Commissioners Approve Payment For Safety Signs

Reminders Will Be Erected As Project Of Kiwanis Club

An expenditure of $144 for the erection of safety signs at all highway entrances to Moore county was authorized Monday by the county commissioners in regular meeting at Carthage, on request of John S. Ruggles of Southern Pines for the Sandhills Kiwanis Club safety committee.

The signs, costing $12 each, will bear a reminder to motorists that casualties may be avoided by obedience to traffic laws, and that these laws are enforced in Moore. The commissioners approved the signs as tending to reduce traffic accidents in the county.

Another highway casualty reduction project of the Sandhills Kiwanis did not meet so good a fate. Some discussion was held of the proposed driver training course for Moore County schools, but no action was taken at this time.

The commissioners approved three petitions for road improvement in Sheffields township and passed them on for action to the Sixth Division office of the State Highway and Public Works Commission.

Chairman G. M. Cameron was authorized to file application with the Local Government Commission for Moore county to sell school improvement bonds to the value of $26,000.

In addition to Chairman Cam-

RADIO INTERVIEW

A former U. S. Marine who owes his life to transfusions of Red Cross blood and blood plasma will be interviewed on Station WEEB Sunday at 3:15 p. m. in the interest of the Red Cross Bloodmobile collection to be made here Monday.

This is John Buchholz, who is now serving as county chairman of the blood donor program. Mr. Buchholz lost a leg in the Pacific fighting in World War 2. He attributes his life to transfusions he received through the Red Cross, and is now engaged in making repayment with his own blood, and assisting in the collection of blood from others for the wounded men of Korea.

Interviewing Mr. Buchholz will be another veteran, W. E. Cox, Jr., who is serving as publicity chairman for the Red Cross Bloodmobile visit. WEEB will also broadcast from time to time Monday from the Southern Pines gymnasium, where the blood collection will be made. Several donors will be interviewed.

eron, the meeting was attended by Commissioners W. J. Dunlap, L. R. Reynolds, J. M. Currie and J. M. Pleasants. Near the close of the day, the board went into executive session with John C. Muse of Sanford, county auditor.

Col. Hess Urges Identification Tags For All Children

"Flying Preacher" Tells Kiwanis of War Waifs of Korea

The distress of broken families and pitiful plight of children when sudden war strikes has never been more apparent in modern times than in Korea, and U.S. parents should draw a lesson from it, said Lieut. Col. Dean E. Hess, of the USAF Air-Ground Operations School staff, speaking Wednesday before the Sandhills Kiwanis club.

Colonel Hess, who helped in the founding of the National Home of Korea for 800 war waifs, who were saved through the airlift "Operation Kiddy-car" as the communist hordes advanced, recommended that every child be supplied with an identification tag, and that a system of registration by fingerprints, with pertinent family data, be set up. If this is not done nationally, each parent should at least see that his child has a tag, said Colonel Hess, a young ordained minister who became a combat pilot, serving in both Europe and Korea.

War is hard on everyone, but hardest on the children, he declared.

He spoke also of the importance of whole blood and blood plasma supplies on the battlefield, and urged that all the Kiwanians cooperate in the collection of blood to be made by the Red Cross Bloodmobile, visiting Southern Pines Monday.

The speaker was introduced by R. L. Chandler, Sr.

L. L. Hallman, of Aberdeen, president, conducted the meeting, which was held at the Hollywood hotel. Plans were made for the annual Ladies Night to be held at the Mid Pines club, at a date to be determined later. President Hallman appointed the following as a committee on arrangements: Paul Butler, chairman; W. B. Saunders, Hoke Pollock, Nelson C. Hyde, A. L. Burney.
