

Roko Kalais, Viennese Native, Buys Beauty Shop

Roko Kalais, native of Vienna, has purchased the Dainty Lady Beauty shop and last week started operation of the shop under its new name, "Roko's Beauty Salon."

Mr. Kalais comes to Southern Pines from Greensboro, where he has been employed in the beauty shops of Meyers and Belks department stores. He was also for some time with the Victor Ferantelli salon on Fifth avenue at 57th street, New York.

U. S. Army Engineering Corps during World War 2, in both this country and northern Africa.

Mr. Kalais specialized in personal hair styling, and all wanted beauty services rendered according to the most modern European and American methods.

He is married to an American girl, who will serve as manager of the shop. They have a five-year old son, Danny.

Mrs. Charles (Dot Jordan) Gouger, proprietress of the Dainty Lady shop for the past two years, has moved from the apartment she occupied in the rear of the shop and is living at the Jefferson Inn. Her plans, she said, are indefinite though she expects to remain in Southern Pines. Her husband Sergeant Gouger, of the 82nd Airborne division, is stationed on Okinawa.
