A GOOD PILOT—
 "Keeps his feet on the ground"

Mine's one business where you just can't let things slide."

Actually, there's no business where you can let things slide and still stay right up there. That's why the beer industry in this state, like Buck, spends a lot of time checking up, seeing to it that beer is sold strictly under the regulations set up by the Malt Beverage Division of the North Carolina ABC Board. Tavern owners realize that when you "let things slide" you're due for an "unhappy landing."
