

Aberdeen-Southern Pines Joint Zoning Measure Provisions Are Explained

Blue Delays Production For Better Understanding

A cooperative zoning project between the towns of Southern Pines and Aberdeen, to permit zoning between them, has run into some protests of property owners of the area involved. H. Clifton Blue, ready to be similar, but separate, acts in the General Assembly request of the two town said this week he will be doing so so that all interested can gain understanding of the measure.

Details of the proposed measure have been published and he believes that the protests, from the areas outside the limits of both towns, stem through a misunderstanding of its provisions.

Act, sponsored by the N. C. of Municipalities, provides designated area (one and a half miles, in these two towns) come under the same zoning as the towns, with the exception that (1) four members of the area outside shall be appointed to each municipal board to assist with all dealing with that area; (2) no new construction shall be required for connection with the zoning law. The Pilot writes to the letter by Mrs. Burt in the "Public Opinion" column on Page 2. In this writer and resident, interested in the beauty of the area, and on the subject, and on the part of community in-construction in the area, to cost.

A hearing must be held before zoning board before any zoning can be enacted under the law.

ordinances may regulate the use of buildings and other structures which may be erected in the designated area, with its growth and development in mind. Those deemed to be of value, causing ugliness (continued on Page 8)

Wine Bill Favorable Committee Report

1934, affecting the beer industry in Moore county, was voted favorably out of the House and Grievances committee Monday morning, according to report from Rep. H. Clifton Blue. It will most likely be passed this week.

It is a two-way one, with the removal of both the Allied League and the control provision would allow wide beer and wine vote in Moore regardless of the outcome of any other election.

The other provision in the bill, an amendment to the General Assembly, to have its own vote if the county goes to a public election, hit a snag at a public hearing March 20, when representatives of the beer industry objected that it would set a statewide law (that prohibits the holding of a beer election within 60 days of any other election). The bill at that time tabled the prospects for its passage.

This week, the committee has the bill out in amendment (providing that a beer election already called could be invalidated by the subsequent passage of any other law). This bill proposed by the beer representatives, to which the Church League objected, is now has won a favorable vote with no further objection ahead.

WELCOME, TIGERS

The town of Southern Pines welcomes again two farm teams of the Detroit Tigers, who are here for April training for their second year.

Arriving last weekend were some 60 young men and their managers, the Falcons of Jamestown, N. Y., and the Richmond, Ind., team. They are staying at the Belvedere and Southland hotels. They started practice immediately on the school field and will stage some exhibition games soon.

Tufts Elected As Golfdom's Best Contributor, 1950

The outstanding contribution to golf in 1950 was made by Richard S. (Dick) Tufts of Pinehurst, according to a vote of the Golf Writers Association of America announced last week.

Tufts received 618 points in the balloting among 174 golf writers. Well in the running among other point winners was another well-known Pinehurst resident, Robert E. Harlow, publisher of Golf World. Harlow received 105 points.

Richard Tufts, president of Pinehurst, Inc., has been a member of the USGA executive committee since 1946. He will be the fourth man to receive the William D. Richardson trophy since its inception in 1947. He rates as one of golf's ablest behind-the-scenes officials. He was chairman last year of the USGA's championship and junior championship committees, and is organization secretary for 1951. Recently he rescued the Ryder Cup series for a November 2-4 (1951) renewal at Pinehurst, after the British PGA had earlier declined an American appearance during the summer months.

In the GWAA voting, each first place vote counted five points, four for second place, three for third, two for fourth and one for fifth. Second in the voting, with 487 points, was Mayor Jim Rhodes of Columbus, Ohio, founder of the National Caddy tournament. Hollywood's Bob Hope was third with 293; Dr. Fred V. Grau of the USGA's greens section fourth with 245; and Maurice Luxford of Los Angeles, creator of National Kids Golf day, fifth with 219.

Ben Hogan, top player in the balloting, was sixth with 142 points. Other point winners included Chick Evans, 120; Bob Harlow, 105; Fred Corcoran, manager of the Women's PGA, 101; O. B. Keeler, late golf editor of the Atlanta Journal, 75; and Charles Bartlett, Chicago Tribune sports writer and GWAA secretary, 49.

Previous winners of the trophy, named for the late golf editor of the New York Times, were Robert A. Hudson, Portland, Ore., 1947; Maynard F. Fessenden of Chicago, 1948; and Bing Crosby of Hollywood, 1949.

Moore Citizens Will Give Blood For Korea Monday

Appointment Must Be Made For Bloodmobile Visit

Blood is something which a healthy person can always share without suffering any loss himself. It is not missed—nature replenishes it to its replenishment; yet it can mean life itself to someone else. It costs nothing—but can mean everything to a wounded man.

A good many more donors willing to give a pint of blood to be flown to Korea will be needed Monday to assure success of the first visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile to Moore county, according to word received from its sponsors of the local VFW post this week.

John Buchholz, blood donor chairman, asks that persons wishing to make an appointment for Monday call the VFW home (2-6144) or the Red Cross chapter office (2-8571) in Southern Pines. The time will be set to suit their convenience, between 11 a. m. and 4:30 p. m., the hours between which the Bloodmobile will be stationed at the Southern Pines gym.

VFW members will be on duty in front of the Citizens Bank and Trust company Saturday, to make appointments for the giving of blood on Monday.

Chairman Buchholz, a Marine veteran of Pacific warfare whose life was saved by many transfusions, and who has himself made numerous contributions of blood, this week issued the following official directives to prospective donors who have not yet had this experience:

1. No donor is accepted unless found to be physically able to give—an examination is given at the Bloodmobile in advance.
2. Donors need not "dress up" before giving blood, or undress at any time during the procedure. They can come directly from work, give blood, lie down a while on cots which will be provided and be back at work in about an hour.
3. Donors must be between the ages of 18 and 60 years. Unmarried boys and girls from 18 to 21 must have their parents' written permission.
4. Donors should eat lightly the day they are to give blood (black coffee, fruit juices, dry toast, etc.). This makes the blood better for the recipient.

The Bloodmobile will arrive complete with an experienced staff, which will be on duty throughout the day, assisted by volunteers recruited by the local Red Cross chapter.

ART EXHIBIT

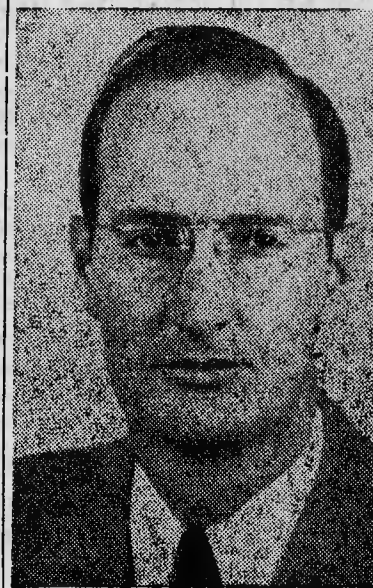

Paintings by the late well-known artist, Arthur Frank, are now on view in the Fine Arts Room of the Library.

Perhaps better known abroad than in this country, this painter was versatile in his choice of subject and style of painting and the present show includes examples of interiors, landscapes, a still life and, especially interesting to students of painting, a group of unfinished canvasses of Maine scenes, showing the artist's method of working.

The collection will be on view through next week.

Town Caucus Set for April 24, Legalized Now By Special Act

SUPERINTENDENT

AMOS C. DAWSON, JR., was officially inducted by the school board Wednesday night as superintendent of Southern Pines schools, succeeding Philip J. Weaver.

Supt. Dawson, who is from Zebulon, is a graduate of Atlantic Christian college at Wilson. He has been a member of the high school faculty and coach since 1937, and director of the local youth recreation program for the past five summers.

He has won statewide recognition as a leader in the fight for better schools and improved teaching conditions, as vice president of the state NCEA in 1947-48, president in 1948-49 and since that time as a member of the executive board and chairman of the legislative committee.

One of his first, and most difficult, tasks will be finding someone to succeed himself as high school principal and boys' athletic coach.

"Antique Auction" And Entertainment At Shaw House

The old Shaw House at the south end of Broad street will be the scene of a unique auction Wednesday, when antiques will be auctioned off in an atmosphere of 100 years ago. The event has been planned as an unusual entertainment as well as an auction sale.

Members of the Moore County Historical association, sponsors of the event, have been busy gathering together a collection of antiques, rare, lovely and interesting, for which Arch Coleman of Southern Pines and Chester I. Williams of Pinehurst will act as auctioneers.

News of the coming "Country Auction" is attracting wide notice, with many visitors expected. Among those planning to come from a distance is Mrs. Charles Cannon, president of the state Society for the Preservation of Antiquities, who is coming down from Concord for the day.

The event will be held outdoors, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., with a luncheon recess. Seats will be provided and visitors are invited to come and stay the whole time, or to come and go as they feel like it. They are asked to bring box lunches, and make a picnic of the occasion. Coffee will be sold in the Shaw House tea room, and there will be sandwiches also for those who do not bring their picnic lunch.

During the luncheon recess old-fashioned songs will be sung by Mrs. Annabelle Pearson, also by a group of "sunbonnet ladies," members of the Mt. Holly Home Demonstration club led by their president, Mrs. Gaines.

The Mt. Holly members are also contributing for auction some old-fashioned food staples and delicacies, such as waterground meal and preserves made by old family recipes.

Among interesting items to be auctioned is a fine reproduction in pine of the "lazy susan" table in the Shaw House, made by a skilled cabinetmaker, also reproductions of old family recipes.

Nominations Will Precede Municipal Election May 8

The Southern Pines town caucus, now legalized by special act of the General Assembly, will be held at the high school auditorium Tuesday night, April 24, according to notice given by Howard F. Burns, town clerk-treasurer, this week.

The municipal election for mayor and five town commissioners will be held on the regular election day, Tuesday, May 8. Mrs. Grace Kaylor, registrar, will keep the registration books open on two succeeding Saturdays, April 21 and 28. Saturday, April 23, will also be Challenge day.

The town caucus, a heritage from this community's New England forefathers, served for many years as the time for nomination and also for unofficial election, since nominees were reduced by vote to the needed number, and the official election day which followed was only a form.

However, at the 1949 caucus it was pointed out that under North Carolina state laws, the caucus had no legal standing whatever and in fact was directly opposed to some of the election laws. The 1949 meeting acted more in accord with standard procedure by placing a choice of nominees before the election-day voter.

The people also by unanimous action instructed the town attorney to take steps toward legalization of the biennial event.

The caucus has served by long tradition as a place for the democratic airing of views on all subjects of civic interest, as well as a means of filling municipal office. Nothing in the new law would discontinue this practice.

On request of the town board, Rep. H. Clifton Blue of Aberdeen put through a bill in the current General Assembly which provides for the setting of the time of the caucus, with due notice given; the selection of not more than two candidates for mayor and 10 for commissioner by the voting of only qualified electors (though write-in votes may be cast on election day); and that participation in the caucus by those not legally eligible shall constitute a misdemeanor.

It also provides that the mayor shall also provide over the caucus until the election of a chairman and a secretary by the qualified voters. This is in the old caucus tradition.

Veterans Name John Buchholz Post Commander

John Buchholz, a former U. S. Marine and veteran of Pacific warfare in World War 2, was elected commander of the John Boyd post, VFW, at annual elections held at the post home Monday night.

The election was by acclamation. C. S. Patch, Jr., was also a nominee but withdrew in favor of Mr. Buchholz before the vote count had been completed, making the motion for a unanimous vote.

Retiring Commander Don A. Jones presided. Installation of Commander Buchholz and others elected for 1950-51 will take place at a supper meeting at Dante's restaurant Monday evening, April 16. Others installed will be: Bob Arey, senior vice commander; Raymond Cameron, junior vice commander; C. S. Patch, Jr., quartermaster; Carl Klabbatz, Sr., chaplain; Russell Mills, judge advocate; Dr. D.
