Carrier Routes Are Extended To Growing Areas

Some re-routing and further extension of city mail delivery routes, to take care of an increasing number of patrons, was accomplished last week following recommendations made by a visiting postal inspector, it was announced by Postmaster A. Garland Pierce.

New areas included are the 1200 and 1300 blocks of West Indiana avenue, the 200 block of East Ohio, the 900 block of North May street and the 300 block of Manly avenue.

The changes have been made without the addition of extra men or man-hours, and mail must be delivered all through the day, which throws delivery late in the afternoon in some sections. These, however, receive mail which comes in on the morning train, and two routes also get airmail from the morning flight.

An additional section of the Youngs Road area out to the city line will be included in city delivery within the next 60 days, perhaps before Christmas if funds are available then, said the postmaster. This will include the 400 and 500 blocks of East Ohio and the 400 and 500 blocks of East Delaware.

H. A. Lewis Sells Building As Well As Business; Means To "Stay Active"

The sale of the building at West Pennsylvania and Bennett, occupied by Lewis Trade store for the past 25 years, was announced this week by H. A. Lewis, owner.

Business and building have been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. William Heller, who have been operating the business on a lease since June 1948.

For the past five years the building has been shared with Clark's Furniture store, which closed out this week to make room for expansion of the Lewis Trade store, home of a wide range of electric appliances and household goods.

Mr. Lewis, a real old timer in Southern Pines, said this week he had no announcement to make of future plans except that he means to "stay active." He has had a busy life, with plenty of ups and downs, and retirement has no appeal for him.

He came to Southern Pines from New Hampshire in 1915, and opened the original Lewis Trade store—a small provision business in a building he built about where Holliday's Coffee shop is today.

In 10 years he had a thriving business grossing $200,000 a year. He chose that time to take a vacation in Florida, visiting a brother who was in ill health there, and the "boom bug" bit him. Things were going great guns in Florida, and the Sandhills merchant plunged into the real estate game. It was just at that moment the game ceased to be a game, and became a tragedy. Like many others, Mr. Lewis lost all he had, and came back home to make another start.

He started in a small way to deal in used furniture. Later he sold insurance, then took on some appliance lines in the building he has just disposed of. Slow but sure was his motto, and little by little he built back to a solid footing.

Of recent years Lewis Trade store has been one of the most consistently successful of Southern Pines retail businesses. Its trade extends over a wide area and people come from several counties around to buy.

Mr. Heller, the new owner, is a New Yorker. Mrs. Heller, niece of Mr. Lewis, originally from Bethlehem, Pa., formerly lived in Southern Pines. Southern Pines and was connected with the management of the old Southern Pines hotel.

James Ira Hooker Victim Of Train At Cameron Depot

One of several violent deaths taking place recently was that of James Ira Hooker, about 60, respected Cameron Negro who was struck by a train Friday evening, October 26, near the Cameron depot.

Hooker died of his injuries the following day at the Lee county hospital. Funeral services were held Monday at the Negro Baptist church at Cameron, of which he was a longtime member and deacon.

He was a familiar figure around the Cameron depot, where he was employed by the Seaboard as mail messenger. Reports of the accident say that he was between the double tracks with a hand baggage truck, while one train was stopped at the depot, when another, passing, struck the truck, jamming Hooker between it and the first train. He received head, shoulder, rib and internal injuries.

He was described as "always polite and ready to lend a helping hand." Surviving are his wife, Jennie Belle, several children and Southern Pines, Pinebluff, Aberdeen, Carthage, Robbins, West Edn, in Moore county; Sanford, Lillington, Olivia, Erwin, Dunn and Siler City.

Other violent deaths in the county last weekend included that of a young Aberdeen man in an automobile accident, and of a Negro girl stabbed Sunday evening.

Pinehurst Defeats Blue & White By Score of 14-10

Southern Pines' Blue & White football team bowed to Pinehurst High in a night game last week as their rivals of six miles down the road, absent from the win column for a number of weeks, bounced back by a score of 14 to 10.

Eddie Ray of Pinehurst, on a beautiful run around his own left end, put the Pinehursters ahead by 6-0 in the second period. Takeover here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Seward.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snipes have moved to their farm, formerly owned by Brant Monroe.

Troy Martin arrived last week from Korea, where he had been for the past nine months. Most of the time he was in combat but appears none the worse for the experience.

We are very pleased to have one of our Niagara girls, Miss Doris Bowles, as runner-up in the beauty contest last week at the Moore County fair. Doris is a senior at Southern Pines High school.

ing a handoff on his 10, Eddie set sail down the sidelines and bulled his way over several would-be tacklers for a touchdown and short-lived advantage. The point after touchdown was no good.

Southern Pines then marched the distance for their first and only touchdown of the evening. On beautiful pass plays carrying into Pinehurst territory, Southern Pines evened up the count at 6-6 as Roy Newton carried it over. The point after touchdown was a beauty and gave the Blue & White a two-point advantage 8-6.

Pinehurst came back strong in the second half to score their victory. After an automatic touch-back gave Southern Pines another two points, Ted Veno broke through the Southern Pines line to drop them back of the double stripe for a Pinehurst 2 points, making it 10-8.

Pinehurst then took the kick and Veno circled his right end for a 30-yard run and touchdown.
