W. E. Gladstone Speaks To Vass Woman's Club

W. E. Gladstone, head of the vocational agriculture department of Vass-Lakeview school and of the work with G. I.'s in this section, made an interesting talk on "The Veterans' Agricultural Program and the Community" at the monthly meeting of the Vass Woman's Club, held Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Frank Jeffreys with Mrs. Charles Gschwind and Mrs. G. W. Griffin as additional members of the hostess group.

The Citizenship department, of which Mrs. Edwin Finch is chairman, was in charge of the program, and Mrs. G. W. Brooks introduced the speaker.

Mr. Gladstone told of the work of his G. I. students, and mentioned some of the practical results being obtained by the practice of improved farming methods and farming according to a yearly plan. A question and answer period followed his talk.

Mrs. Finch spoke briefly, and Mrs. S. R. Smith gave a news summary, based on the North Carolina Clubwoman.

Mrs. N. N. McLean presided over the business session, during which plans for holding a flower exchange at the home of Mrs. H. C. Callahan on Wednesday, October 13, at 4 p. m., were completed. Plans for attending the district meeting were also discussed.

Mrs. W. E. Gladstone distributed the club's new year books, which she was in charge of making, and they were highly praised. The book is dedicated to Mrs. W. J. Cameron, the eldest charter member, in these words: "To our beloved 'Aunt Sue,' Mrs. W. J. Cameron, a charter member whose example of real goodness and sweet Christian character has ever inspired us to greater thoughts and deeds; whose loyalty to and continued interest in the Club that she loves have served as incentives to make us better club members; and whose wise counsel has guided us to the path which leads only to the righteous and good, we lovingly and loyally dedicate this our Year Book."

During the social hour an automobile contest was enjoyed. Perfect score were turned in by Mrs. W. B. Graham and Mrs. G. W. Brooks, Mrs. McLean and Mr. Gladstone. Prizes were awarded both couples.

Mrs. Jeffreys and Mrs. Gschwind served refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, homemade coconut cake, grapes, and an iced drink.

Church News

Dr. John A. McLean, for 20 years pastor of Ginter Park Presbyterian church in Richmond, Va., was guest speaker at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, coming over from Maxton, where he was visiting, at the special invitation of his friend of seminary days and since, the Rev. C. K. Taffe, pastor. Mr. McLean brought a message of hope and comfort based on "The Consolation of Jesus" that was enjoyed by a large congregation. Special music was a feature of the service. The ministers were entertained at dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hicks and Mrs. Flora Hicks.

At the Methodist church the two young ministers, A. Mac Cameron and Fred Davis, were again present with the pastor, the Rev. T. J. Whitehead. Fred read the scripture lesson and A. Mac preached an excellent sermon, with poise that would do credit to a person of much longer experience. There was special music by the young people, aided by a few adults.

A number of visitors were in the congregation, including some of A. Mac's relatives from Buies Creek and Cameron.

Revival services began Sunday night at the Baptist church, and will continue each evening through the week, at 7:45 p. m. The pastor, the Rev. L. M. Dixon, is being assisted by the Rev. Yancey Elliott and Emory Matthews, song leader, both of Sanford. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Rev. T. J. Whitehead will preach at the Methodist church next Sunday morning at 11, and the Rev. C. K. Taffe will conduct an evening service at the Presbyterian church at 7:30.

Perry-Keith

Mrs. William Herbert Keith, of Vass, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Glennie Cameron, of Raleigh, to Bob Dixon Perry, son of Mrs. J. W. Perry and the late Mr. Perry, of Wake Forest. The wedding will take place October 16 in a private ceremony.

Miss Keith is private secretary to the president of the Durham

Mrs. Cox Is Hostess

Mrs. W. T. Cox was hostess to the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service at her home Tuesday evening of last week. Mrs. H. A. Borst presided, and Mrs. C. L. Tyson conducted the program, with Mrs. Will Klingenschmidt and Mrs. S. R. Smith also taking part.

Mrs. H. A. Borst led an interesting study on the mission book, "Committed Unfo. Us."

Handbags packed with needles, pins and many other useful articles were brought to the meeting.

The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Robert L. Waddell, in serving refreshments of ice cream and cake.
