a round table introduction. A movie portraying both treatment methods and research work was presented by Paul C. Butler, with Jerry Thompson, Jr., as projectionist.

cilian campaign, then with his unit was returned to England before transfer to the "Fighting First" which swept gloriously across the face of Europe, only once coming close to defeat, in the fateful Battle of the Bulge.

Surviving this ordeal, the young soldier fell in one of the war's last battles.

Survivors

At his death he was survived by both parents. His father, however, died in July, 1946. Besides his mother, immediate survivors now include three brothers, J. B. McFarland of Southern Pines, L. A. McFarland of Washington, D. C., and M. H. McFarland, of Sanford; and three sisters, Mrs. "Doc" McRae and Mrs. Morris B. Arnold of Southern Pines, and Mrs. Myrtle Thomas of Oaklawn, Ill.

Corporal McFarland was a native of Lee county. The family moved here in 1939.

CHANGES AT WSTS

Visitors Welcomed

Concerning the formal opening, Long said it would be scheduled shortly, and an invitation extended the listening public to visit the studios at that time and get acquainted. "While the opening will be a special occasion, a welcome is extended to visitors at any and all times," he said.

Long, a native of Asheville, attended both the University of Missouri and the University of Tennessee, graduating from the latter institution and taking many courses in radio at both. Following graduation he went to WROL at Knoxville, returning there after his army service, during which he piloted an A-20 bomber plane in the Gulf Coast and Central American Command. He was discharged as a first Lieutenant in April, 1944. He is married to the former Barbara Quick of Sanford, who was also formerly employed at WROL, and they have a six-months-old daughter, Diane Ellen. They are living at 235 West New Hampshire avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey and Mr. and Mrs. Brazzell have also been successful in finding homes here since their arrival last week.

WSTS, owned by the Sandhills Broadcasting corporation went on the air August 4 as a 250-watt station with a frequency of 990.

CHRISTMAS SEALS

Letter Reprinted

A letter prepared by the Southern Pines branch of the Moore County Tuberculosis association, sent out with each lot of seals, presents the appeal effectively, with a preview of 1948 plans.

Printed at The Pilot during an extremely busy time (in the midst of last week's Resort Issue) it missed being proofread, and some typographical errors cropped up.

The Pilot is happy to make amends, and also to further a cause to which it heartily subscribes, by reprinting the letter in full.

Dear Friends:—

Your generous response to our appeal in the past convinces us of your approval of the efforts being put forth to combat the inroads of Tuberculosis in our County and especially in Southern Pines.

The current year has produced two active cases as compared with '46 during which not one case developed. However, there is some comfort in the knowledge that neither of these cases had its origin here, fortunately both cases were discovered promptly. Again "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty" from this fearful disease.

This committee has arranged for a motorized fluoroscope to visit Southern Pines when every child and adult in our two schools, east and west, will be examined free by doctors who are specialists. At that time all our citizens will be urged to take advantage of this valuable opportunity.

The enclosed Seals are $1.00 per sheet. Please use them generously that the necessary preventive measures and the watchfulness required and assistance of active cases may continue. Remember 75 per cent of every dollar given is spent for Tuberculosis control in Moore County.

You will be pleased to note your committee is to have the help of Mrs. McCain with all her knowledge as to the work in which we are engaged.

Very sincerely,

Moore County Tuberculosis Ass'n. Southern Pines Branch

Introducing . . .
The American Informal

A New Style in Furniture—For the way we live today. The day when most people spent most of their lives in one house on the same street in the same town has given way to today's patterns of change. . . across the continent or across the world, from city to country, from apartment to house, or vice versa.

Today's furniture must be planned for more than one purpose. . . or place. . . or space. American Informal fills the need, it is flexible furniture. . . for whatever comes. If today you have American Informal in your dining room and living room, and next year you decide to build a house with a living-dining room, every piece will find its place in the new scheme of things.

Because all furniture is an investment . . . and one you don't make lightly. . . you want to be sure and see the very newest in furniture, American Informal by Tomlinson.
