

Deane Advocates Military Training at All High Schools

In a statement issued during Christmas week, Rep. C. B. Deane of the Eighth district suggested the creation of a high school cadet corps throughout the country.

The statement was issued following a conference the North Carolina Congressman held with President Truman. In it he said, "There is no time for hysteria, confusion or division, even though a serious emergency faces America and the world."

Deane added, "At present the military appear not to want universal military training. They may be correct, but as the father of my young son, I would like to see my boy get into every high school in the land. It would tune up our young life as nothing else could."

Deane urged an end to "political bickering, domestic squabbling and party judgments," adding that "partisan politics can seriously jeopardize our national defense program."

Deane said, "The year 1951 should bring us into a new era of single-minded determination as we come closer to grips with a common foe."

Deane also stated:

"The economic home front presents serious problems. I hope all Americans in all walks of life will gladly and enthusiastically support behind voluntary controls and their behavior to a half-

Deane warned also against "a creeping tide of isolation that is showing its ugly head by taking advantage of Korea." "Frankly," he said, "the world faces the world unless freedom can be maintained through their representative leaders try to resolve differences."

"If we lose Asia, we lose Europe. We cannot in this new day of aggression choose our battlefields."

Deane said, "If the United States loses any leadership in the world, we will see the hastening of the liquidation of every small nation in the world. That is Russia's objective."

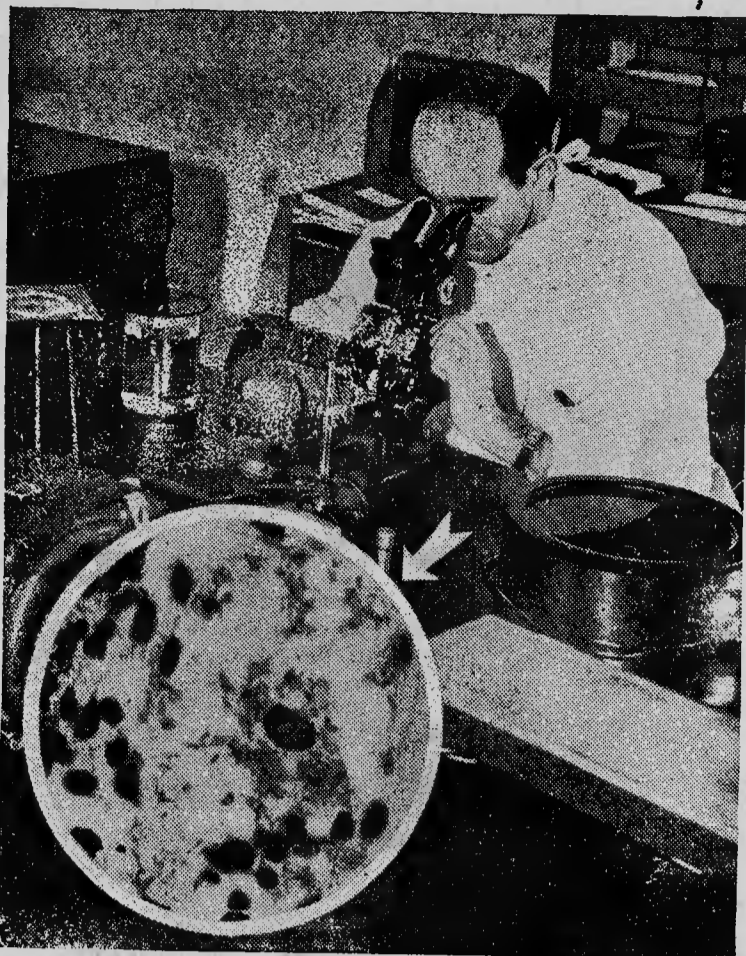

Deane recommended complete trade of China—economically. "We cannot trade with and fight our enemy at the same time," he said.

VFW Members Aid at Local Families

Members of the Southern Pines families had a far happier Christmas than they have had in the past. It was learned this week that eight include both white and Negro families. They are all extremely bleak circumstances, and all receive the veterans' help from time to time. Among their members are a number of young men, also old people who no one to look after them. An impromptu collection taken before Christmas at the VFW resulted in the almost immediate raising of about $80. The money was turned over to a local market, and with each Christmas basket the veterans' fund went a due bill for $10 of groceries. The families of children received additional help to buy toys.

The generous baskets were distributed on Christmas weekend by the VFW committee, consisting of Harry Klabbatz, chairman, Don Forsyth and the post commander, Don Jones.

March of Dimes Research

Through the microscope, a March of Dimes-supported research scientist examines a section of tissue (shown enlarged in insert indicated by arrow) which has been attacked by polio virus. The nerve cell, showing the peculiar kind of damage inflicted by the virus, came from an animal experimentally infected with material believed to contain polio virus. Since the virus itself is too small to be seen under the microscope, scientists are forced to use this roundabout method of proving its presence. March of Dimes funds are aiding in the search for simpler and more direct detection work.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Chatfield Sell Their Home In Knollwood To Gen. Menoher

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Chatfield have sold their home in Knollwood, where they have spent their winters for the past 18 years, on February 1 will move back to Nantucket, Mass., where they have maintained a home and legal residence.

They came, first to Pinehurst, then to Southern Pines, from Nantucket and have always returned there for their summers.

They were the founders of Anlen materials industry, whose glow Tweeds, handwoven wool-beautiful small plant on the Midland road was sold to W. C. Deady last summer.

Mrs. Chatfield is an artist of distinction, well known for her fine water colors and gouache paintings of flowers, which have won acclaim of naturalists as well as art critics in exhibits in Washington, New York and other places.

Moving into the Chatfield house here will be the new owners, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Pearson Menoher. General Menoher (rhymes with Lenore) is the new chief of staff of the V Corps, Fort Bragg. A 1915 West Point graduate, he comes of a distinguished Army family and has for years been a leading figure in U. S. military affairs.

His most recent assignment, before an operation and convalescence at Walter Reed hospital and transfer to the V Corps, was that of assistant commander to General William Dean of the 24th Division, first of the UN forces to land in Korea.

General Dean was a casualty of the Korean warfare and is still listed as missing in action, following heroic action in the communist siege of Taejon September 3. General Menoher recently has had the soldierly task of recording all the facts concerning the action, for the award of the Congressional Medal of Honor to Mrs. Dean by President Truman. The award was made Tuesday of this week.

General Menoher served for three years in Japan following the close of World War 2, as commanding general of the Kobe base. He later was ordered to Sendaix as chief of staff of the Ninth Corps. From there he went to Kokura on the island of Kyushu, where he trained the 24th division.

His father, Maj. Gen. C. T. Menoher, was commander of the famed Rainbow division (42nd) during World War 2, with General Douglas MacArthur as chief of staff.

The home in Knollwood just purchased by General Menoher is one of the most attractive of that community. The architecture is Spanish type, and it has been considerably enlarged and beautified by the Chatfields during their residence there.

Carthage Masons Install Officers

Installation of officers of the Carthage lodge, AF & AM, was conducted recently by Eldon S. Adams of Carthage, district deputy grand master of the 13th district.

Installed were: S. W. Shields, master; J. E. Frazier, senior warden; Dr. John Cline, junior warden; W. D. Miller, treasurer; R. Burt Moore, secretary; Roscoe L. Apple, senior deacon; Jack Williams, junior deacon; Harold M. Parker, senior steward; Edgar H. Fry, junior steward; Paul T. Lamm, tiler.

Nylon Hosiery

New 1951 spring shades in the hard to get 66 gauge and 54 gauge.

All types from very sheer to service weight.

At mill prices

Aberdeen Hosiery Mills Co., Inc.
Pinehurst Road—Aberdeen, N. C.

SUNCRUISE

Recommendation that the CAB grant Resort Airlines, Inc. permission to operate between Florida and the British West Indies was made at Washington last Friday by CAB Examiner Richard A. Walsh.

Resort, a non-scheduled carrier with operational headquarters at the Southern Pines-Pinehurst airport, will be given a three-year certificate to carry passengers and property between Miami and West Palm Beach, and West End, Grand Bahama Island, if the examiner's recommendation is followed.

This is a part of Resort's program of "vacation sun-cruises," all-expense-paid vacation trips from this country to resorts of other lands in the western hemisphere.

Manly Negro Hurt In Highway Accident

William King, 68, Negro resident of Manly, was seriously injured Sunday shortly before noon when he attempted to cross US Highway 1 in the face of a stream of traffic, and ran into the side of an oncoming car.

He sustained a fractured skull and a concussion, also several lacerations, and is a patient at Moore County hospital. His condition was described at midweek as "fair."

King was said to have waited beside the highway at Manly for several cars to pass, then as one went by crossed the southbound lane and collided with a northbound car. The driver of the car, Richard J. Ritting, of Philadelphia, Pa., was absolved of blame by the investigating state highway patrolman, who said Ritting pulled his car far to the right in an effort to avoid hitting the elderly man. The patrolman said there was no evidence of any violation of the law.

COLLINS 1950 Buyer's Mistake Sale! Starts Tuesday, January 9th

No Buyer in their right mind would buy this kind of Merchandise, but We did; so We must be Crazy, and now We are trying to pass the Buck to You. It's Odds and Ends, and the Biggest Mess you ever saw. Come in and see if you want to throw some of your money away!

Ladies' Shoes?

Mr. Haines thought that was what He was buying. Now we're not so sure. Come see if they will fit you.

$1.77

Hose!

Mrs. Lowder! Shame on you for buying such—expecting our customers to wear them! Get some for every day. If you wear 'em under slax they won't show.

49c per pair

Boys' Slack Suits

separated. You won't buy them together, so come and see if you like them better one piece at the time.

Shirts 99c - Pants 99c

Others at 69c

each piece

You'll Laugh With Us

at these Drapes we bought to retail for $5.00 per pair. The very idea! Now you can get them for

$1.99 per pair

THE GRAB BAG

This is one big table of junk over which we all hang our heads in shame at having in our store; and nobody will ever claim responsibility for buying this for us.

OUT IT GOES. EITHER YOU TAKE IT OUT THE FRONT DOOR, OR WE PITCH IT OUT THE BACK DOOR!

RUGS

Thad thought sure everybody needed 2 or 3, so He bought all the Man had. Now We got too many!

9x12

$4.49

Plastic

Bed Spreads

Tyson thought sure they were so pretty everybody would buy one! Sure enough they didn't! Might make the Kids a good Pup Tent.

$2.98

THERE ARE MANY MORE ITEMS WE COULD TELL YOU ABOUT, BUT ACTUALLY WE ARE ASHAMED TO; SO COME IN AND SEE WHAT DUMB CLUCKS WE ARE ANYWAY!

Children's Coats

Mary woke up cold the morning she bought these, and got too many.

$5.00 to $9.00

Boys' and Girls' Underwear

It's all kinds of stuff but it will keep the kids warm and who's going to see it anyway? And what do you care if it serves the purpose! You're not stealing it, it's really priced at

29c & 49c per pair

Children's Underwear

We don't know what is wrong with it, but it won't sell. It's that good E-Z stuff; assorted styles.

29c & 49c per pair

Mother and Daughter Robes

Who ever bought these shouldn't or'ta done it. The color might have been pretty in a horse blanket.

$3.99 - $2.99 - $1.99

SECOND BIG WEEK!

JANUARY

Clearance Sale

FLASHED

PRICES

IN ALL

DEPARTMENTS

THE QUALITY SHOP
ABERDEEN

Plar Street

Dial 7221

COLLINS DEPT. STORE

ABERDEEN, N. C.