Mrs. Hale Conducts Home Mission Study

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church held an interesting home mission study at 7:30 Tuesday night in the church basement with 33 members attending.

"The Prophet of Little Cane Creek" by Harold Dye was the textbook used, and the course was given by Mrs. F. E. Hale, who was introduced by Mrs. Leon Talton, mission study leader. An examination on the course followed. In appreciation of her fine work in leading the study, Mrs. Hale was presented a gift by the members.

The informal meeting was held in a homelike atmosphere that had been achieved by decorations of camellias, jonquils and ivy and by a circular arrangement of the chairs. Refreshments were served from an attractively appointed table, with emphasis on the Valentine motif.

Does Observe Founder's Day

Southern Pines Drove No. 42, BPO Does, observed Founder's Day at the Elks lodge Sunday evening with a special program and covered dish supper to which their husbands were invited.

With Mrs. J. D. Sitterson presiding, the group joined in the Lord's Prayer and the Pledge to the Flag, after which Mrs. Howard Hoffman, past president, read a brief sketch of the founding in 1923 of the Benevolent Patriotic Order of Does. Mrs. George Thompson, past historian, gave a short history of the local Drove.

Each Doe had carried a covered dish of food, and this was served buffet style, the "pot luck" supper being greatly enjoyed by the Does and their guests. The group remained for an informal social hour, of which music was a pleasing feature.

Mrs. James Boyd Entertains Guests

Mrs. James Boyd had a few friends in to lunch on Wednesday of last week to meet her guests, Mrs. Ruth Swaine, of Taos, N. M., and the Rev. Margaret Henriksen of West Sullivan, Me. They were Mrs. James B. Swett, Mrs. L. T. Avery, Mrs. Katherine McColl and Mrs. P. P. McCain.

The Rev. Mrs. Henriksen, on her first visit to the Sandhills, flew down from Bangor on Monday for a brief rest from her work as pastor of six small churches in fishing villages along the coast of Maine. Her duties include preaching six times each Sunday. She left Southern Pines Friday.

Mrs. Swaine, who has made friends here on previous visits, has been with Mrs. Boyd for about a month.

Mrs. Edwards' Grade Has Valentine Party

Mrs. Walter Edwards' first grade enjoyed a Valentine party in the classroom at 10:30 Tuesday morning. There was a Valentine box gaily decorated with crepe paper and red hearts, and inside were valentines that set youthful eyes aglow. Adding interest were special favors made by Mrs. O. T. Parks, Jr., dolls with candy in the pockets of their dresses for the girls, and trousers holding candy for the boys.

Mrs. Edwards served fruit juice, cake, cookies and Valentine candy to First Graders Johnny Calcutt, Topper Parks, Tim Leonard, Becky Traylor, Karen Moore and Diane Gorman.

Ruggles Family On Week End Trip

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Ruggles, with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ruggles of Raleigh, are leaving today (Friday) to visit Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ruggles in Kingsport, Tenn. En route they will stop in North Wilkesboro to see Mrs. John Ruggles' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Edwards. John Ruggles plans to fly home Sunday evening, and the rest will come by automobile Monday. Tommy Ruggles will stay with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Ruggles, while his parents are away.

Youth Group Has Guest Speaker

The Presbyterian Youth Fellowship had as its guest speaker at last Sunday evening's meeting the Rev. Charles V. Covell, of Emmanuel Episcopal church. Dick Ray, Fellowship president, conducted the worship service and presented the speaker.

Prior to the meeting the group enjoyed a supper in the fellowship hall of the church, served by Circle 2 of the Women of the Church, of which Mrs. L. L. Woolley is chairman.

Makes Dean's List

Miss Jean Olive, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Olive, is one of 67 Meredith College students who have been cited for their high academic achievements during the past semester by Dean Leishman A. Peacock, who has included them in the "Dean's List" effective during the spring semester.

MISS BETTY TAYLOR of Raleigh, whose engagement to Logan Harris Coley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Logan Harris Coley of 603 Adams street, Raleigh, is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Culbreth, of Lakeview and Southern Pines. The wedding will take place in Brownson Memorial Presbyterian church, May 7.

The bride-elect, a 1949 graduate of Rex Hospital school of nursing in Raleigh, is also a graduate of Pineland college. Mr. Coley is associated with Brown's Funeral Home in Raleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins Are Given Surprise

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Hoskins in the Edgewood development was the scene of a delightful Valentine party that turned out to be much more than the usual such party last Friday night.

Mrs. Hoskins, chairman of the social committee of the Fellowship Forum of the Church of Wide Fellowship, had planned the party for Forum members, but said members had been doing some planning of their own.

The group of approximately 30 played bingo for a while, and at the conclusion of the game, when it was time to serve the refreshments brought by members who wanted to help, knowing that Mrs. Hoskins had been busy with her moving, the guests took over.

A huge Valentine box was brought in and presented to Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins, who found that it contained a "pounding" of pantry supplies. Mrs. James Prim then read a poem which she had written to accompany a sum of money from the Forum, with which to purchase a gift of the couple's choosing for their home. R. W. Tate read a second poem, written to the Hoskins' and their home.

Finally the group got around to enjoying the refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and tea.

Skippy Honeycutt Is Given Birthday Party

Honoring her son, Skippy, on his seventh birthday, Mrs. Louis Honeycutt entertained at a party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruce Cameron, in Manly Friday afternoon. The children enjoyed games, and refreshments of cup cakes and ice cream. The birthday cake was heart-shaped and decorated in white and red. Eighteen children attended.

Munroe Collester, son of Mrs. C. H. Collester, has registered for his second semester at Colorado School of Mines. Munroe was on the Dean's List again last semester.

Mrs. Bert Stanyan underwent a major operation at Moore County hospital on Wednesday of last week, and is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Jean Edson and Miss Katherine Wiley returned Saturday from a stay of several days in New York, where they were purchasing goods for their dress shops, Franjean's and Mrs. Hayes'.

Miss Loyola Dooley, Miss Edna Dooley and Miss Mary Paddison arrived Saturday night from Guelph, Ontario, Can., for a holiday in Southern Pines. Miss Paddison left Tuesday night, but the sisters remained for a longer stay.

Capt. and Mrs. R. E. Fishburne and little daughter, Mary Keith, visited Mrs. Fishburne's mother, Mrs. Mary M. Patterson, at Manly Sunday. Mrs. Estelle Cameron, who for some time had been with her sister, Miss Pearl McMillan, in Aberdeen, has been a guest of Mrs. Patterson since Saturday. Mrs. Cameron is still wearing a cast on her arm that was broken in a fall several weeks ago.

Valentine Party, Auction Sale Mark First Birthday of St. Joseph's Guild

A large number of members of the Guild of St. Joseph of the Pines hospital, each bringing a box lunch and a guest to share it, gathered in the large dining room of the hospital at noon Tuesday for a Valentine party in celebration of the organization's first birthday anniversary . . . a party which, in addition to providing a delightful social occasion, brought in more than half a thousand dollars.

The room had been effectively decorated by a committee headed by Mrs. William P. Davis. Paper streamers of pink, blue and white in sunburst arrangement and groups of balloons were used, and on each table was a lovely centerpiece of camellias on lace paper doilies from which rose one pink birthday candle.

Coffee and tea were served by the hospital, and Mrs. Mary Stanley of Rockingham had donated a beautiful pink and white birthday cake made up of square individual servings, arranged in two tiers and edged with a dainty pink and white plaited grill. This was served from the gift table.

Mrs. Audrey K. Kennedy, Guild president, welcomed the guests and presided over a short business session. She read an anonymous Valentine greeting and announced a birthday gift of $100 and a doll from Mrs. Harry Hogg of Pinehurst. The doll was given to Sister Anastasia as a memento of the occasion.

Mrs. Frank A. Cosgrove gave the treasurer's report, which showed the amount raised within the year to be $16,642.20. Mrs. W.

J. Fitzgibbon gave for Mrs. J. C. Bertrand the equipment committee's report, listing dozens of articles of hospital equipment procured by the Guild, including equipment for the operating room for the laundry, a Jewett Blood Bank, a fracture bed, and many other items.

A highlight of the meeting was the president's annual report. Growth of the Guild from an initial membership of 14 to the present 271, the organization of a colored Guild now numbering 4 members, various benefit events which brought in funds in stupendous amounts . . . these were recounted in an interesting way by Mrs. Kennedy, who, in closing, gave a quotation which she said has been the byword of the executive committee: "Such things are wrought by faith."

Climaxing the party was an auction sale of birthday gift packages, purchased with money given anonymously for this purpose and procured by a committee headed by Mrs. Philip Randolph, Sr.

Dennis Crotty, sports director of the Carolina hotel, served as auctioneer and bidding on the packages, contents unknown, soared to a high of $55. Actual sales were $487, but several individuals "chipped in" to bring the amount to an even $500. In addition there was a birthday check from Mrs. Clarence M. Rudell in the amount of $25.

Mrs. Edward D. Lawrence of Portsmouth, Va., spent last week here as a guest of her sister, Mrs. George Little.

Mrs. Frank A. Cosgrove gave the treasurer's report, which showed the amount raised within the year to be $16,642.20. Mrs. W.
