 To prevent accidents with corn pickers, North Carolina farmers should wear close-fitting clothes or leave the arms bare. Always stop the picker to clean or lubricate it. Keep the power take-off shafts well shielded, and don't ride the back of the picker.

Fine Weather, Good Crowd At Sunday Gymkhana

A springlike afternoon, this past Sunday, drew a good-sized crowd out to the Starland Stables of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd P. Tate, Jr., on Midland Road, where the weekly gymkhana was held. Entries numbered around seven or eight to a class, with most local stables represented.
 Only untoward event of the day occurred in the Children's Hunter class when Joanne Goodwin, riding her good jumping pony, was thrown as he put in a sudden refusal. The little girl struck her leg against the metal bar of the fence as she fell and was rushed to Moore County Hospital in considerable pain. However, X-rays showed that no bones were broken. Joanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Goodwin of Southern Pines.
 Winners in the six afternoon classes were:
 Children's Hunters—1. Flag Port, Maureen Walsh up; 2. Follow Me, Louise Coker up; 3. Uncle Teddy, Joan Walsh up; 4. Spanish Gold, Maureen Walsh up.

$76,700 Sought For Injuries To Lakeview Child

Jeanette Jackson Said Permanently Hurt By Auto
 Damage suits for a total of $76,700 and costs were filed Monday in Moore County Superior court against Josephine T. Clements of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., driver of an automobile that struck and injured four-year-old Jeanette Jackson at Lakeview August 1, 1950.
 Wilbert H. Jackson, father of the child, entered suit for $26,700, while the child herself, through her "next friend," Estul Jackson, is suing for $50,000.
 According to the complaint filed at Carthage this week by Pittman and Staton, Sanford attorneys, the child received the following injuries when hit by the car on US Highway 1 at Lakeview: fractured skull, both legs broken, shoulder broken, and a permanent brain injury. The complaint states she is and will be "wholly unable to lead a normal life."

 The father's suit asks for $700 for medical expenses already incurred, $1,000 for his own loss of time from work as a direct result of the child's injury, $5,000 for medical care for the girl during the rest of her life and $20,000 for the father's own mental suffering and anguish.
 The child's suit asks a straight $50,000 personal damages.
 The complaint alleges that the driver of the car did not exercise due caution at the time of the accident, and points out that the child was struck at a point where the highway was straight and the girl was clearly visible to the driver. Negligence on the part of the driver is alleged.
 During the first three months of 1951, the Bureau of Dairy Industry received 133,552 milk-production records from dairy herd-improvement association herds for use in proving sires, reports the USDA.
