School Bond Issue County's Reply Joint Boards

Commissioners Feel People Should Vote Increased Tax Rate

County Board of Education, the boards of Pinehurst and Southern Pines special school district with the County Commissioners Monday night in Carriers Monday night in the county court house to place before them their recommendations regarding the money necessary for school construction about the county. Also present John C. Muse, county attorney, school board members and other interested listeners. School people placed two recommendations before the joint board, both of which turned down in favor of a proposal by Mr. Muse. The board of Education suggestions, concurred in by colleagues on the boards of Southern Pines and Pinehurst, a 51-cent raise in county bonds, for a period of five years. It was estimated that this would result in a fund of $2,120,000 sufficient to pay for the construction outlay. Advantages of the plan lay in the fact that there would be no extra payment of interest as would be the case with a bond issue, and that the thing would be cleared up in a few years' time.

Accidents Occur In All Directions On Moore Roads

Miraculous Escapes Reduce Injury Toll In Three Crashes

Last week's list of highway accidents kept the toll of crashes steadily rising. Near Mid Pines club on Saturday night a car driven by Richard B. Knight, 33, of Providence, R. I., ran off the curve east of the club entrance on the double road and turned over. With Mr. Knight was Richard Dixon, 37, of New York. Both men were returning from the Dunes club. The accident took place at 2:25 a.m. when, according to Patrolman Harold Deal, the driver apparently lost control as he approached the curve and the car, belonging to the Russell & Lacey company of Fairmont, Ga., turned over. Both occupants were hospitalized at St. Joseph's, Mr. Knight suffering from possibly fractured ribs, while his companion was not seriously hurt. The car was severely damaged. Mr. Knight was a guest of Bill Brown in Southern Pines. The case will come up for judgment Monday.

SPRING GAME

A sports event that is expected to draw fans from the Sandhills is the Blue and White game scheduled to be played at Kenan Stadium tomorrow, (Saturday).

This is the annual Blue and White game played each spring at the state university at the conclusion of the spring practice period during the months of March and April.

Of burning interest to Sandhillers is the fact that two former local stars, Bill Baker and Ray Copley, are members of the freshman team, that faces last season's varsity squad on Saturday, in this inter-squad battle. Performance of players in this game may well determine their status in plans now being drawn up for next year's varsity eleven and the play of the local men will be watched with keen interest.

The game will start at 2:00 p. m. With all state high school students special guests of the University that day, it is expected that the crowd will be a big one.

C. N. Page Unopposed; All Present Board On Caucus Ticket

UNOPPOSED

MAYOR C. N. PAGE

Names of Chandler, Funderburk Added To Town Ballot

A town caucus that made up in smoothness and harmony what it lacked in old-time fireworks of frenzied politicking and fun, Tuesday night nominated the entire board of commissioners and mayor for re-election, adding to the ballot only the new names of J. R. Funderburk and Ralph Chandler, Jr.

The meeting, first to be held in the Southern Pines auditorium, was attended by fewer than usual, although increased by a considerable representation from West Southern Pines. Mayor C. N. Page opened with a review of the past two years of his tenure of office. Expressing his appreciation of the fine cooperation of the board as "a good team that has worked well together," Mayor Page listed as high points of his administration the doubled capacity of the town water supply, with supply lines laid in West Southern Pines, 1500 feet of 6-inch pipe on Leake street for the new Knollwood apartment development, six miles of paving, and extension of sewer lines.

He stated that the town would receive from $15,000 to $20,000 from the highway department for street construction and upkeep and suggested that half be used to buy equipment and the rest for roads "to give work to our townspeople."

Page Favors Social Security

Mayor Page said that he favored putting all town employees on social security, and felt this should have prompt attention. He paid tribute to the loyalty of the town force in all departments. On the subject of extending the town limits, the mayor spoke with fervor. He stressed that a first step would be a joint meeting of all citizens with the object of drawing up a plan for a bond election to finance extension of all services to new districts.
