Durham Life Enlarges Local Office; Wiggs Is Promoted, Two Agents Added

An expansion of the Southern Pines office of the Sanford branch, Fayetteville district, Durham Life Insurance company, became official the first of the year, with enlarged office space and a staff doubled in size.

W. D. Wiggs, former general agent for the Moore-Hoke (part of both counties) territory, has been promoted to staff manager, covering several Sandhills counties. His office is now at Sanford but he will continue to live in Southern Pines, his home for the past 11 years, and use the local office when in town.

Two men have succeeded him as general agents here, Carl Klabbatz, Jr., who joined the company within the past year, and George E. Cool, who moved from Sanford. Their office is the same one in the Carolina Theatre building which was formerly occupied by Mr. Wiggs and J. D. Hobbs, also an insurance agent. Mr. Hobbs has now opened an agency in Pinehurst, while maintaining his residence in Southern Pines.

The changes were necessitated by a general expansion of business in this area, which Mr. Wiggs is confident arises from a better understanding of insurance in general, and its importance in the economic scheme as well as its value to the individual and family.

His company handles life insurance in a multiplicity of forms—straight life, savings, educational, mortgage, family income and retirement plans of several kinds.

Mr. Wiggs, a native of Zebulon, traveled for a number of years, then came to Southern Pines in 1939. He was associated with Dorn's grocery for a time, and became the local Durham Life agent June 1, 1942. He is married to the former Miss Louise Gardner of Southern Pines and they have two children, Billy, 10, and Nancy, five.

He is a member of the Elks, Rotary club, Sandpipers (having served as secretary and president of this golfing organization) and of the Church of Wide Fellowship. Carl Klabbatz, Jr., whose family has lived for a long time between Southern Pines and Aberdeen, is building a home of his own on the property there and hopes to move in within three or four weeks. He and Mrs. Klabbatz have two children, a daughter, Kay, six, and son Carl, three. He was formerly employed by Carters laundry here. He is a veteran of Air Force service in World War 2, when he served with a bomber group based on Puerto Rico, and is an active member of the John Boyd post, VFW. He is also a member of the newly formed Southern Pines Lions club.

Mr. and Mrs. Cool have bought a home at 350 Delaware avenue. They have a year-old son, Carl. Mr. Cool is also a veteran of World War 2, in which he served four and a half years as a paratrooper. After seeing action with the 101st Airborne, he was discharged from the 82nd.

He is a member of the Sanford lodge, Knights of Pythias, and a Presbyterian.

Moore Baptists Plan Meetings Today, Wednesday

Two meetings of interest to Moore County Baptists are scheduled for the coming week.

Today (Friday) a leadership conference will be held at the Aberdeen church, with delegates from all Moore societies attending. There will be a morning and afternoon session, with lunch served at the church. Mrs. Charles Howard and Miss Hilda Mill, of Raleigh, will be present to aid in the training of new officers. Mrs. O. J. Hagler of Carthage will preside as associational superintendent.

Next Wednesday evening, a rally in the form of a mass meeting of all Baptist churches in the county will be held at the Carthage church, looking toward simultaneous revivals to be held in all of the 1,800 churches east of the Mississippi beginning Easter Sunday.

Speaker at the Carthage meeting at 7:30 p. m. will be Dr. J. Clyde Turner of Raleigh, former pastor of the First Baptist church of Greensboro. The public is invited.

Recorders Docket Slim, Jury Trials Are Postponed

Traffic Cases Predominate In 10 Cases Heard

The second week of 1934 found the recorders court docket unusually light. The regular session Monday ended at 3 p. m., and with only two trials scheduled for Tuesday's monthly jury trial session, these were continued to the next, February 6.

Of 16 cases docketed for Monday, one defendant asked for a jury trial, three failed to answer when called and for two of these and two others, capias were issued. Traffic law violations predominated.

Cases were as follows: Shelley James Brower, careless and reckless driving, $25 and costs; Lonnie Patterson, unlawful possession of non-taxpaid whiskey for sale, 30 days suspended, $25 and costs; Alton Onas Monroe, Jr., Manly, careless and reckless driving, 60 days suspended, $25 and costs; Robert Wiley Carrington, Jr., Pinebluff, speeding, $15 and costs.

Raymond Barber, Carthage Rt. 3, drunk on highway, permitting William A. Barber to operate his car while drunk, warrant amended to charge defendant with drunken driving, 60 days suspended, $100 and costs, license revoked 12 months; William Alvin Barber, Carthage, drunken driving, careless and reckless driving, warrant amended to charge public drunkenness and resisting and obstructing police officer in discharge of his duties, 30 days suspended, $25 and costs.

Frank George Bradtke, Asheville, careless and reckless driving, drunken driving, resulting in accident, leaving scene of accident etc., state accepts plea of careless and reckless driving and driving without license, $25 and costs.

John Douglas Blue, Carthage, asked trial by jury, trial set for February 6 under $200 bond; Walter R. Maples, Southern Pines, careless and reckless driving, drunken driving, resulting in accident, $100 and costs, license revoked for 12 months; James Lee Williams, Vass, non-support of wife and child, three months suspended on payment of costs and of payment of $12.50 per week toward support of wife and child, defendant to make necessary arrangements for payment for expenses attendant on birth of second child.

Vernon Grey Blue, Vass, careless and reckless driving, called and failed, $200 bond forfeited, nisi sci fa, capias issued returnable next Monday, new bond of $400 set for appearance; L. V. Harrington, Jackson Hamlet, public drunkenness, disorderly conduct, 30 days suspended on payment of costs; Dwight H. Royal, speeding, called and failed, $50 cash bond forfeited; John William Stone, non-support of wife and child, called and failed, capias returnable Monday, $200 bond; Ralph Richardson, Winston-Salem, failure to comply, capias returnable Monday, $200 bond; Charles Crabtree, Carthage, failure to comply, capias returnable Monday, $100 bond.

Dr. Caldwell Resumes Practice

Dr. Clell S. Caldwell will return to the practice of dentistry here Monday, January 22, opening his office on that day in Dante's Restaurant building on South West Broad street.

Dr. Caldwell, who lives in Pinehurst, practiced here for three years until this fall, when he sold his uptown office building to the Moore County chapter, American Red Cross, in anticipation of being recalled to service.

However, he has already had eight years of Army service, starting in 1938, and under present service needs comes in the fourth priority. With slight likelihood being recalled any time soon, is resuming practice.

The large room at Dante's formerly occupied by the wine shop is being remodeled into a dental office, and he is installing equipment there. Mrs. John Scott Newton, the former Miss Nadine Everette, who was his receptionist before, is returning to this position.

Dr. Caldwell is a native of Concord, took pre-dental work Davidson and N. C. State college and graduated at Atlanta Southern Dental college of Emory university, Georgia. He is married the former Nerissa Coleman Mississippi and they have two young daughters.
