

Pat O'Sullivan, Of Mid Pines Staff, Downs Mrs. Page To Win North-South

Patricia (Pat) O'Sullivan, switchboard operator at the Mid Pines club, played some mighty golf Saturday before last to win the North and South Women's Championship, defeating the veteran tournament winner Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page 3 and 2.

Not detracting from Pat's victory was the news that came later, that Mrs. Page was fighting a silent battle with acute appendicitis at the time without knowing what was wrong, and a few hours later was on the operating table at Duke. Though suffering, she played a brilliant game and Pat had to be far better than good to defeat her.

Pat wasn't revealing unsuspected talents, though she is said to have been at her unprecedented sharpest last week end. Switchboard operating is a temporary vocation. Winner of the Connecticut title twice in the last three years, the Orange, Conn., girl won the Eastern title two years ago and the Tri-State championship last year. She is one of three girl state champions on the Mid Pines staff this year.

Wearing glasses while playing to help her judge distance, Pat won the first hole of the final round from the seven-time winner of the 48-year-old tournament and never lost the lead. She lost only two holes. The tip-off came on the very first hole when she rapped in a 20-foot putt for a winning birdie three. That was the first time in five matches this week that Mrs. Page had been down. And she never got off the hook.

Pat is 23 years old. She is the daughter of Judge P. B. O'Sullivan of the Connecticut Supreme Court of Errors. For some time she has been regarded as one of the longest hitters in women's golf.

For the past six months she has been playing and practicing whenever free from her switchboard duties at the Mid Pines. She credits Johnny Bove, assistant pro at the Mid Pines, with helping her sharpen her game this winter. "He worked many long hours with me," she said after the match. "He got me to swing the club better than I ever did before. While the match was on I kept telling myself, 'Just swing the club, swing the club. Never mind Mrs. Page, just keep swinging.'"
