REGISTRATION

Registration for the county beer-wine election Tuesday, November 13, will start this Saturday, and continue for three successive Saturdays, ending November 3.

Mrs. Grace Kaylor, registrar, will keep the books open at the fire station from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. on the registration days.

Municipal books only will be employed, and should not be confused with the precinct or school district books. If you voted for the present Mayor and town commissioners, or in the recreation election of August 1950, you should be on the books. If you have moved into town as recently as six months ago, you should register now, if you wish to vote on this

If in doubt as to your registration or qualification—see the registrar.

AIRMEN RESPOND

Eight airmen of the staff of USAFAGOS, at Highland Pines Inn, responded with immediate action when word reached them of the plight of a young Southern Pines colored man, a stranger to them.

They heard that the youth, Parnell Mines, was at Duke hospital needing an immediate and critical operation, but that the hospital would not undertake the operation without the assurance of at least six pints of blood.

Appeals made in various places, it appeared, had proved fruitless-until they reachthe airmen.

Eight of them were planning a fast trip to Durham today, so that Parnell Mines might have blood.

Week of Fun At Carthage Fairgrounds

LuLong Ogburn — "Miss North Carolina"—will be one of the judges of the beauty contest of the Moore County fair next week, and will crown the queen, it was announced by W. Stowe Cole, Carthage Jaycee president.

The Smithfield beauty won third place in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City in September, after capturing the state crown at the North Carolina Jaycee convention.

Arrangements for her appearance Wednesday night will provide the Moore fair with an outstanding attraction

"Fair Week" for Moore county starts Monday, with the opening of the Moore County Agricultural fair on the fairgrounds near Carthage, sponsored again by the Carthage Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Jaycees, sponsors of the fair since 1948, promise an even bigger and better exposition than those of previous years, each of which has been more successful than the last.

School Musicians Will Play With US Navy Band

Some of the outstanding high school band members of this section will have the opportunity to play with the U.S. Navy Band, here Saturday, October 27.

Invitations have been sent to all high schools of Moore county, and also those of Hamlet, Rockingham and Sanford, inviting them to participate in attendance at the afternoon concert at 2 p. m. o'clock at Memorial field. Band or other school organizations selling 100 tickets will receive 25 tickets free, and the schools having bands may select an outstanding member to play with the Navy Band for one or more selections. About 500 tickets have been set aside for use by schools accepting this invitation, said Voit Gilmore, president of the Sandhills Music association, sponsor.

The U. S. Navy Band will present an evening concert, as first offering of the Association's 1951-2 series, in addition to the afternoon performance primarily for choochildren.

Program of the afternoon concert was announced this week as follows: The Star Spangled Baner; Il Guarany Overture (Carlos Gomez); Shawl Dance (Frank Skinner); The Chase — English Post Horn Solo (Leo Stanley); Fiddle Faddle (Leroy Anderson). Ritual Fire Dance (Manuel de Falla), harmonica solo; Symphony No. 5 in E Minor (The New World —Dvorak); The Song Is You (Jerome Kern), baritone solo; Joshua (Paul Yoder); The Three Trumpeters (G. Agostini); Bacchanale from Samson and Delilah (Saint-Saens); The Stars and Stripes Forever; Anchors Aweigh.

10 Cents For An Easter Biddy

W. H. McNeill, of the McNeill and Company feed and seed business here, received a letter last week which he declares is unique in his long business experience. The financial transaction mentioned in the letter he says he does not in the least recollect, nor does any member of his staff. He is responding to the writer with deep thanks-not so much for the amount of money enclosed, a somewhat inconsequential sum, as for the tremendous boost it has given to his faith in human nature, which cannot be measured in terms of money.

The letter follows, as it came to him written in pencil, on sheet of school notebook paper, from an Eastern Carolina town-name of writer withheld:

"I bought two Easter biddies from your store about 12 years ago for my little boy. I paid you 10 cents. They were 10 cents each. Was going to pay you the other dime in a few days. My husband was laid off from work, so we had to move, so I am sending you the dime now to get it off my
